Poisoned By Mistake.

Inez G. Bingham, is the daughter of Edwin Bingham, a resident of this city. She is about 18 years of age, and is more popularly known as "Tessie" Bingham. For some time past she has been taking Fowler's preparation of arsenic for the improvement of her complexion. This she has done under the treatment of a local physician. In addition to this she has been undergoing a course of treatment for an ailment. On Monday she was feeling unwell and went up stairs to lay down for a short time. After a little while she arose to take her medicine, but in mistake took a quantity of the preparation of arsenic. Shortly after the dose was taken she observed a strange feeling and then the fact dawned upon her that she had taken medicine from the wrong bottle and had administered to herself a dose of arsenic which was sufficient to prove fatal unless prompt measures to counteract the effects of the poison were taken, and she promptly communicated her serious predicament to her mother, and a doctor was quickly summoned. Antidotes were administered and fortunately the poison was extracted from her stomach, and now she is progressing favorably towards recovery. —Ogden Herald, Aug. 16.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 18.

After an Octogenarian.

Deputies Cannon and Franks went to Kaysville yesterday, and searched two houses for alleged violators of the Edmunds law, but came back empty handed. One of those whom they were seeking was John W. Wain, a gentleman about eighty years of age, who is accused of having lived with more than one wife. He was not at home when the deputies called.

Arrest at Bountiful.

To-day deputy marshals arrested Byron W. King at East Bountiful, Davis County, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. Mr. King was in his blacksmith shop when the deputies came up, and went out of the back door, but was covered with the guns of the deputies and ordered to surrender, which he did of necessity. He was brought to this city, and two ladies were subpoenaed as witnesses. The examination was set for hearing before Commissioner Norrell, at 2 p.m., but as the accused desired counsel to represent him, a postponement was had until a later hour.

Mr. King was a Union soldier during the civil war, and took part in the campaigns of 1862, '63 and '64.

Lightning Freaks.

The Salt River Valley News, published at Tempe, Arizona, gives the following incidents of a thunder storm at that place on Tuesday, August 9:

"Patrick White was standing in his doorway looking out on the storm, the rest of the family having retired, when a thunderbolt struck the ground somewhere near him, throwing him out into the mud, insensible, in which condition he lay for some time, when he succeeded in crawling into the house. Pat was quite severely shocked and was laid up for the next day. A curious instance is that the lightning struck the ground, leaving the house and trees untouched. About fifty chickens, roosting in a neighboring tree, were killed by the shock, and, singularly enough, all the dead chickens were found next morning on one side of the tree. Those that roosted on the other side evidently went unharmed."

FOUR ARRESTS.

A Contemptible Creature Acts as a Spotter and Aids the Officers.

A private letter dated Mt. Pleasant, the 16th inst., to a gentleman in this city, contains the following particulars of a raid made upon that town by deputy marshals a few days ago: At half past three o'clock in the morning two deputy marshals, led by a spotter named Thomas Price, went to the house of George Farnsworth to arrest him. They first arrested Mrs. Mary Farnsworth. She was frightened, threw her dress over her shoulders and started to go out when the spotter, Price, and covered her with it. They began a search of the house, peering into nooks, boxes, etc., in which a two-year-old child could not be concealed, and they at length found Brother Farnsworth sick in bed. On Monday last he gave bonds before Commissioner Johnson at Spring City, to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of unlawful cohabitation.

On the same day Price led the officers from house to house until four arrests were made. The party went to Bishop Seely's residence and broke open five doors in the search for him, but found no one whom they wanted. The letter does not state the names of the brethren who were arrested. It gives, however, some account of Price, the spotter. He came from Minnesota, and after living in Mt. Pleasant about two years, tired of his wife, who had several children, abandoned her and married another woman who had six children.

Since the day on which he guided the officers, the other non-"Mormons" of the town, including apostates, have hooted him in the streets, and in other ways have shown their detestation of his conduct. His former friends have turned against him.

RUNAWAY TRAIN.

Narrow Escape From a Disastrous Collision.

The Laramie Boomerang gives a graphic account of a runaway train on the Union Pacific on Monday night. The eastbound freight train, No. 22, with two locomotives, left Sherman down the hill east, between 10 and 11 p.m., with orders to meet the westbound freight, No. 21, at Buford, the next station east. A short distance on, and at a point where the grade is very heavy, it was discovered that the air brakes did not operate with sufficient force to control the train and that it was running away in spite of all that could be done. It was about six miles to Buford, where No. 21 was to meet and a perilous descent all the way, with no prospect of stopping when they got there, nor indeed anywhere beyond until they landed in the ditch. No. 21 was likely not to be on the siding ahead of time and as it was coming up a double header as usual, there was the appalling prospect before them of a collision of the most terrible kind. Every man on board the train from the engineer to the rear brakeman set his teeth and wondered vaguely what the end would be. That they would come out of the scrape without a terrible smash up no one was bold enough to hope, for if they could keep the track at such a dizzy pace as they were traveling, it was only to meet No. 21 and dash the two trains into one common ruin. Fireman Mansell resolved, rather than to be crushed to atoms or stifled by the steam in a collision, to jump from his engine and take chances on life, and he did so while it was making a speed of not less than a mile a minute, escaping with a broken or badly dislocated shoulder and several bruises about his body.

Just before reaching Buford, the conductor of the runaway cut his caboose loose, and succeeded in stopping it at the station, while his train went thundering down the grade at a frightful rate. No. 21 had not come up, he telegraphed ahead, and the west bound train, which had been delayed at Cheyenne, was sidetracked. A few miles east of Buford the runaway struck a level piece of track, and the crew succeeded in bringing it to a standstill. Their sense of relief can be better imagined than described. The only man injured was the fireman, who jumped from the train.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY AUGUST 19.

Information Wanted.

Michael Kerns, of Bartlett, Fremont Co., Iowa, is desirous of hearing from his brother David Kerns, who left Fort Leavenworth in 1830. When last heard of he was in Utah. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received.

Arrest at Monroe.

Early on the morning of the 16th inst., Deputy A. Sargent and aids arrested Brother W. G. Baker, at Monroe, Sevier County, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. Brother Baker is a prominent citizen of Richfield, and the first victim at that place. He was taken to Beaver for examination.

From Prison.

To-day Rasmus Nielsen, of Pleasant Green, and S. H. Whitaker, of this city, were brought out of the penitentiary, where they have served a six months' term and thirty days additional for their inability to pay the fine imposed, on a conviction of having lived with more than one wife.

To Come Out.

To-morrow three of those who have served terms in the penitentiary for living with their wives and refusing to abandon them, will be released, having suffered the full penalty of the law in fine and imprisonment. These are William Harrison, of Provo, and James Kirkham and George Kirkham, of Lehi, Utah County.

Death at Richfield.

A letter from "C. A." of Richfield, states that Brother John Ogden of that place died on Sunday last. He had long been afflicted with what was supposed to be disease of the heart and kidneys. He was aged thirty years and leaves a wife, two small children, and other relatives. He held the office of a Sevier, and was a consistent Latter-day Saint.

Shot Dead.

A dispatch dated Fort Bidwell, Aug. 16, says: Last Saturday morning Williams Vickers, an Oregon desperado, was shot and instantly killed at Shirk's ranch, in Guano Valley, Oregon, while resisting arrest on a charge of murder, by Sheriff George Dunning, of Owyhee County, I. T.

A boy 19 years of age, name unknown, who dined on the sheriff in Vickers' defense, was also killed by the sheriff.

The sheriff lodged three bullets in Vickers' brain, and blew the top of the boy's head off at the first fire. Vickers has long borne a bad character, and has successfully resisted arrest on several occasions. He is the same party who attacked Charles Moore, a surveyor, a short time since, and nearly killed him.

Tramps in Wyoming.

Rawlins, Wyoming, August 17.—This city has been thrown into a fever of excitement to-day by one of the most daring and outrageous deeds ever perpetrated by that pest of the mountain region, the genus tramp. About 8 o'clock this morning three of these "tourists," one of whom was disguised as a negro, entered the residence of Hon. Homer Merrill and attempted to burglarize the premises in broad daylight and by force if necessary. Miss Emma Trempe an inmate of the house discovered the intruders, seized a revolver, and fired two shots at them, but without effect. She was then attacked by the men and cut upon the arm and throat, but not seriously. The burglars succeeded in catching a west-bound train and escaping from the town, but were arrested by the train men at Separation and brought back to Rawlins at noon. The rang was met by Under-Sheriff Erritt with a large posse of men and conducted in safety to the jail, where they were locked up to await identification. There has been a great deal of this kind of work lately, and the citizens are thoroughly aroused and very indignant.—Laramie Boomerang.

A FALSE CHARGE.

That is What J. A. Carlson Was Arrested On.

John A. Carlson, of this city, was arrested to-day by Deputy Pratt, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. At 3 p.m. he was taken before Commissioner Norrell, and pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Franks, wife of Deputy Franks, was sworn as interpreter, as the witnesses in the case could not speak English.

Mary Malmquist was the first witness and testified—I have lived at defendant's house one year; I have one child eight years old; I am defendant's sister-in-law; I have not been married; my child was born in Sweden; have known John A. Carlson, the defendant several years; I have never lived with Mr. Carlson as his wife; I am not married to him; was never sealed to him; I am not his wife; never heard anybody say I was; he is not the father of my child; I live at defendant's house because his wife is my sister, and the only relative I have here.

After some hesitation, Mr. Zane said, "I believe that is all."

Mrs. Anne Carlson, the defendant's wife was called, however, and testified—I live with my husband, John A. Carlson, in the Thirteenth Ward; my sister lives there also; I am married to Mr. Carlson; he has no other wife; he was a widower when I married him; I know he has no other wife and I don't want to testify any further.

Commissioner Norrell—The Court doesn't see any ground for holding the defendant, and he is discharged.

THE KING CASE.

The Defendant Held for Unlawful Cohabitation.

Yesterday afternoon the preliminary examination in the case of the United States vs. Byron W. King, of Bountiful, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, took place before Commissioner Norrell. The accused was represented by Le Grand Young, and desired to waive examination, but this was denied, as Attorney Zane was anxious to hear the testimony.

The defendant was charged with living with Anna and Bertha King as his wives, and some of the officials were in hopes of proving the additional offense of polygamy. The warrant in the case was issued last December, but the deputies had been unable to find the accused.

Bertha Tanner King was the first witness and testified that she was married to the defendant five years ago. She had two children, one four years and one four months old. Considerable effort was made to force the witness into making contradictory statements, but she maintained her position to be correct.

Anna King was the next witness, and said she was the defendant's legal wife, having been married to him twelve years ago. He had a wife prior to that, but she and Mr. King had separated.

John Malmquist testified that he and Mr. King had been partners, but had ceased that partnership about two years ago. He had heard Mr. King state, in 1884, that he had married Bertha.

This closed the testimony and the defendant was required to furnish bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance before the grand jury of the Third District Court.

An Infant Drowned.

"W. L.," writing from Scofield, August 18th, gives the following account of a sad casualty that occurred in Winter Quarter's Cañon, near the D. & R. G. coal mines:

"A sad fatality occurred here about 9 o'clock this morning, whereby the infant son of Mr. Samuel Coombs lost his life.

It appears that the child, who was about 14 months old, was just beginning to walk. Being left alone for a few minutes, by some means it got outside of the house to a wash tub, which contained but a little water left over from washing the day before. Standing by the tub the child lost its balance and fell face downward into it. The absence of the child caused the mother to inquire for it. One of the older children went outside to look for him, and ran in and told the mother that the child was in the tub. It was instantly taken out and every means were used to restore it to consciousness, but in vain; it was suffocated. Great sympathy is shown for the bereaved parents, as this is their second child lost by drowning. The body will be taken to Spanish Fork for interment.
