Logan Sugar Factory Decided Upon, and Ma. chinery Will be Ordered Tomorrow.

Funeral of Mrs. Sarah E. Anderson-Children's Singing Classes Adjourn -Another Reservoir Site.

Yesterday morning President C. F. Middleton, of the Weber Stake, was severely injured by being knocked over by a cow and trampled upon. While milking the cow, a gentle animal, a strange dog ran through the yard near the head of the cow, the animal turned around to watch the dog, and in doing so knocked President Middleton over, and in the excitement of watching the dog she stepped on Mr. Middleton's face and chest, cutting his chin through, and otherwise injuring and bruising him very badly. Dr. Ezra Rich was summoned, and put three stitches in the chin to draw it together, and the other injuries were dressed. It is feared that he may have received internal injuries, is during all day yesterday he suffered severe pains through his body.

LOGAN SUGAR FACTORY.

Hon, David Eccles, Judge Rolapp and N. C. Flygare went to Logan yesterday on business connected with the sugar factory projected for Cache county, They decided on locating the factory two miles south of Logan, and it is the intention to have it built and ready for operation by the time beets are harvested next fall. Its capacity will be the same as the Ogden factory, 350 tons of beets per day. These gentlemen will meet the manufacturers' agents in Ogden tomorrow and order the machinery for the Logan factory.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ANDERSON.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Sarah E. Anderson were held yesterday afternoon in the Third ward meeting house, Bishop Barnard White presiding. The services were commenced by a quartette, consisting of Mrs. Cully, Miss Arvilla Clark, Messrs. Hegbert Anderson and Orson Griffin, singing, "Softly, Tenderly Jesus is Calling," Prayer was offered by Hon. Jos. Stanford, services continued by solo, "Who Treads the Path," by Heg-bert Anderson bert Anderson.

Elder Joseph Parry, President L. W. Shurtliffe, Elder B. H. Roberts and Bishop Barnard White were the speak ers, each eulogizing the many virtues of the deceased and her praiseworthy traits of character, and offering words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved, and benediction was pro-nounced by Elder Charles Welch.

The funeral cortege was very large, and the meeting house was filled to overflowing.

Many beautiful floral designs covered the casket as tributes of the high love and esteem in which the deceased was held in the community. The remains were intered in the family vault in

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The board of education met again last

The board of education met again last eveing, for the purpose of taking fur-ther action on the question of excluding unvaccinated children after January lst, as ordered by the board of health. Messrs, E. A. Holt and J. W. Farrer, of the incoming board, were present. An explanation of the discussion of Wednesday night on the vaccination question, for the benefit of Mr. Farrer, who had not been at the previous meet-ing, was made by Mr. Booth, the out-going members being of the opinion that the judgment of the incoming board should govern the action taken by the present board, as the incoming board will have the question to deal with, in its practical operations.

with, in its practical operations. Mr, Farrer expressed himself as not having investigated the question suffi-cienty to be prepared to give an opin-ion. If it was necessary, in order to comply with the law, to make the order to exclude unvaccinated children, he was in favor of making it without unnecessary controversy, but as to necessity he was in doubt. Newell reported from Mr. Bassett, who was not present, that he in-tended to support the board of health, Mr. Wride wanted further time to
