

adjourned and a larger part of the 190 prisoners brought before this body are working out their sentences in the quarries or on the roads.

Attorney General Smith on being asked what disposition was to be made of the ex-queen, said: "She is already disposed of. No advances have been made to the government on her part. She will be kept where she is."

GREENWOOD, Ky., March 27.—(One of the most daring but unsuccessful attempts at train robbery occurred at 2:30 a. m. today in the southern part of Kentucky, when six men undertook to rob southbound train No. 3, the Queen and Crescent. One of the six was killed outright, one died this morning and a third, giving the name of Miller lies here severely wounded. The other three escaped. The train reached Chattanooga today on time. The reason for this summary disposal of the train robbers is found in the fact that some tidings of their purpose had been given to the railroad or express authorities and T. R. Griffin, superintendent of police on the Southern road, had with him on the train two trusty assistants. The train had just reached the south end of tunnel No. 9, a mile north of Glenwood, when the robbers signalled it to stop. They had scarcely disclosed their purpose until Griffin and his assistants began offensive operations. In ten minutes three robbers had bitten the dust and the other flown, and the train was speeding on its way. No injury was suffered by any who were on the train.

WINNEPEG, Man., March 28.—There was a decided sensation at the close of the sitting last night, when the government announced it would adjourn the legislature on Friday until May. This means that the remedial order cannot be discussed before the adjournment. The government says this action is taken to gain time to consider the legal points involved. Prendergast, the leader of the French-Catholic party, pronounces it a scheme to force the Dominion government to take immediate action.

The separate schools warfare is to continue two months at least, as Premier Greenway has publicly announced that the legislature will adjourn on Friday till May 9th.

Premier Greenway says the remedial order is too important a matter to be dealt with precipitously by the house, and therefore deemed it wise to take ample time to become thoroughly acquainted with the whole range of the subject. The government has already submitted to eminent constitutional lawyers some of the chief points affecting the jurisdiction of the legislature regarding schools. It is thought by some local politicians that an early dissolution of the Dominion party may be one of the possible results of the adjournment of the legislature.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The President has appointed the following judges of probate of Utah: George H. Fennimore, Beaver county; Joseph Houston, Garfield county.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—A pretty eleven-year-old girl, who says her mother's name is Mrs. Lillian Riskey, has been deserted here. The girl says she came here with her mother from Salt Lake City, Utah, six weeks ago. The mother put her child to board with Mrs. Frank Goodendorn of 503 Eighth street, and for three weeks called regularly to see her. Then her visits ceased, and nothing has been heard from her since. Secretary McComb of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children has taken charge of the girl.

BOSTON, Mass., March 30.—Emma Bentley, the thirteen-year-old daughter of George Bentley of this city, died last night at the city hospital from poisoning. The fatal drug is supposed to have been contained in the coloring of candy which the girl ate last night. Samples of the candy will be analyzed and an autopsy will be held.

DEXTER, Me., March 30.—Elias K. Hale, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of Dover, shot himself in the head last night and died soon after. Worry about his old age drove him to suicide. The deed was evidently carefully planned, for when he went to his office after the noon meal he fixed his accounts and then sent his office boy to an undertaker, saying he had some business to transact with him. When the boy returned with the undertaker Mr. Hale was found lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 30.—Gov. Holcomb sent in his veto of the sugar bounty act but without avail, as the legislature promptly passed the bill over his veto.

It gives three-eighths of a cent for sugar and a small bounty on chicory. The resolution censuring Senator Stewart for his infraction of the rules yesterday was adopted. The senator was inclined to apologize for violating the rules, but insisted that the sergeant-at-arms made a brutal assault upon him.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 30.—The following message has been forwarded here by one of the several correspondents in Cuba:

"In camp, Manzanillo, March 20.—This is for the information of our friends in the United States. I would ask the American people not to believe the stories of insurgent defeat coming from government sources. They are false. We are more than holding our own. By the middle of June we will have 20,000 men in the field. We feel sure of the sympathy of all Americans.

(Signed) AMADOR EUERRA."

A passenger arriving from Havana today gives it as his opinion that the resignations of the captain general and the governors of the provinces will not be accepted by Spain.

The Cubans laugh at soldiers being sent over from Spain. They say it is almost certain that yellow fever will kill half of any number Spain may send over.

The insurgents are waiting for June, when the sugar plantations will be idle, to begin their active aggressive movements.

SACRAMENTO, March 30.—The north bound express was held up by two men four miles north of Wheatland about 2 o'clock this morning. Failing to secure anything in the express car the robbers went back and started to rob the passengers in the coach and smoker. Sheriff Bogard, of Tekama county, was on the train and opened fire on the robbers in the smoker, killing one and was killed himself by another robber. Several passengers were robbed. The dead bodies were turned over to the coroner at Marysville.

It was evidently the intention of the robbers to escape on bicycles. The body of Sheriff Bogard and that of the dead robber were taken to Marysville, where it was discovered the robber was attired in a full and complete bicycle suit, over which he had drawn a pair of overalls. In the overalls he had improvised pockets made of toweling in which were two big pistols. The dead robber is known in the vicinity of Marysville, where he had eaten several meals at a restaurant the past two weeks. He is over six feet tall and weighs over two pounds. Northcote, the fireman, has two bullets in his body, and may die.

The first intimation the engineer and fireman had of the presence of robbers on the train was when they climbed over from the blind baggage car and commanded at the point of a pistol that the train be stopped. The brakes were applied. Then the robbers caused the engineer and fireman to jump from the train, and with another robber who appeared to come from a hiding place in the roadway, compelled the fireman to request that the express car be opened. This was done, but the robbers did not find anything of value, as the safe combination was not in the hands of the messengers. The robbers carried a bag made from a leg of an old pair of overalls. As they went through the first car and smoker they made the passengers put their coin and valuables into it, the fireman being the custodian and shield behind which the robbers stood. The colored porter of the tourist sleeper, knowing that Sheriff Bogard was in the berth, called him. That heroic man was in his shoes and trousers in a minute and armed with a revolver. He crossed the platform between the sleeper and the day coach. As he entered the latter at the south door, the robbers came in at the north. The sheriff fired. His bullet dropped the man nearest him, but the second failed to reach its target. One of the robbers must have seen Bogard enter, and one jumped down and running along the side of the car, entered and shot him from the rear. The fatal wound is in the back just below the kidneys. When the robber was shot he exclaimed, "I'm done for." The other asked: "Are you killed, Bill?" and thereupon he hastily left the car telling the now thoroughly frightened trainmen and passengers not to follow. The dead robber has been identified by a night clerk at the U. S. hotel at Marysville.

SHIMONOSEKI, March 31.—Koyama Rokuueki, the young Japanese who attempted to assassinate Li Hung Chang, has been sentenced to penal servitude for life.

The armistice established by the order of the mikado extends to April 21st, but it will terminate if the peace pour parlors are broken in the meantime. According to the terms of the armistice, the movement of troops and the transportation of contraband of war by sea is forbidden. The new distribution of troops not intended to augment the armies in the field is allowed.

FRIEDERICHSHAFEN, April 1.—Since early this morning trains have been arriving here loaded with visitors from
