

CAVE DRAWS A BRILLIANT HOUSE

Great French Singer Met With A Rare Ovation Last Night.

LEADS APPLAUSE FOR CHOIR.

At the Close of the Concert She Remained to Hear the Singers Render the Hallelujah.

With the coming of Calve last night, the quietest of the greatest female singers the world has produced in the past quarter of a century, have now all been heard in Salt Lake. Patti, Nordica, Melba, and Eames had preceded her in the Tabernacle, and all left their mark and impress in the memory of our music lovers. The reception accorded Calve exceeded that given several of the others, and without reflecting on any of the previous visits, it is a simple truth to say that Calve must rank in importance ahead of any of the more recent events, Patti and Nordica may have had as royal an ovation, but it was hardly more pronounced than the bursts of enthusiasm which greeted the French singer's notable numbers. The audience was far and away the most brilliant, representative, and the largest which any event of recent years has attracted to the great auditorium. The receipts were about $2,200, nearly $1,000 more than those drawn at the recent Eames concert.

Loudly as she had been heralded in advance, and profuse as the promises were of her attainments, it can be truthfully said that Calve more than realized all of them. To many, in fact, she was a most pleasant surprise, as there had been something of a feeling that when she abandoned the operatic for the concert stage, it was a sign that she had attained the summit of her greatness, and might have just begun to take the descent on the down grade. For her voice last night gave no indication of such a fact. Her tone production remains almost perfect. She is classed as the world's best instance of what a mezzo-soprano should be, but her lower notes, her middle notes and her register are all so warm, rich and velvety that she might almost be called a contralto or a high soprano with equal justice. Added to her vocal accomplishments, there is the individual charm and magnetic coquetry, the dreamy southern languor which have made her as famed as an actress as she is as a singer. The combination of such gifts in voice and in temperament, could only make her what she is—one in the first rank of the world's artists.

Calve was most generous with her responses last night. Her opening number was the Sappho selection by Gounod, and the reception she was accorded by the audience and the choir, all the singers rising to their feet, must have thrilled her to the heart. For an encore she responded with the beautiful "Serenade" by Gounod with flute obbligato, in which her rich, tone, was again given, the fullest play. The familiar aria from "The Pearl of Brazil" which we have heard for a generation from Emma Abbott to Lucy Gates, had the usual story reception, and Calve occasionally skipped a few of the high notes, her rendition was almost faultless. She was called back a third and fourth time, her renditions being "Come! This is the way" to which she imparted a specially taking charm, and "The Swanee River," the effect of which was rather exaggerated. For her vocal reception, and the applause which she gave, she was the "Habenera" from Carmen, which made her famous, not in the costume, however, which had been so freely promised by the advertising managers. The charm with which she gave this number was most taking, though it undeniably loses by the absence of the stage action, and being called back again and again, she gave a fetching little Spanish song which was also highly applauded.

Calve's supporting artists were all excellent, though hardly of the surpassing brilliant quality of Emma's company. Miss Vermorel is a most accomplished violinist, and she played her several numbers with rare taste and effect. Mr. Roussin, the basso, has some fine notes in the lower register, but his upper tones are heavy. The flutist hardly did full justice to the opening number, but was heard to better advantage in the encore.

The choir did admirable work in the well known "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust," though doubtless it was selected as a compliment to the star of the evening. She came out from her room to listen to and led the applause in the heartiest fashion. At the close of the concert she remained for a few minutes, Mr. Stephens conducting the glorious "Hallelujah" which she and all her company also heartily applauded.

An astonishing statement in a morning paper that "Calve expressed a slight disapproval of the choir's rendition of 'Soldiers' Chorus' is totally untrue. On the contrary, she expressed the utmost enthusiasm to Mr. Stephens and his singers.

She came to Utah with her parents in 1861, the family settling at Mill Creek where, and in Salt Lake City, they lived till 1871, when she came to Provo, which has been her home ever since. Mrs. Kirkwood was a good wife and mother and a faithful Latter-day Saint. For years she was a member of the Old Folks' committee and did yeoman service looking after the wants of the aged, in whose ranks she was sorely missed. She leaves a husband and eight children, as well as a father, brothers and sisters, many grandchildren and numerous relatives and friends. The funeral has not been announced.

STATE OFFERS REWARD.

Will Pay $500 for Capture and Conviction of Garfield Murderers.

Governor Cutler today issued a proclamation offering a reward of $500 for the capture and conviction of the murderer of Garfield's companion, who was killed by cattle men in Sweetwater county, Wyo., on Wednesday. The reward also applies to the capture of the assassin of Garfield's companion, who was seriously wounded. Sheriff Emery was in consultation with Governor Cutler this morning in regard to the matter, and shortly afterwards the governor authorized the offer of the reward and notified Governor Brooks of Wyoming of his action.

The following message was sent to Governor Brooks in relation to the matter:

"Gov. B. B. Brooks:—Utah offers $500 reward for capture and conviction of murderer of Garfield's companion, who was killed by cattle men in Sweetwater county, Wyo., and wounding of Allen. Will Wyoming join in like amount?"

M. A. Miller has recently been appointed stake librarian, and requests that all the librarians of the various schools be present to consider some important work.

ATTY. DOKERY HERE.

Prominent Idaho Democrat Discusses Murder of Steunenberg.

E. J. Dokery, one of the leading attorneys of Boise, Idaho, is numbered among the guests registered at the Wilkeson. Mr. Dokery is a Democrat, in fact was once chairman of the party in Idaho; also presidential elector and a delegate to national conventions. He knew Governor Steunenberg intimately and was a business associate of the murdered man, whose death he feels keenly.

In discussing the matter Mr. Dokery expressed the sentiment that the officers appeared to have the assassin, and in his judgment the federal crime and subsequent prompt arrest would have the effect of bringing to justice every scoundrel connected with the affair, and that there would be an end to dynamiting in the west, as the Molte McGuire of Pennsylvania were supposed to be connected with the killing. Mr. Dokery stated that W. E. Barrall was the logical next senator from Idaho if the Republicans won the day. Mr. Brady's chances, in his opinion, were decidedly slim.

SNOWSTORM IS QUITE GENERAL.

Extends Over the State and All
The Way to the Pacific Coast.

MAKES THE FARMERS REJOICE

Eight Inches Reported at Heber City
And Varying Amounts North
And South.

The snowstorm which set in here early this morning was quite general over the state. The fall in some places amounted to between six and eight inches, while in others it ranged all the way from one to four inches. Heber City reported eight inches and in room it was still snowing, with nearly a foot of the beautiful snow on the ground. At Logan there was two inches, and at Tooele it had been snowing since 8 a. m., with prospects for a continued fall. Reports from Alta indicate a similar condition there. The storm extends all the way to the coast and the snowfall there it will continue all day and through tomorrow. Today the snow is very wet and it is soaking into the ground, but colder weather is scheduled for tonight.

At the office of the Utah sugar co., this morning, the following reports were received as to the depth of snow from last night's fall: Evanston, 6 inches; Logan, 2 inches; Garland, 6 inches; Heber City, 8 inches.

At Garland, Chief Engineer Wheeler states that the fall was the best that the country has known for eight years, and there is a general feeling of jubilation among the farmers everywhere for the outlook of next year's planting.

Reports to the "News" on the condition of the weather at the points indicated are as follows:

Logan—Snowing since 3:30 p. m. yesterday; fall about two inches; six inches on the ground.

Sweetwater—Snowing all morning; fall about two inches.

Alta—Snowing all morning; quite cloudy.

Bravo—Warm and spring-like, but cloudy.

Mid. Pleasant—One inch of snow last night; cloudy and thawing this morning.

Richfield—Cloudy and cold; some snow last night.

Cedar City—Clear and spring-like; snow nearly all gone.

Beaver—Cloudy but warm; looks like snow.

St. George—Cloudy; looks like rain; no snow since last report.

STATE PRISON AFFAIRS.

Board of Corrections Makes Report to Governor Cutler.

The report of the state board of corrections for the year 1905 showing the administration of affairs at the state prison was filed with Gov. Cutler today. The receipts for the year amounted to $13,920.90 and the disbursements were $13,552.59, leaving a balance on hand of $368.31. During the year there were 134 prisoners in the state prison, of whom there were 131 there on Jan. 1, 1905, making the total during the year 315. On Dec. 31, 1905, there were 197 prisoners in the prison and during the year 113 prisoners were released.

Of those released 86 were upon the expiration of their sentences, 12 were pardoned, six paroled, three committed to court for execution and three to court for trial. Of the 134 prisoners received during the year, 129 were whites and five were negroes and all of them were men, there not being a single woman sentenced to the prison during the year. Ten of the prisoners are under 20 years of age, 63 between 20 and 30 years old, 35 between 30 and 40 years, 18 between 40 and 50 years, 8 between 50 and 60 years, and two over 60 years of age.

One of the prisoners received during the year is serving his fifth term, one his fourth, one his third, one his second, 13 their second and 115 their first term of imprisonment. There have been 677 cases handled by the prison physician during the year and of those only three have been treated in the hospital.

The total valuation of the property of the state prison is given at $344,754.44, the 180 acres of land is valued at $27,000 and the buildings at $288,754.44. In addition to this property there are barns, sheds, stock, machinery and six cottages included in the inventory of property belonging to the prison.

DIRECTORS NOMINATED.

Messrs. Overfield, Tuttle and Silver, the committee appointed to nominate directors of the Y. M. C. A. to be voted on at the annual election, report: For the term expiring January, 1907, Dr. C. J. Palmer, A. E. Webb, S. B. Wood, W. Mont Perry, C. P. Overfield; for the term expiring January, 1908, John Denn, E. J. Payne, O. A. Honnold, W. H. Tibbals, F. A. Dregli; for the term expiring January, 1909, F. B. Stephens, W. V. Rice, Dr. E. V. Silver, L. C. Miller, F. A. Timby.

NO HOPE OF RELIEF.

Mail Matter is Handled on Old Contract, Hence the Difficulty.

There is constant complaint about the delays that occur in carrying the mails in the screened wagons between the postoffice and the depots, but the postmaster states that the same complaints are being made all over the country. The contracts were let four years ago, and since that time there has been a vast increase of population and general business. Salt Lake was much smaller four years ago than it is now, when there was no station A, nor San Pedro railroad, and parties in Salt Lake on four-year contracts, figured far below the profit margin. Fines are imposed, but contractors having nothing to do pay their fines, and so the situation will continue until some other arrangement is made.

The department has been importuned so frequently to give the suffering public relief that it has decided to take action. It has taken next July to let the contract for hauling mails between office and depots as to avoid the present cause for complaint.

REPRESENTATIVE IN LEHI HISTORY.

Celebration in Honor of Securing
The New State Experiment
Farm.

BIGGEST FOR UTAH COUNTY.

American Fork and Provo Were on Hand With Delegations and Bands to Assist.

(Special to the "News.")

Lehi, Jan. 13.—Yesterday afternoon and last night the red letter event in the history of the towns of American Fork and Lehi occurred. The celebration was in honor of the securing for these two cities the new state experiment farm, and it was participated in by over 400 people from Utah county, in addition to Governor John C. Cutler and his staff who were present as guests of honor.

The festivities were arranged for by the Lehi Commercial club, and were carried out under its auspices. The celebration was a grand affair, and the city of Provo, the Commercial club of which sent a delegation of 40 members, and the city of American Fork, the other from American Fork, enlivened the programs during the afternoon and evening and did much to add a holiday appearance to the occasion. Business houses in both towns were closed, and the population turned out to enjoy the day.

CONGRATULATORY SPEECHES.

Comment today votes the affair the biggest of its kind in the history of Utah county, and it was hoped to make it what was considered the capacity of the towns involved.

The program opened at the new tabernacle in Lehi, when a number of speeches were delivered to a packed house. President Jos. T. Kingsbury of the State university, President W. K. Kerr of the Agricultural college, Director E. A. Yoder of the state experiment station, Hon. T. R. Cutler, Geo. Austin, president of the Lehi Commercial club, S. L. Chipman and A. J. Gendron.

The speeches dealt with the new farm and the experiment work to be carried on under its direction.

On the part of the Utah Sugar company, the president, Mr. J. H. Houghton, made a speech in which he said that the company's laboratory, while the Agricultural college laboratory was being constructed, in fact, he said, the company's laboratory would be thrown wide open to the Agricultural college representatives. Prof. Kerr in responding made a handsome acknowledgment of the gift, and the company's laboratory would be thrown wide open to the Agricultural college representatives.

At the adjournment of the meeting in the tabernacle, the crowd assembled at the rooms of the Lehi Commercial club, where Gov. John C. Cutler and his staff were informally entertained.

James H. Grove spoke humorously to the toast "Now You See It and Now You Don't." He told many pleasant stories of the light over the location, and caused a great deal of merriment.

Joseph J. Jackson of American Fork spoke last on the subject of the union of the city with Lehi, and of the good feeling that is growing up between them.

The banquet was held at 10 o'clock after which those present attended a grand ball at the city pavilion, which lasted until after midnight, and concluded the festivities of the occasion.

STIRRING DISPUTE OVER MINING CLAIM.

The supreme court today handed down an opinion reversing the judgment of the lower court in the case of Mary Helstrom, appellant, against Isaac Rodes, and granting a new trial of the case. The action was brought to eject defendant from a portion of the Bula mining claim in Bingham, and the lower court rendered a decree in favor of defendant and ordered plaintiff to execute a deed transferring the property in dispute to defendant.

The defendant contended that he purchased the surface ground of the claim from the husband of plaintiff and his partner, and that he occupied the same for a residence and was a co-tenant with plaintiff. It appears that the assessment work on the claim was done during the year 1905, so in January, 1905, Mrs. Helstrom relocated the property, and in July, 1902, secured a patent to it. The defendant claimed that plaintiff relocated the property for the benefit of her husband and hence she held the title to defendant's portion of the surface rights in trust for defendant. The lower court sustained this contention and rendered a decree in favor of defendant.

In her appeal the plaintiff claimed that the findings and decree were not sustained by the evidence, and the supreme court sustains this contention. The opinion of the court holds that the evidence did not show that Mrs. Helstrom relocated the claim for her husband or for anyone else but herself, and there was no claim that she also was a co-tenant with defendant. The defendant knew that she had relocated the claim, but made no effort to secure a title to the land purchased by him. Hence he has no claim to possession of the same or for compensation for the improvements made by him on the property. The judgment of the lower court is reversed and a new trial granted, and the costs of appeal taxed against defendant. Justice Straup wrote the opinion of the court, which is concurred in by Chief Justice Barth and Justice McCarty.

ROOSEVELT TOOK INITIATIVE.

Fraud Written All Over Concern—
Claimed to Have Found Principle of Life and to Raise the Dead.

New York, Jan. 13.—Gen. James R. O'Beirne, for years more or less prominent in Republican politics in this city, and who has held a number of offices under the United States government is given as president in the literature of the Force of Life Chemical company, the medical director of which Dr. William Wallace Hadley and Assistant Medical Director Mrs. Laur M. Wilson were yesterday arrested by federal authorities and held in $2,500 bail each for examination a week from today.

Gen. O'Beirne has been a special agent of the treasury department, assistant commissioner of immigration at the port of New York and a commissioner of charities in this city. He became president of the company in September last, when E. Virgil Neal, its alleged organizer and first president, resigned.

The following statement is made in a circular, headed "Dr. Wallace Hadley's Personal Message":

"Do not be skeptical. Have confidence in me. Be sure, as I am that I can cure disease."

"Come ye who are heavy laden and I WILL give you rest."

"Reverently I repeat the words, and sincerely will I fulfill the trust put in me by the Great Healer. I can say no more."

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 13.—Fred Thrapp, 18 years old, a student at Washburn college, in this city, masked, held up and attempted to rob a student here last night at the receipts of a school entertainment. After a struggle in which Robinson was shot in the leg and three burglars' tools were found by Thrapp, the latter was captured and lodged in jail. Robinson's wound is not dangerous.

At the police station when searched, Thrapp had a revolver and a good reputation. His father has a position in the general offices of the Santa Fe railway in this city.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Thomas Radcliffe and family desire to express their heartfelt thanks for the many expressions of sympathy received during their recent bereavement.

TO THE MUSIC
LOVING PUBLIC.

The firm of VanSant & Chamberlain, who have been doing a piano and organ business for some years past have dissolved partnership, their patrons, however, will be pleased to learn that Mr. John Chamberlain will continue the business under the name of the Chamberlain Music Co.

By special arrangement Mr. Chamberlain will continue the business at the old stand, and it is needless to say that it is the most spacious and elegant show rooms in the city.

Reliable pianos and organs, at right prices.

For a whole year since this announcement was sent broadcast through the mails as a preamble to a pamphlet issued by the Force of Life Chemical company, in which extraordinary virtues were claimed for its preparation, the United States authorities and the New York County Medical society have been examining complaints against the company in an effort to make evidence enough to make arrest.

The power to raise the dead, claimed, it is alleged, by Dr. Hadley, first challenged the attention of the authorities a little less than a year ago, Dr. Hadley, General Council received a personal letter from President Roosevelt, inclosing one of the Force of Life company's circulars which had been sent to the president by a woman B. Springfield.

Mr. Cortelyou at once communicated with Postmaster Wilcox of this city, who detailed inspectors to investigate the methods of the concern.

In addition to President James R. O'Beirne, the literature issued by the company and the latest corporation directory, give the following officers of the Force of Life Chemical company: James A. Tedford, vice president; Arthur H. Williams, treasurer, and Frederick H. Wilson, secretary.

The directors are headed by the above: Edwin O. Keeler, William F. Acton, E. Virgil Neal, R. T. Badgley and James P. Pierce. Mr. Pierce was formerly superintendent of insurance of New York State. E. Virgil Neal, with Dr. Hadley, Williams and Mrs. Wilson, it is alleged, furnished the real brains of the concern.

Arthur H. Williams, treasurer of the company, and one of its directors, is president of the Bankers' Realty & Security company, a trustee of the Washington Savings bank, and a director of the Cooperative Building bank in this city. He lives in Mount Vernon. Frederick H. Wilson is superintendent of the United States Indian warehouse in this city. Mr. Keeler is said to be president of the Fairfield National bank, vice president of the South Norwalk Trust company, and former lieutenant-governor of the state of Connecticut.

William F. Acton is described as president of the Fairfield National corporation, and late secretary and treasurer and general manager of the Norwalk Street Railway company of Connecticut, and R. F. Hadley is president of the Consolidated Hoof Pad company of New York.

The concern is a Delaware corporation, organized in 1902. Its capital is given as $1,000,000.

In a letter from the Springfield woman to President Roosevelt there was included one of the stock letters from the force of life concern. It started as follows:

"By his mysterious control over disease and death, Dr. Wallace Hadley, the eminent theosophical panoplist of this city, has made the human heart beat again in the body of a woman rescued from the grave. And as a result of his successful experiment he makes the startling statement that no disease should cause death, as he claims to have discovered the vital principle of life itself, the dynamic force that creates and

DEATH OF W. S. GIBSON.

Highly Respected Citizen Passes Away
After a Long Illness.

W. S. Gibson, a well known and much respected resident of this city, died this morning at his home, 483 Third street, after an illness of 14 weeks. The deceased was a native of Airdrie, Scotland, where he was born Sept. 26, 1838. He emigrated to Missouri in 1854 and came to Utah in 1856. On July 12, 1851, he was married to Johanna Barnard, of which union four sons and three daughters survive. In 1870 Mr. Gibson engaged in the lumber business with his brother John S., who was killed in 1878. He located in the Twentieth ward on his arrival in Utah and has ever since resided in that ward. He joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in his native land and has ever been a conscientious adherent of the faith. Mr. Gibson suffered quite an accident in the saw mill in 1878, by which he became crippled for the rest of his days. He was an honest, conscientious man, a good citizen and a kind and loving husband and father. Besides the children above mentioned, Mr. Gibson leaves a wife to mourn his death.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Twentieth ward meetinghouse. Friends are invited.
