We have used Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, and can confidently recommend them to the community as the best articles in domestic use. They are the leading articles of their kind in America, and should be on the shelf of every well-regulated family grocer. 2

For families visiting Philadelphia, no more cozy, home-like quarters, combined with excellent service, unexceptional cuisine, and moderate prices can be found than at the Colonnade Hotel on Chestnut street. 127

Deaths from Consumption

Would be as rare as cures of that disease are now, if every cough, cold, or other affection of the breathing organs were promptly treated in the right way. The specific in such cases is HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. In less than three days a cough is silenced by this agreeable preparation. Take it early, before the lungs have become congested, if possible. But even when the complaint has made serious inroads, and life is threatened, there is safety in this genial preparation.

A man saw a ghost while walking along a lonely highway at midnight. The ghost stood exactly in the middle of the road, and the wayfarer, deciding to investigate, poked at it with his umbrella. The next instant he was knocked twenty feet into a mud hole. Moral—Never poke an umbrella at a white mule when its back is turned.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Blooming. — Strawberry plants are out in bloom in various parts of the city.

Home Grown. — Home grown radishes and lettuce are becoming comparatively plentiful in this market this early in the season.

Information Wanted. — Joseph Colleson, late of Australia, will hear of something to his advantage by addressing H. O. MINES, Salt Lake City.

Fair in Fine.—It is generally conceded that the weather could not well be more delightful than it is at present, the oppositional prognostications of the Second South Street weather prophet to the contrary notwithstanding.

Adjourned. — Last evening the Eighteenth Ward Mutual Improvement Association adjourned for the season. The meetings during the past winter have been of an interesting and profitable character. Brother Horace G. Whitney is president of the Society, and ably conducts its proceedings.

In the Fault.—We are informed that in the fracas between Gus M. Clarke and E. White, at Newman & Hyde's saloon, on Monday night, White was the aggressor. Without provocation, he struck Clarke in the face, and it was during the subsequent interchange of blows that White had his leg broken.

A Friendly Party.—Last night the house of Brother F. J. May was taken almost by storm, by a large party of his 20th Ward friends. They paid him a surprise visit, in a friendly, sociable way, before his departure for the other side of the globe, whence he soon expects to go on a mission. A few hours were pleasantly spent in amusement and recreation and interchange of friendly sentiments.

Popular Science. — There is no monthly periodical published in the United States than the Popular Science Monthly. Its contributors are among the most advanced scientists in the world. We have before us the May number. An article on "The Radiometer; or, Fresh Evidence of a Molecular Universe," from the pen of Prof. Josiah P. Cooke, Jr., is alone worth the price of the magazine to the studious reader. All the other papers are good, the authors being well known for ability.

We have also the supplement to the same monthly, a periodical of equal value, in point of merit to the magazine proper, but not so large.

Both can be for sale at Dwyer's, price 50 cents and 25 cents, respectively.

Swindled.—Yesterday morning a gentleman of this city was swindled on a small scale. He had lost his horse, and was negotiating with a person for an animal with which to go on a hunt for the missing one. While so engaged, a fellow named Brown, stepped up, and said he had just such an animal as would suit him. There was a little livery bill of $2.50 on the mare. If the gentleman would pay that he could have the use of the animal for several days, without further compensation. Would not he pay the little sum now, and he would go and fetch the mare right along.

The bill was paid, and it scarcely need be said that the gentleman who wanted to hire a horse, has neither seen the horse nor the $2.50, and is left with a strong impression that he has been "done brown."

City Council. — The Council met last evening, Mayor Little presiding.

The petition, referred to in yesterday's NEWS, of the base ball clubs and Salt Lake Cricket Club, for the privilege of leasing a portion of Washington Square, &c., was received and referred to the committee on public grounds.

A communication was received from E. T. Sheets and twenty-four others, representing that loose and immoral characters were in the habit of frequenting Washington Square, and were screened from observation by the high board fence. They asked that the said fence be removed, and that it be replaced by one more open and of better appearance. Referred to the committee on public grounds.

On petition, Edward Hanbam was granted the privilege of piling building material on a portion of the street and sidewalk, during the erection of a store adjoining the Hanbam meat market, on First South Street.

T. J. Wilcox, by petition, asked that his water and stable licenses, for his premises in Commercial Street, be transferred to Mr. Wickle; granted.

A communication from Mr. A. Woolley to the Mayor, relating to one Jas. Hart, a man residing in the 9th Ward, afflicted with a cancer, and in indigent circumstances, asking for aid to procure his admission to the Sister's Hospital, and that Dr. St. Benedict would perform an operation for cancer free of charge.

Petitions of E. Snow and others for the repair of the City Creek Aqueduct to be continued further up that stream, and for a wagon road to be opened up into City Creek Cañon in that locality. Referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

The Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock.

Inventions.—Mr. A. M. Mortimer, of this city, has been residing in Pennsylvania for the last eighteen months, obtaining patents for several inventions. One of his contrivances is for drying a comparatively large quantity of fruit in a small space. It is constructed of wood, and when open its contents are exposed to the full operation of the rays of the sun. In case of storm, or whenever it may be desirable, it can be rapidly and securely closed.

Another invention is an attachment for increasing the velocity of agricultural and other machinery. We understand he has secured a patent for this.

To-day we saw, at the Thirteenth Ward co-operative store, a sample of one of Mr. Mortimer's patented inventions, in the shape of an improved monkey-wrench. By it the slower method of adjustment by means of the screw is abolished, and a quick and ready way of adjusting by a spring, operated by the thumb of the hand in which the wrench is held, is introduced. It is a decided improvement on the existing style of monkey-wrench.

"Bikuben." — A new arrangement has been entered upon for the publication of the Scandinavian paper, Bikuben. Heretofore it has been conducted in all its departments by Brother A. W. Winberg. An association has been formed for the publication of that journal. It will be edited by Joh. A. Bruun, and published by the Bikuben Publishing Company. A. Jenson will act as business manager, and A. W. Winberg as treasurer.

The first issue of the paper under the new arrangement will go to press on May 2nd, and will appear on every subsequent Thursday.

Brothers Bruun and Jensen are the publishers of the History of Joseph Smith, in the Danish language, which is a well written and carefully compiled work.

From Scotland. — To-day Miss Isabel'a L. Bird, of Edinburgh, Scotland, has been viewing this city, calling at all the leading points of interest. Miss Bird is an author of considerable note, and is traveling for the purpose of recruiting her health, and purposes proceeding to California. She had letters of introduction from Messrs. Wm. Nelson & Sons, the well known publishers, to D. O. Calder, Esq., who accompanied Miss Bird in her visit around the city. We wish the lady a pleasant sojourn in this country, and trust that the object of her trip will be attained.

Croyden. — A second child of Bishop John Hopkin, of Croyden, Morgan County, has died of diphtheria. Every precaution that could be thought of was taken to remove everything calculated to carry contagion of the disease. Other families of the same settlement have suffered from the malady. In consequence of the unusual amount of sickness spring work has been somewhat retarded.

More grain is being sown this season than ever before. The people are experimenting in dry farming on the bench lands, with confidence in its proving successful.

Surprise.—Last evening a large party of residents of the 10th Ward, headed by the members of the Young Ladies' Society, proceeded to the residence of Brother Thomas A. Shreeve, by way of an agreeable surprise to him. There were several musicians, and the house proving too small for the assemblage, an adjournment was made to the School-house, where several hours were spent in social enjoyment.

The surprise visit was a testimonial of friendly regard, expressed by the friends of Brother Shreeve, before his departure on a mission to Australia.

Via Great Britain.—We understand that Elders Fred. J. May and Thomas A. Shreeve will go to Australia by way of England, instead of proceeding to San Francisco and sailing over the Pacific from that port. They intend going in company with the missionaries for Europe who propose leaving on the 10th of next month.

Theatre.—Miss Adah Gray, the great emotional actress, who will appear on Thursday evening, will be supported by Miss Carrie Cogswell, recently returned from her engagements in eastern theatres, also by the leading members of the stock company. "Whose Wife." will be reproduced in the best possible style, and should prove a great public attraction.

University.—The members of the Board of Regents of the University of Deseret will please remember the adjourned meeting, to be held to-morrow evening, at President Taylor's office, at six o'clock.

To Night.—The interesting lecture on "A Visit to Italy," will be delivered by Elder F. S. Richards, this evening, in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms, at 7.30. Admission free.

An Extraordinary Tragedy.

Spalatro, in the Austrian province of Dalmatia, was a few weeks ago the scene of a most extraordinary and terrible tragedy. Opposite the parish church lived a householder named Tomic, who, becoming suddenly a prey to mad rage, killed his wife and then his father, who had attempted to restrain him. When the police came in they found that Tomic had everywhere effectually barred an entry, and taken up a commanding position with a musket and plenty of ammunition. They were, therefore, compelled to turn back, and meanwhile, Tomic put a bullet through a young man who crossed the street, and severely wounded a woman. The police then drew a cordon around the house, but Tomic's musket commanded the space between his house, the church, and the top of the adjacent streets, and no one dared cross the street or approach the body of the young man. At length a clergyman, who had great influence with Tomic, bravely went forward and implored him at least to give up to his care his little child. The father's answer to this appeal was by throwing out her limbs one by one! Then he resumed his fusilade. The authorities would not allow the police to fire, inasmuch as they deemed the man bereft of reason. So the only course was to continue the blockade. All sorts of devices were suggested. Some were for firing on Tomic with stupefying cartridges, others for concentrating the fire engine force on the house, and all this time the unhappy sexton of the parish was sending up from the bell tower a wail for food, he having gone to ring the bell just before the tragedy began, and his only mode of egress being in front of the maniac's window. After the blockade had lasted two days and Tomic showed no signs of giving in, it was resolved to keep up a perfect hailstorm of stones at all the windows of the house while the door was forced. The mad-man flew to the garret, where it was no easy matter to disarm without killing him. Altogether, he had killed four and wounded five persons.

A hypocrite is a man who tries to be pious and can't with a preponderance of cant.

A story is told by a Southern contemporary, how a very excellent farmer in Georgia, hearing that coal oil would kill vermin on hogs, provided himself with a fat lightwood torch, and, it being dark, commenced work. Unluckily, just as he had gotten them well greased, a spark from his torch fell on the back one, and in an instant he was in a light blaze. The flames communicated to the others, and in a few moments the drove was running wild, fleeing with lightning speed, and appearing in the darkness like fire fiends. The next day the farmer found the bacon cured and done up brown.
