PERIOD OF HOPING IN TRADE CIRCLES

Not All Lines Are Suffering Because of Peculiar Weather Conditions.

BANKERS ARE OPTIMISTIC.

Not Because of Present Conditions, But the Future Promises Great Returns from Abundant Water.

The record breaking weather of the past week has greatly retarded business in some lines; while in others it has not been so noticeable. In bank. mg, the local financial situation has not changed much. The wet weather has undoubtedly made merchandizing somewhat dull, and there has been considerable complaint about the slowness of collections. But viewing the gluation as a whole, there is considerable cause for optimism. Although there has been a great quantity of rain, yet it is always the case that a wet, or backward spring, insured abundant cross of wheat, oats and barley as well er backward spring, insured abundant cops of wheat, oats and barley, as well is good feed on the ranges. As for arn, there is little raised in this part of the country. Sugar beets are reported looking exceedingly well, with promise of a good yield. Viewing the situation in a larger aspect, there is certainly cause for hopefulness. Without doubt, matters are surely, if slowly, moving toward better conditions. In fact, at most, there is no cause for any great feeling of depression. When it is considered that 37 per cent of the population are engaged in agriculture, and that times never have been better for the agriculturist, this 37 per cent goes a long way toward evening up the other 63 per cent that have suffered by reason of the panic. And of this 63 per cent it must be remembered that not all suffered to any great extent. Some lines of manufacture suffered but very little disturbance, as for instance, all manufacturers of food and meat products, manufacturers of leather and leather products; and even some lines of dry goods did not suffer saverale. cops of wheat, oats and barley, as well products, manufacturers of leather and leather products; and even some lines of dry goods did not suffer severely. The worst seemed to have fallen on the wool interests and woolen manufacturers, as well as on all articles of luxury and adornment, Even woolen manufactures are now considered something of a luxury because the cheaper cotton tures are now considered something of a luxury, because the cheaper cotton can, when necessity requires, largely, if not wholly, take the place of wool, and in a measure silk. Jewelers and especially those dealing in precious stones probably suffered the most. But, taking all in all, the American people have great cause of satisfaction, as they look back over the history of the past few months, to see how little damage has resulted from the experiences of the hard times.

LOCAL MONEY CIRCLES.

In money circles here, things are moving along satisfactorily. There is a fair demand for money for legitimate purposes, and at living rates; and prospects for the future are very good. As for the money situation in the east, the quotations read in the press dispatches are misleading, because those my low rates are for very short perstches are misleading, because those my low rates are for very short permiss of time; and on a class of securfles that do not obtain in this part of the country. The ordinary borrower has to pay a good rate of interest in the east; in fact it is difficut to get a loan that matures after the presidential election. The policy to be pursued seems to be a waiting one, and no great change may be expected for some months to come. Values of stocks on the stock exchange, of the better class, have nearly recovered their normal level. As to those of a speculative character, they will remain cheap until the severe experiences of the past few months have been measurably forgotten.

JUMBER TRADE

The lumber trade reports its wholeas and manufacturing representatives as on the anxious seat whiting for a decision by the interstate commerce commission promised this month. Any commission promised this month. Any decision favorable or otherwise, will be welcome as cleansing the atmosphere. Many mills that can afford it, or which have no contracts to fill, have closed down. The surplus stock, accumulated overproduction, is being gradually worked off, so that by the middle of full business will be found in better shape.

HARDWARE.

The hardware trade reports the re-tall branch as considerably affected by the wet weather, while the wholesale trade did not suffer appreciably. One big wholesale house reported that on Monday last, 15 more orders were re-ceived and filled than had ever been ceived and filled than had ever been received in any previous day in the history of the business. The principal articles called for this week were fishing and sporting goods from people preparing for a summer's amusement, realizing that this very unseemly weather cannot last forever. In the jobbing line, all kinds of goods are going out to retailers, and the face of the cloudy skies does not mirror the countenance skies does not mirror the countenance of the wholesale branch of the hard-ware trade. There is reported also a strong demand for harness goods and saddlery.

DRY GOODS.

The wholesale dry goods trade reports some advances in bleached and brown cotion goods, light sheetings, staples, ginghams, etc., in which the low prices recently made by agents have been recalled and goods are now placed at value. Jobbers are placing their orders on staple prints, ginghams, and brown sheetings on which it is predicted that advanced prices will be placed later. Trade had become stagnant, as buyers were loath to purchase. So manufacturers, to test the true temper of the market, set what some jobbers characterize as ridiculously low prices, and this dem-onstrated the fact that people will buy. onstrated the fact that people will buy. And as the mills claimed prices were really below the cost of production, they sized up probabilities from the experiment, and have forced prices upward to more stable and reasonable figures. Considering the cost of labor, recent quotations are claimed to be the lowest the trade has ever witnessed.

The retail dry goods trade for the past week has been largely a season of rest for the clerical forces. People are not buying winter goods, because it is too close to warm weather, and they are not buying thin goods because winter still lingers in the vestibule of spring. However, there have been fair sales of house furnishings, draperies etc. so not all of the lines. draperies, etc., so not all of the lines

BUSINESS NOTES

Stocks in the local list, with two or three exceptions, have remained quiet, the widespread storms exercising a deterrent influence, and the feverish activity in the mining stock market drawing attention once more away from the commercial list.

The reports received up to this morning from the rural districts indicate that, while there is some damage to smaller fruits and vines, the beet fields are unhurt, and with the advent of sunshine there will be a benefit rather than a loss thus far from the excessive moisture. Utah-idaho Sugar preferred has again moved up to a new level, the highest in many months, and sales took highest in many months, and sales took place during the week at $8.80. The dividend of 17½ cents a share is payable on the 30th. Dividends on others in the list are also due at that time or early in July, so that brokers look for a tevival of interest this month. Another stock which is in heavy demand is Consolidated Wagon, prefetred, and Amalgamated Sugar, common is still manother. Lewiston Sugar has been actively bid for, but is so closely held as to be practically off the market.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK COMMITTED TO TOMBS

New York, June 5 .- Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, was committed to the Tombs prison without bail this af-ternoon when his trial on charges pre-ferred by little girls, which began to-day, was suddenly adjourned until next Monday.

Monday.

The adjournment came when Hitchcock's counsel conferred privately with Justice Goff, immediately after the first juror had been selected. At the conclusion of the conference, Justice Goff announced that in view of what the attorney had told him he would adjourn the case until next Monday and the the case until next Monday, and in the meantime Hitchcock would be remand-ed to the Tombs prison without ball.

said that Justice Goff committed Hitchcock without any suggestion from him or the assistant district attorney. At a previous trial on a similar charge the case against the actor fell flat when one of the complainants, Flora Whiston, on the witness stand declared that under the influence of an agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children she had perjured herself before the grand jury that indicted Hitchcock. The complainant in the case called today is Helen Von Hagen, and the allegations sworn to by Flora Whiston and Elsie Voecks, the other alleged victim, are expected to figure in the trial. The trial of Flora Whiston on a charge of perjury will be begun immediately after the conclusion of the Hitchcock trial.

TWO GERMAN OFFICERS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Brunswick, Germany, June 5.-A fa-tal automobile accident took place near Brunswick, Germany, June b.—A fatal automobile accident took place near here today, Lieut. Commander Assman and First Lieut. Johannes Fritzsche were killed, and First Lieut. Elmanhorst and the chauffeur, a man named Elcke, were severely injured. The automobile was a high power machine. As it was entering a small village the chauffeur endeavored to avoid running over a girl cyclist and suddenly put on the full brake power. The machine is said to have turned practically a double somersault and to have fallen upon the occupants and crushed them.

The entire party was from Kiel. Lieut. Fritzsche was a prominent sportsman and an experienced automobilist and had entered for the race for the Prince Henry cup on June 9. He also was an aeronautic inventor, and his 70-horse-power aeroplane was to be tried June 28 in the presence of Emperor

LIFE INSURANCE

(All questions relating to life insurance will be promptly answered by the Press Bureau of the Utah Association of Life Underwriters. Address P. O. Box 424, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mr. E. R. Perkins, second vice president of the New York Life Insurance company, will visit Salt Lake on June 9. A meeting will be held here on that day at the Commercial club at which the company's representatives from Idaho, Montana, California, Washington and Oregon will meet with the local

As a fitting testimonial to Mr. Perkins, the Utah branch field men have written over a quarter of a million insurance since the announcement of his coming which was on the first of May.

Have you heard of the town of Putitoff, On the banks of the River Slow? Where blooms the Waltawhile flower fair, Where the Sometimeorother scents

The Putitoffs smile when asked to in-

And say they will do it tomorrow,
And so they delay from day unto day,
Till death cycles up and takes them away,
And their families beg, steal or borrow.

Dear Sirs—I thank your bureau for the answer to my letter regarding the Great Western Life Insurance company. The receiver of the Great Western Agency receiver of the Great Western Agency company called a meeting of the stockholders a few days ago and elected J. B. Case of Abeline, Kansas, president. As a result of the failure of the agency company, the affairs of the Great Western Life Insurance company are in a rather confused state. Pending an examination of the life company, the insurance department of Missouri refuses to register policies of the Great Western Life, consequently the company cannot write any new business until its affairs are straightened out. Moreover, it appears that a large block of stock of the Great Western Life has been hypothecated to raise money to of stock of the Great Western Life has been hypothecated to raise money to keep up the payments on a note given the receiver of the State Agency company of Indiana by O. We have not gone into the financial statement of the life company, as it is not the purpose of the bureau to analyze a company's statement unless specially requested to do so by the correspondent.

The optimistic talker stands the best chance of getting business. Remember when everyone else is talking pessim-istically and everyone is listening with meantime Hitchcock would be remanded to the Tombs prison without bail.

Mr. Hitchcock's counsel, Mr. Steuer, said he asked for adjournment because he had just hear returned by Hitchcock's wide open and lets in the sunlight, will be heard. ## PATRIOTIC WOMEN.

Visit Ellis Island to Study Condition Of the Immigrants.

New York, June 5.—The officers of the National Society of Patriotic Women of America, a new organization, visited Ellis Island yesterday to study the conditions of immigrants among whom they are to work. The society of which Mrs. J. Heron Crosman is president, is to start classes among immigrant children, with paid teachers to instruct them in "practical patriotism and to enlighten them as to their civic duties and privileges."

The society was organized on May 6, at a meeting held at the residence of Mrs. Oliver Livingston Jones and has been incorporated. Its members are drawn largely so far from patriotic societies, but this is not limited by ancestry.

MAYOR BUSSE MARRIED.

Chicago. June 5.—Mayor Fred A. Busse was married on April 29 to Miss Josephine Lee of this city. The ceremony was performed by Judge Theodore Brentano there being but five persons in all present at the time of the marriage. Usual steps were taken to keep the story quiet, and even the immediate relatives of the mayor were not informed of his wedding. Mayor Busse was extremely anxious to avoid all publicity, and, in order to prevent the prospective wedding becoming public knowledge through the publication of the wedding license, invoked the aid of County Clerk Joseph F. Haas. Mr. Haas caused the license to be numbered back of the current number.

Miss Lee is one of three sisters, all of whom inherited a considerable fortune from their mother. Miss Lee has known Mr. Busse for the last seven years.

In all leading industries there is less idle machinery, and staple lines of merchandise at retail quickly respond to the larger payrolls. Mercantile collections are also more prompt and confidence grows stronger as the crops advance toward maturity, with no more serious handleap than excessive moisture in some sections.
