

SNOW DEFEATS BOTH ELEVENTS

No Score Game on Cummings Field Between Idaho and Utah.

EXHIBITION WAS A POOR ONE.

Contest Would Have Been Worth Witnessing If Management Had Cleared The Field of White Stuff.

The crowd, and it was not as large as was expected, that journeyed through the snow to Cummings field yesterday afternoon expecting to see a hard fought football game full of thrilling plays, clever formations and skillful defense, shivered for an hour while the football team representing the University of Idaho and the University of Utah pushed and hauled each other through the deep snow and tried to score with a wet slippery ball. Those who expected to see a football game were doomed to disappointment, but it was not the fault of the teams. It can easily be imagined that the game would have been a rather good one had the snow been cleared away. The condition of the field and the management came in for considerable censure for not having the snow removed.

The "game" for the most part was simply a kicking contest. Line backs, long runs, forward passes and the famous Idaho Spread were practically impossible. The real contest was the punting of small for Idaho and Conville for Utah but the kicking did not amount to much because of the slippery condition of the ball. Small had the better of Conville in this respect, his punting generally being longer and more accurate but the Utah man improved greatly in the second half.

SMALL CARES FOR PUNTS.

Small handled the piskin when Conville punted in splendid style and did not fumble as did the opposing side. Fumbles on the Utah side were frequent. It was next to impossible to get a play started after the formations because of the precarious footing and on only two occasions were the required yards gained. Conville succeeded in passing a forward. Monahan, who played the human snow plow and scamp along for 20 yards. The much-talked of Idaho Spread was not seen. It was a failure. Maddock had a good defense for the play but there is no telling what would have happened on a dry field. Some thought Utah would have won while others were of the opinion that the visit would have been victorious. But what might have been is another story and will be left for a future time to settle, if the teams ever meet again.

The management was "roasted" because there seemed to be more anxiety about the sale of tickets than getting the field in decent shape. Six of the local men finished their football careers with the game. They are Conville, captain, Snow, Walker, Gardner and Brown. The Idaho team left for home at noon today. Middleton said he was pleased with the treatment accorded the team, but expressed regret over the unfavorable condition of the weather. The teams lined up as follows:

Dr. Miles' Nervine has cured thousands of such cases, and will we believe benefit if not entirely cure you. Try it.

"My nervous system gave away completely, and left me on the verge of the grave. I tried skilled physicians but got no permanent relief. I got so bad I had to give up my business. I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In a few days I was much better, and I continued to improve until entirely cured. I am in business again, and never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy."

CORNELL DEFEATED BY PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell in the annual Thanksgiving day football game on Franklin field this afternoon by a score of 10 to 0.

Pennsylvania thus closed the season without once drinking from the bitter cup of defeat. At the same time, however, are claiming at least equal rank with Harvard in the wide discussion as to which is the better college football team in the east. It was Cornell's only defeat of the year, but she fought hard.

Pennsylvania did not overwhelm her opponent as she expected. However, excellent work was done by the team in the first half. Pennsylvania at all times was Cornell's superior. The game abounded in open plays, long runs and much punting.

The playing of Miller, who replaced Klenz at quarterback for Pennsylvania early in the game, was the sensational feature of the contest. Once he got away for a 75-yard run which was spoiled by one of his teammates holding a tackler, and another time he scored a touchdown after a 45-yard run following a fake attempt at making a forward pass. His shooting of forward passes was good, and his brilliant work in running and dodging through the Cornell players brought the spectators to their feet.

The reliable captain, Hollenback, was given much work to do, but he at times appeared tired and did not play up to his standard, while Scarlett and Bradstock were all over the field breaking up the opposition's interference. Captain Walder played his usual fine game for Cornell, and O'Rourke was a tower of strength in the line. In the first half, Walder clearly outplayed Hollenback, but the second period, with the wind at his back, the Pennsylvania captain's kicking improved wonderfully.

Only one score of the game, a field goal from placement by Mow was made possible by a poor punt by Hollenback. It came a few minutes after play was started in the first half. Hollenback punted across the field for a gain of 10 yards, but Cornell carried the ball through the line for two chalk marks to Pennsylvania's 25-yard line. Mow kicked the goal.

The first Pennsylvania score was primarily due to a forward pass and poor kicking by Walder.

The latter's punt went out of bounds on his own 25-yard line, and on the next lineup Miller made a beautiful play, and sent the ball to Bradstock on Cornell's 45-yard line. The rest was easy. Hollenback dashed around Cornell's left for a touchdown. Scarlett kicked an easy goal.

The second half was bitterly fought. Cornell made many changes. Miller's big run came early in this half.

Scarlett's good work gave Pennsylvania her second touchdown. Hollenback's punt went over the Cornell quarterback's head. Scarlett tackled him and in the mixup for the ball Gaston of Pennsylvania secured it and in two plays Manier was jammed across the line for the score. The drive was blocked by Shearer.

After Cornell had failed at several forward passes, Miller made his second sensational run. The little quarterback long enough to stop him, Scarlett kicked the goal. The Cornell players missed the tackle and Miller started down the field from Cornell's 45-yard line through a broken field. After running about 15 yards he stopped suddenly as if to shoot a pass, and as suddenly again started across the field and down over the line before a Cornell man could get his hands on him. He gave the ball evidently for a forced goal.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Central High school of this city won the American interscholastic cross country championship in Fairmount park today, with Newark High school second, and Central Manual Training school, Philadelphia, third. Gallagher of Brown won the individual honors.

WHIRLWIND FIGHT.

Tonopah, Nev., Nov. 25.—In a whirlwind fight here this afternoon, Kid Grint of Seattle knocked out Larry Gordon of Butte, Mont., in the third round of a scheduled 25-round battle, before a large crowd. Gordon was sent to the mat five times in the last round.

CHAMPIONSHIP KETCHEL'S AGAIN

Michigan Whirlwind Knocks Out Papke, Illinois Thunderbolt.

END COMES IN THE ELEVENTH

Arena, San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Stanley Ketchel of Grand Rapids, Mich., retained the middleweight championship of the world today and reversed his defeat of last September, when he sent Billy Papke, the Illinois thunderbolt, crashing to the floor before a well-protected left swing that caught his opponent at the chin. The end came in the eleventh round.

Prior to this Ketchel had demonstrated clearly that Papke was master of his opponent at any kind of fighting. Round by round Ketchel showed his superiority and when opportunity afforded planted his right to head of body, generally escaping without a damaging return. During his appearance and forcing the fight throughout every minute, Ketchel was stronger, up and down, than his opponent. Once during an aggressive moment they fell in the ring and Papke seized the ropes, wrapped in a close embrace. It was a left to the stomach that sent Papke to the ropes at this juncture.

In falling, Papke seized his opponent, and the force of his rush carried them clear of the platform and over the heads of the spectators. A hundred willing hands assisted them to the center of the ring at a moment they were grappling in a clinch.

PAPKE CLINCHES.

Ketchel was a victor throughout. His appearance during the early rounds did not tend to encourage those who had backed him at odds of 10 to 1 and 10 to 6, but his awkward delivery of blows, deceptively fast, seemed to lull Papke into a false sense of security. The first round Ketchel drove Papke into a neutral corner, landing tight and left almost without intermission. The Illinois contender was always at a disadvantage. Stepping aside at critical junctures, Ketchel swung his right time and again flush upon his opponent's jaw, now and then alternating with left blows to the bodies. In the fifth round Ketchel drove a hard left to the stomach, and Papke had not put up his hand before he encountered a hard right to the jaw. Before this, in the fourth round, a light tap on the nose had brought Ketchel's attention to the crowd yelling for the Michiganander.

It was in the seventh that Ketchel tied his right, his only hope lay in his disposition to clinch, but he hit twice and both blows tended to lessen his retentive power.

PAPKE RUNS AWAY.

From this time on the crowd awaited the knockout punch that Ketchel was apparently withholding. In the ninth Papke was sent to the ropes, and nearly went to his knees by a powerful blow delivered by Ketchel. He arose to his feet, but the referee stepped in and landed on his jaw. Papke went to his corner bleeding freely from the nose. This was the end of the fight. In the following round Papke twice turned his back on Ketchel's swift assault and defense. In the eleventh and final round Ketchel came up as fresh and strong as at any time during the fight, and he rushed Papke lightly on the jaw and then rushed him half way across the ring, planting two hard rights to the stomach. Ketchel later as they broke out of a clinch Ketchel swung the left at three-quarters length, landing squarely on the point of the chin. Papke struck at full length, his head rapping the floor with terrible force. He had just sufficient strength to regain his feet, and while he crouched in an attitude half protected, Ketchel sent his right to the head four times in quick succession and almost pushed Papke over with a left hook. Papke dropped and fell forward on his hands, his hands supporting him, and his head bowed as if in agony. Referee Jack Welch counted eleven, as did also the timekeeper, and then, advancing toward Ketchel, threw the Michigan fighter's glove aloft. Papke, still dazed, could not realize his defeat.

Papke said after the fight: "I am not satisfied with the outcome. I want a return match. I didn't hear the count, I heard the referee say 'six' and then he stopped. I would have been able to continue the fight, as I was not hurt, and recovering fast. I want a return match."

Ketchel said: "I anticipated this result long before I entered the ring and backed my opinion with my own money. I am not sorry. Under proper conditions I am willing to fight him again."

The betting was seriously affected prior to the fight by rumors of Ketchel's failure to get into proper condition. The betting dropped from 10 to 15 to 10 to 6 solely because of this.

Martin Carter of Irvington, Cal., dropped out at the ringside from excitement when Ketchel knocked Papke out. Carter was the proprietor of the famous Nutwood stock farm near Irvington, which has turned out many of the world's famous trotters.

ON THE RACE TRACK.

Sport of Kings Starts Again in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—The winter meeting of the Los Angeles Racing association began today at Santa Anita park, and 10,000 persons saw S. G. Hill-dreth's Restigouche, the 6 to 5 favorite, easily win the handicap at 10 furlongs. The Pasadena stable's Old-Timer, a 15 to 1 shot, was second with Stanley Walker at 8 to 1, third. The time was 1:28 4-5, which was remarkably good.

The opening of the Santa Anita park was ushered in under the most favorable weather conditions and a big holiday crowd turned out.

The rain of last night made the track heavy, and although Restigouche's mud running abilities in the east were not good, he so overwhelmingly outclassed the field opposed to him that he was made a hot favorite at 6 to 5, and was heavily backed. At no stage of the seven furlongs' journey did his backers have cause for alarm.

Shilling got the son of Commando off in force and, forcing a terrific pace all the way, Restigouche won, hard held, by four lengths.

Stanley Fay ran a remarkable race. He broke well, but was caught in a jam soon after the start and Sighed back, losing many lengths. He closed the lost ground and finished a good third.

CARLISLE INDIANS WIN.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—A hard fought football game between the Carlisle Indians and St. Louis university team here today was won by the former, 10 to 6. The contest was slow, but interesting, the Indians being forced to uncover their best line of tricks to win over the stubborn defense of the St. Louis line-men. A crowd of 18,000 or more watched the players the occasion being favored by perfect weather conditions.

Throughout the first half the local eleven played sterling football. Three out of four times the Carlisle Indians forced to give up the ball when within the shadow of the goal posts, once when they needed but three feet and had two downs to gain the distance.

Rocky mountain football championship by defeating the Colorado Springs team by a score of 6 to 1 in the perfect game ever seen here. Denver made its touchdown and goal after 10 minutes' play in the first half, carrying the ball over on straight football from their opponents' 45-yard line. A few minutes later Quarterback Clyde Smith of Colorado college placed a drop kick squarely between the posts from the 40-yard line, making the score 6 to 0. Colorado college missed nine chances to win the game on field goals, all of the kicks except one which was blocked going about a foot wide of the posts.

"SHOW" MISSOURIANS.

Kansas City, Nov. 25.—Kansas university eleven here this afternoon again defeated Missouri university, 10 to 4. In one of the fiercest struggles ever put up by these teams in the 18 years of their contest. At the beginning of the game, Missouri seemed to have a shade the better of the argument. Time after time her heavy players crashed through Kansas' goal before the ball had been in play 15 minutes. On the second try, Missouri secured a goal from placement—the first score which the yellow and blue had made against the Kansas since 1902. It was after this score that the Kansas team cinched up and began to play the heady, veteran-like football which silenced Missouri's rooters' shouts.

OREGON TEAM WINS.

Portland, Or., Nov. 25.—The Multnomah Athletic club eleven went down before the team of the University of Oregon, 10 to 0, in the annual Thanksgiving day game. The scoring was done in the second half. The first half was Multnomah's by honors, the ball resting most of the time in Oregon territory.
