

TO KEEP YOUNG

Refreshing sleep is one of the great preservers of youth. Eight hours of regular sleep at night and a short nap during the day will do much to keep the face free from wrinkles. Always sleep with the bedroom window open a few inches at the top, both in summer and winter. A daily morning bath, tepid in winter and cold in summer, with a brisk rub to follow, will be found to keep the skin fresh and clear. At least a couple of hours must be spent in open air, either in walking or playing games, as circumstances cheerfulness.

All tight clothing, and especially tight lacing, must be avoided, as compression disturbs the circulation and often is the cause of enlarged veins and red noses.

The effect of diet on the skin is of the utmost importance, and many dermatologists have made a careful study of this aspect of the question. Abstinence from all rich food and stimulants has been tried with success. A celebrated woman, who was famous even in her old age for her beautiful clear complexion and freedom from wrinkles, once was persuaded to tell the secret of her youthful looks. The answer was simple. Abstinence had been the rule of her life. No tea, coffee, or stimulants of any kind. To keep well drink lemonade or water, eat apples, grapes and figs regularly. Take this raw juice of a lemon every other day. Never fail to walk regularly. Bathe frequently. Above all, never let anything have the power to worry you, but always try to remain calm and cheerful.

A BET ON A PRIVATE STILL.

An experienced excise inspector, having been sent to the Blue Grass State from headquarters in Washington, stopped at a tumble-down hotel in a jerk-water village. He strolled into the bar-room, and, seeing a few of the village worthies loafing around, ordered a drink all around. Being filled with ambition and totally unacquainted with the surrounding country, he offered $5 to any one who would lead him to an illicit still, or a "private still," as they are called in that part of the state. A grizzled old woodsman stepped to the fore and proffered his services. Having received his fee, he led the inspector a lively chase over hill and dale, fording streams and tracking swamps. After about five miles, tramp they came upon a dingy old cabin, with no life visible except a man working in the garden. The guide then said:

"Do you see that man?"

"Well," said the guide, "that man is my son-in-law. He is an army man. He has been in the army for twenty years. He ought to be an officer by this time, but he isn't. He's a private still."—Judge's Library.

Mrs. S. Joyce, 180 Sullivan St., Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." P. I. Hill Drug Co., "The Never Substitutors."
