John Powers will return from Lincoln, Nebraska, tomorrow and will be accompanied by a woman. He is reported in another column.

That Gas Stock Sale.

The Public is Wondering Why It Was Made.

A "NIGGER IN THE WOODPILE."

The Stock Was Paying From 25 to 30 Per Cent Per Annum.

The more the methods resorted to in the recent sale of the city stock are revealed and furnished into the more ready the transaction appears and the more suspicious the public becomes.

No excuse the City Councilmen or their sympathizers have yet made to justify their action in selling the stock.

The statement was made in the City Council chamber the night of the sale that the stock was poor property; that it was giving very little to the city for the amount of money invested. That declaration was glaringly incorrect.

Councilman Hardy, member from the Third precinct, fought the proposition from first to last. On the night the sale was made he said the Council should be a little careful how it moved in the matter. The city had gradually been disposing of all its earning property. If the present reckless course were continued it would be necessary to increase the rate of taxation. That would be a burden on property owners.

The city's gas stock was now paying an annual dividend of 25,000, that would pay the interest of a great many bonds.

Mr. Hardy was contradicted and at the time was not able to refute the statements of those who favored the sale.

Investigation has demonstrated that he was correct. Hollins & Huggins had $100,000 for the stock. Mr. Hardy would not use the consistency of selling property that was paying twenty-five per cent.

In the face of positive proof there are those who continue to contradict Mr. Hardy. A News reporter called upon Mr. T. W. Hadden, a former director of the gas company and asked him if it was true that the gas company had been paying a dividend of twenty-five per cent and that it was due to the last year. He replied, "Yes, it paid more than that."

He would not attempt to do otherwise and had large investments.

The Funeral Train Arrives in Indianapolis.

SOLEMN FUNERAL SERVICES.

The Presbyterian Church Beautifully Decorated.

DR. HAINES' FUNERAL ADDRESS.

The Remains of Mrs. Harrison at Crown Hill Cemetery—Burial—Contest in Paris.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—The funeral train bearing the remains of Mrs. Harrison arrived here this morning at 10:30 a. m.

At all along the route, early daylight, all stations, people gathered to see the train go by.

They seemed to be waiting for something, as if by a desire to testify their sympathy with the President in his sorrow, and to testify to the world that the nation was united in its grief.

The train was met by a large number of people at the station, and the remains were taken to the funeral home.

The same was true, only in a greater degree, on the arrival here, where the funeral services were held.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, which was beautifully decorated, chiefly in festoons and streamers in black and white, relieved here and there with loops of smilax.

White chrysanthemums and other flowers were placed on each side of the pulpit and floral offerings were laid upon the choir rail.

The President's wife, draped in black, was not used during the services.

When the cortege arrived at the church a throng of 3,000 people filled the sanctuary, and the remains were taken to the funeral home.
