PRESIDENT'S PENSION ORDER.

Appropriation to Carry it Out Caused A Sharp Debate-Fine Display Of Politics.

Washington, April 18 .- The house today passed the last of the supply bills of the government, the general deficiency appropriation measure, after a stormy session which lasted till 8:15 in the evening. The contest was a party one over the deficiency appropriation for pensions, which the Democrats tried ineffectively to amend by incorporating as a law the recent exccutive age disability pension order. An effort was made by Mr. Moon (Tenn.) to secure a yea and nay vote on his amendment to the age disability order, but the speaker refused to recognize him for this purpose. On a pro forma motion to recommit the bill, the Democrats, angered by the speaker's refusal to recognize Mr. Moon, secured a roll call, and after the vote had been taken all further opposition ceased and the bill was passed Mr. Hitt offered his Chinese exclusion bill, introduced Saturday, as an amendment to the general deficiency bill, and it was accepted without ob-

Messrs. Cushman and Jones (Rep., Wash.) vigorously oposed a bill to ex-tend the privilege of immediate trans-portation of dutiable merchandise to various sub-ports in the customs collection district of Puget Sound, both of whom alleged that the people of the state of Washington had not asked for the proposed legislation. By a vote of 88 to 40, the rules were suspended and the bill passed. Mr. Hull presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill. The bill was criticised by Mr. Hay (Va.), because it contained legislation not enacted in either house of Con-gress. His remarks applied particularly to a provision appropriating $25,-000 for a survey and estimate of cost of a wagon road from Vaidez to Fort Egbert or Eagle on the Yukon river, Alaska, and he made a point of order against it, which the speaker overruled. On a rising vote the conference report was agreed to, 113 to 47.

The house today passed a bill providing for the relief of growers of leaf tobacco. It repeals the internal rev-enue tax and all special taxes. Under suspension of the rules a bill was passed to recognize and promote the efficiency of army chaplains. It es the grade of major to a nu of chaplains of long service. A bill was passed under suspension of the rules providing for the establishment of a supreme court for the Indian territory and for additional United States judges therein.

REFUND TO MASSACHUSETTS.

A long discussion was precipitated over a point of order against an amendment offered by Mr. Sullivan (Mass.) to refund to the state of Massachusetts $2,487,430 expenses incurred in raising volunteers during the civil war, as against $1,611,740 provided by the bill. The point of order was sustained. On appeal from this decision by Mr.

tained, 117 to 77. Hitt (III.) offered, the bill strengthening the Chinese exclusion last of the contention that the treaty of 1894 was no longer effective, but said he had not been able heretofore to prepare a proper bill. He declared it would be wise for Congress to take chances in so important a matter. The Chinaman, he said, was in possession of a mighty organization which held him almost as a chattel, an organization employing able counsel to find every crevice in the exclusion law

Mr. Williams sarcastically declared this amendment demonstrated how easy it was for the majority to do things. He congratulated the Republicans for having found that substanlegislation was a thing superior to technical rules. The bill was "a felonious assault, a lynching bee, directed against the rules of the house," but he said no Republican voice had suggested that it was not in order. Directing his remarks at Mr. Hitt, Mr. Williams said he could not understand how a Republican house could sit idly by "while a gentleman who has hereto-fore been a lawabiding citizen raised the red flag of anarchy against its rules and offered a legislative amend-ment to an appropriation bill. He concluded by saying the amendment was Mr. Underwood (Ala.) thought the support of the amendment. It was agreed to unanimously, PRESIDENT'S PENSION ORDER.

The committee then turned to the deficiency appropriation of $4,000,000 for pensions, embracing $1,500,000 to carry out the provisions of the president's recent order regarding age disability.
Mr. Underwood (Dem., Ala.) offered an amendment reducing the total appropriation to $2,500,000, and Mr. Livingston (Dem., Ga.) offered another providing that no part of the appropriation shall be paid any claimant for pension under the president's order. Another amendment by Mr. Myers (Dem., Ind.) increased the appropria-

Another amendment was offered by Mr. Moon (Dem., Tenn.) providing that persons who served 30 days or more n the service of the United States dur-reach the age of 62 years, receive $6 a month, after 70 years $12 a month.

It developed that this last amendment was a sharp move by the Democrats. Mr. Hemenway made a point of order against it because he said it. order against it because he said it changed, existing laws. Mr. Underwood promptly announced that it followed word for word the president's order, and inquired if the president was more entitled to violate existing laws than propriation as provided by the bill said the Democrats had been wandering around for 10 months for one issue in the coming campaign and they thought they had it now, but the Republicans would meet them. He inquired if there was a man who served in the Civil war and who was now 62 years of age or over, who was capable of performing more than one-half a day's manual la-bor. He charged that by the several amendments the Democrats were simply trying to play politics at the ex-pense of the old soldiers.

Mr. Williams (Dem., Miss.) said the order was another illustration of execu-tive usurpation. He emphatically delared that the order was a change of existing law and insisted that the com-missioner of pensions had committed an impeachable offense,

FOR SOLDIERS' BENEFIT.

Mr. Moon indignantly denied that he offered his amendment, for political ourposes. It was not, he said, the first time nor would it be the last, that he could protect the interests of the American soldier. His amendment, he explained, was offered solely that there may be no doubt of what the soldiers are entitled to. Mr. Moon said the president's order was illegal and unjustifiable, but, emanating from the law-making power, it would be wise and judicial, The point of order against the Moon amendment was sustained, amid derisive laughter from the Democratic

All amendments were rejected and the bill was reported to the house. Mr. Moon was recognized for a parliamentary inquiry, but moved to recommit the bill with instructions to incorporate the executive order in the "The gentleman was not recognized for that purpose," the speaker inter-rupted with some irritation.

In the meantime Mr. Payne (Rep., N. Y.) moved to commit the bill. "The speaker of the house cannot refuse to entertain the motion of the gentleman from Tennessee," Mr. Williams broke in. With some warmth the speaker re-plied: "The speaker did refuse." Mr. Payne demanded the previous question. The absence of a quorum developed on the second roll call, whereupon Speaker Cannon, in order, as he frankly said, to gain time and to insure the attendance of absent members for whom clerks were scurrying, or-dered the roll call read a third time regardless of the rule limiting the reading to twice. Finally the quorum was obtained, the motion to recommit was defeated and the bill was passed. The house committee on rules today agreed upon a rule providing four and one-half hours' debate on the statehood bill, which is to be the subject of consideration Tuesday in the house. The house committee on Indian affairs authorized a favorable report on substitute for the Lind resolution of inquiry as to the result of the investiinto indian territory matters. The substitute requests the secretary of the interior to inform the house what action, if any, had been taken upon the recommendation of Charles J. Bonaparte and Charles R. Woodruff, submitted to Congress by the president.

FRENCH CORDIAL CASES.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Decides in Favor of Importers.

New York, April 19 .- A decision has been announced by the United States circuit court of appeals in the French cordial cases argued a few weeks ago The court's ruling is in favor of the importers and if not carried to the su-preme court of the United States the poard of general appraisers will be able to decide 1,400 suspended protests and the government will have to refund about $250,000 in duties,

The issue involved in the cases is whether the clause of the reciprocity agreement with France admitting 'spirits' at a duty of $1.75 a gallon in stead of $2.25 applies to liquors and cordials. The government has contend-ed that as these articles were provided for in the tariff law in a separate para-graph from spirits they should not be included in the general term in the agreement with France.

PRINCE LUN COMES.

He Will Represent Chinese Gov. ernment at St. Louis.

San Francisco, April 18.--Prince Pu Lun, the nephew of the emperor of China, arrived last night on the Gaelic. The prince, who is to represent the Chinese government at the St. Louis fair, is accompanied by a large retinue. The prince was met at the wharf by a large delegation of local Chinese, who, with much formality, welcomed him, and escorted him to his hotel. Great preparations have been made by the Chinese colony to entertain the prince during his stay in this city, and a series of elaborate dinners and receptions have been arranged. The Chinese quarter of the city is gaily decorated with yellow bunting and Chinese and Amerian flags, and the prince's visit is being made a holiday. The prince, wearing the imperial yellow jacket and three-eyed peacock feather, was escorted to Chinatown tonight in a spectacular manner. An American brass band headed the pro-cession through the streets, playing "Red, White and Blue," and following came a mounted Chinese marshal. Then came the prince dressed in white flow-ing garments, his carriage having an escort of mounted policemen. All of the notables of the wearing costumes befitting the occasion, which were decorated with the and Stripes and the yellow triangle bearing the Chinese dragon. The procession ended with a large number of automobiles and in the latter were many Japanese residents.
