

RUSSIAN REFORM HAS A HARD ROAD

Those Engaged in it Have Learned
Little of the Lessons of History.

LIBERALS ARE SPLITTING UP

Reformers Distrust Government—
Danger of Reaction Not Worth Consideration.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—With each day's developments it becomes more apparent that Russian reformers have learned little of the lessons of history and that Russia is destined, like other countries before her, to travel a thorny path to the political education. This perhaps is not strange considering that all the intelligent classes are engaged in a revolt against the old order of things, the moderates for the moment clapping hands with the ultra-revolutionists to accomplish the downfall of the autocracy. The result is that all the reform elements are distrustful of the government and take pride in molding aloof as if everybody connected with the government was contaminated, and there is no solid conservative element to act as a brake upon those who shrink from no political experiment, no matter how reckless. The various groups into which the liberals are splitting, and even those who advocate the very constitutionalism into which Count Witte is seeking to conduct the government, seemingly would rather let the country drift into anarchy than lift a finger to aid him. The leaders display anything but disinterested patriotism, having political ambitions and being convinced that the present is only a stop-gap government until the duma meets. They prefer to not jeopardize their own future by taking office in a government marked for sacrifice, yet they represent, as does Count Witte, that the old faction which ruled so long at court would like to renew the struggle to retain, unhindered, the new premier and maintain the whole reform movement. They admit that Count Witte is the only man in the present stage of transition capable of coping with the court camellias; nevertheless they refuse to assist him to get a firm seat in the saddle.

The danger of reaction is hardly worth serious consideration, however. Even the disaffected advocates of the old regime realize that the emperor's step is irrevocable, that he could not withdraw it if he could, and that any attempt simply to place him in the attitude of a usurper of the people's liberties would precipitate an immediate

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetables and many other fads along the same line. Restaurants may be found in the large cities where to drink, eat, or smoke is served and the food drunk is in the story and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs and should be used to fatten four-legged animals must have been grossly ignorant of the facts of life.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind of food which was good, and a healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Reimann on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion be free at first it may be easily corrected by a diet of meat. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several hundred grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach, and no matter how indigestible the food, a regular practice of using the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they digest the food and disperse the necessary acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food."

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the trouble is to take the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the highest medical authorities and known to contain active digestive principles.

ate crash in which he would be sure to lose the throne. Nevertheless the fall-guards of the reform elements to break with the Social Democrats and co-operate with Count Witte may prove disastrous and encourage the extreme reaction which would be apt to provoke a continuance of clashes and excesses and in the end force the government to resort to extreme measures, which, being interpreted as a return to the policy of repression, might precipitate uprisings.

Fortunately something like a realization of these dangers is coming home to a small but growing class of liberals. For instance Prince Eugene Troubetzkoy, who declined to accept the portfolio of minister of education because the party with which he is affiliated is committed to a constituent assembly, in an open letter to the public advises the people to support the new government in its efforts to restore tranquillity, and Dmitri Shipoff and M. Gutshkoff, who as dissatisfied party members have returned to Moscow with the intention of organizing a distinct party of moderate ideas to aid Count Witte.

The industrial Slovo has become the organ of "the party of order," and even the Russ, while endorsing the action of the zemstvos in refusing offices, thinks that they could with propriety select a committee to act in an advisory capacity with the government. The open letter of reactionaries in Saratov is a new and threatening phase of the situation, emphasizing the necessity of quelling the country. It is significant in connection with the fear of mutiny among the troops that the council for national defense has taken occasion to issue a public statement to the effect that army reforms for the betterment of the conditions of the men, including the improvement of food and clothing and an increase of pay, are under consideration.

The retirement of Count Lamoroff, minister of foreign affairs, when the duma meets is certain, but he may continue in office till then. He is fitted neither by temperament nor training to hold office in a ministry responsible to a parliament, where he would have to reply to interpellations. M. D'Avolsky, Russian minister at Copenhagen, enjoys great favor at court, and doubtless would be the emperor's personal choice as successor to Count Lamoroff, but the exigencies of the situation might compel the selection of another. The new policy of nation education, which is one of the principal planks of Count Witte's platform, will be inaugurated by the transfer to the ministry of education of all the imperial educational institutions, which now are mostly under the protection of the sovereign. Their improvement of $4,500,000 will thus be added to the national education fund.

Father Gapon has taken advantage of the amnesty and is now on his way to St. Petersburg.

The corrupt condition of the naval administration existing at Cronstadt, which was disclosed by the recent mutiny, has compelled the resignation of Admiral Nikoloff, commander of the Baltic ports, and other officers. The mutineers, instead of being subjected to the full penalties of naval regulations, ending in execution of sentence of death, are to be shipped on a long punitive cruise.

Count Witte has decided for the present to name no new minister of the interior. He is waiting for the appointment of M. Durnovo as acting minister of the interior and as a member of the council of the empire.

COUNTRY'S SAFETY.

It Lies in an Educated Citizenship,
Says V. P. Fairbanks.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—At a meeting held at English opera house this afternoon under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks delivered an address before 2,500 people. The vice president was welcomed by hearty applause. He said in part:

"Our safety lies in an educated citizenship. The best interests of labor are to be conserved through the instrumentality of the schoolhouse. There is no better code by which to live than the golden rule. It has been the guide of millions in ages past and it will continue to guide the conduct of millions yet to be. If you can do no kindly act to your brother, act not at all. I am a firm believer that as a people, we are growing in greatness and expanding in all the ways that make for better men and better women, for better homes, for a better city, a better state and better country."

GOT HIS REVENGE.

Morris Jacobs Shoots Man Who Destroyed His Family Happiness.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Seeking revenge upon the man who he declared had alienated the affections of his wife, Morris Jacobs, a physical culture instructor, tonight shot and perhaps fatally wounded E. H. Pirch, a painter and paper hanger, besides accidentally shooting two other persons. The shooting occurred in a saloon where Jacobs found Pirch drinking with several friends. As he entered the door Jacobs fired three shots at Pirch, one wounding him in the back, the bullet entering the abdomen, while one of the other two shots struck Edward J. Ross, porter in the saloon, in the shoulder. A boy for whom the police are searching, was hit by a stray bullet from Jacobs' revolver during the street chase that followed the saloon affray. Jacobs was arrested while he was pursuing Pirch.

Boston, Nov. 13.—Superintendent of Police William R. Dwyer and Chief Inspector William R. Watts went to Albany, N. Y., yesterday, hearing with them the papers necessary for the extradition of William Howard and Louis H. Crawford, who are under arrest in New York City, charged with complicity in the death of Susan Geary, the victim of the suit case tragedy. The Boston officials will present the requisition to Gov. Hiram this morning and will probably start for New York in the afternoon, returning to Boston with the prisoners tomorrow.
