CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West at principal and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of Interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

Dr. FOOTE, Senior,

Of 120 Lexington Avenue, New York,

Hereby cautions the public NOT to Employ or Communicate With a man styling himself "Dr. Foot, Jr." without making due inquiry.

This man came to Salt Lake City representing himself as the son of Dr. E. B. Foote of New York, the well known specialist, as abundantly proved by affidavits. As rumors came into Salt Lake City from Dakota and Montana from an exposé made there, he changed his base and represented himself as the son of a more noted specialist of New York city than Dr. E. B. Foote, the well known author. Mr. John F Trow, of the well known Trow's Directory, in New York City (forty years in the directory business), Ex-Governor Frank Fuller, of Utah, and the Hon. Abram Wakeman, for many years Postmaster in New York City, also Surveyor of the Port, gave their affidavits that there are no other doctors in New York by the name of Foot or Foote, excepting Dr. E. B. Foote, the author of "Medical Common Sense," etc., and his two sons, Dr. E. B. Foote, Jr., and Dr. Hubbert T. Foote. The genuine Dr. Foote, Jr., will hereafter always employ the initials, M. D., in designating his name. Heretofore he has been known not only at home but wherever his publications have been circulated, by the name of Dr. Foote, Jr. Greater care will be taken hereafter, in view of the fact that an unprincipled person has assumed to profit by his and his father's reputation.

Those desiring further and more detailed information in respect to this matter, will receive it by addressing Box 414, Salt Lake City Utah.

Persons having information of advantage to plaintiffs will kindly communicate the same to J. W. Ivey, with Sutherland & McBride, Salt Lake City.

Those desiring to consult Dr. Foote, professionally or to order remedies should address either

Dr. E. B. FOOTE, Sr., or Dr. E. B. FOOTE, Jr.,

120 Lexington Ave., New York.

Consultation Free, in person or by letter.

EVENING NEWS.

Monday - September 28, 1885

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were commenced by singing the hymn beginning:

The time is nigh, that happy time,
The great, expected, blessed day.

Opening prayer was offered by Elder A. H. Raleigh.

The choir sang:

How sweet communion is on earth
With those who've realized the birth
Of water—who the Spirit's powers
Receive, in genial, quickening showers.

The Priesthood of the 11th Ward officiated in the administration of the Sacrament.

Elder Richard S. Horne was the first speaker. He said that although he had been born and reared with the Latter-day Saints, this was the first time he had been called upon to address the Saints in the Tabernacle. The work in which the people as Saints were engaged was one of great importance to them individually. The principles of the Gospel were true, and were not dependent on human power. The Lord was all powerful, and His work would spread and cover the whole earth. The Latter-day Saints were not yet ready for the consummation of the Lord's purposes, but were being prepared for it, and a sifting process was going on. Those who were not laboring to assist the building up of God's kingdom were in the position of opponents thereto. The speaker had been greatly interested in the training of the young, having spent a great part of his time in that work. He spoke of the insidious teachings of some of those, not of the same faith as the Saints, who had been employed to teach the children. It was a correct principle to have the children taught by those who were faithful in obeying the everlasting Gospel, and referred to instances of the benefits received from employing such teachers. He could remember the time when as a youth, he did not know what a liquor saloon was, and never heard an oath uttered. These things had come with so-called civilization. But the Saints had been provided with means to contend with such evils, in the various organizations existing among them. They should throw an additional protection around their children by keeping them from lounging around street corners, and making their homes attractive. Parents would be held accountable for the teaching to their children of the principles of the Gospel, and the responsibility was a great one in counteracting evil influences. The children should be taught to follow principle, not passion. To adhere to the commandments of God and keep themselves unspotted from the world, heeding the inspiration of the Holy Spirit in all their actions. Children should be subject to their parents, and profit by the experience of those whose duty it was to guide them. There seemed to be an inclination among the young to follow the fashion of Babylon; they were taught to understand that this principle was wrong, the evil tendency should be corrected.

Elder Aurelius Miner was the next speaker. He referred to the Apostle Paul's definition of the Gospel, that it was the power of God unto salvation. Most of the Christian world erroneously believed that the Bible was the complete gospel. It was the power to attain salvation, and consisted of belief and action, in obeying the laws of God. The sacrament had been partaken of by the people, in doing which they covenanted to keep the commandments of the Lord. Jesus observed all the ordinances of the Gospel, as a matter of necessity, that He might obtain that power to which He aspired, and if the human family desired to attain to the same position they must follow the same path. The way of the Gospel was plain, and a man need not err therein, if he followed the guidance of the Spirit of Truth. It was first necessary to believe in the existence of God, to receive the Gospel; this belief was a volition of the mind, while faith was a principle of power. People were not required to know the Gospel at first, but to believe, and when that belief was acted on it increased to a principle of power, and became a well of water springing up unto everlasting life. Repentance from sin was required, and then baptism for the remission of sins. The laying on of hands for the reception of the Holy Ghost was the next ordinance, and then came the testimony of the Holy Spirit to the truth of the principles obeyed, without which testimony none were required to accept a principle as true. It was an obedience to these simple laws of the Gospel that brought the testimony. The very simplicity of these principles had been a stumbling block to the world. Another principle that was an assistance in receiving blessings from heaven was that of fasting. The Lord Jesus had fasted that He might obtain power. One of the duties of the Saints was to bring to bear all the powers within their reach to counteract evil influences. Jesus had once found it necessary to rebuke His disciples because of their lack of faith—they had not fasted and prayed as it had been their duty to do. He told them of the power they might exercise if they had faith but as a grain of mustard seed. There was in mankind all the attributes of God, but it was necessary to develop these attributes. In this instance a means of development was fasting. When Jesus fasted He obtained power over temptation and evil. Satan ridiculed Him and tempted Him by every means his cunning could suggest, but by this power, Jesus triumphed, and bade Satan to get behind Him, and He became a God. Jesus had been true to His integrity in the supreme hour of trial, and brought salvation to a fallen world. He had developed power in Himself to lay down His life and take it up again, and gave Himself a sacrifice for mankind. Salvation to the human family was to know God and His Son—it was eternal life—and could only be attained by obedience to the principles of the Gospel and following the dictates of the Holy Ghost. This Spirit taught men to know Christ, and no man speaking by this Spirit could call Jesus accursed. If the Saints had not this Spirit they could not say, knowing it to be a fact, that Jesus was the Christ. It was easy enough to utter the words, but that did not constitute a knowledge. The Lord Jesus would reveal God unto His faithful disciples, and had Himself come as the vice-gerent of heaven to mankind. The whole Gospel was a vicarious work, and every law was a principle of power. Jesus did all that was required of Him, but men were commanded to save themselves from this untoward generation. The plan of salvation was revealed, and to receive the benefits thereof mankind must follow the plan. No force could be used to drive people into the Kingdom of heaven, for in every son and daughter of Adam had been placed the power of obtaining salvation, if they would accept the light of truth. The Saints had been highly favored in receiving light to comprehend and obey the truth, and thereby obtain advantage over those who had not heard the Gospel. But our Father was just, and all would have a full opportunity of hearing and obeying the gospel, to thereby receive salvation. All would not obtain a celestial glory, but only those who abide the celestial law. There were different kingdoms and glories for those who kept laws entitling them to the various degrees to which they would attain. Mankind would be rewarded with the glory of those kingdoms the law of which they had kept. There were those who would not obtain a place in a kingdom of glory, who, having received the truth, denied it and rejected Christ, whose name was the only one by which man could be saved. The destiny of all was in their own hands, and they would judge themselves. A record of every life was kept, and in the day of judgment that record must be met, and would determine the reward. God had thus left to all the right to control their own destiny, and had given those attributes necessary to eternal life. Exhorted the congregation to seek the light of the Holy Spirit, to overcome every spirit of evil, that they might progress in divine light, and realize that to fear God and glorify Him was the whole duty of man.

The choir sang an anthem and the closing prayer was offered by Elder Geo. G. Bywater.

PRISONERS FOR CONSCIENCE SAKE.

EARLY RELEASE OF ELDERS WILSON AND SPILLSBURY—HOW THEY FEEL.

YUMA, PENITENTIARY, September 20, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

As our time of incarceration is drawing to a close, we feel it our duty to return to you our grateful thanks for forwarding to us the Semi-Weekly NEWS, which has been a great comfort to us in our isolated condition. We will be at liberty again on the 11th of October. We have, I believe, borne our affliction patiently, acknowledging the hand of the Lord in bondage as well as in freedom. We have had no one of our faith to visit us since we have been here, but we have had many sympathetic and encouraging letters from friends in Utah as well as at home. One of our exiled brethren now in Utah sent us a small box of apples which was a great treat to us, and many a blessing was invoked for him while we were eating them. Verily, he shall not lose his reward. Our imprisonment has not lessened our faith in the principles of our holy religion; but we feel like sustaining our families and every true principle of liberty and right, the Lord being our helper. Truth is mighty and will prevail. We feel to pray for our brethren in bonds, together with their families and all the faithful in Israel.

Your brethren in the Gospel,
G. T. WILSON,
A. P. SPILLSBURY.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Stake President Macdonald's 60th Anniversary.

On Tuesday evening last, the 16th inst., being the anniversary of President Macdonald's sixtieth birthday, over eighty of the brethren and sisters of the Stake, consisting of the aged and young, assembled at the residence of the absent President to celebrate the event, and contribute by their presence and goodfellowship toward the making up of an enjoyable social time; as well as to show their marked esteem and respect for their faithful but absent pastor and host.

Sister Macdonald entertained the guests in her usual felicitous manner, making every guest feel pleased with himself and everything in general.

The evening was really a genuine, social one, passed in song, music, reminiscence and address, in which nearly all participated.

After about four hours of pleasure had flown away, and benediction had been pronounced, the guests parted for their several homes, with the universal wish that Brother Macdonald would enjoy many returns of the happy day, undimmed by persecution and exile, as was the 60th anniversary of his birth.
