vened in the United States.

Extensive preparations are under way for the formal observance of the general peace movement now in progress throughout the world. Meetings will be held in the various wards in the state on May 18th, in accordance with the following call, officially issued by local officers today in conjunction with the address to be read and voted upon at meetings to be held in the United States at the time indicated by those organizations in sympathy with the universal peace demonstration of women:

OFFICIAL CALL.

To All Officers of the Woman's Re lief Society & Y. L. M. I. A .- Wishing to comply with the request made of the women of Utah by Mrs. May Wright Sewall, representing the United States on the International Peace Committee of Women, we have decided to ask you to unite in taking the initiative to call a meeting in each ward through out the State in the interest of peace and arbitration, to be held simultaneously with the International Conference of Peace Commissioners, convened a The Hague on Saturday, May 18, 1901 Appoint the meeting at such place and hour as best suits your circumstances.

Let a suitable program be prepared on the subjects mentioned, including music; and ask all of every creed and denomination who will, to join in the movement. The accompanying ad-dress should be read and voted upon at all the meetings. Our officers outside of Utah are asked to join with the people of their own states in whatever peace demonstration may be made there. Will you kindly report, at an early date, the number of people in attend-ance at all such meetings, as well as any other item of importance. Ad-dress all such communications to Mrs. E. B. Wells, Salt Lake City.

Mr. Ashbee, the London gentleman who has been talking to us about art, says Chicago has no history. Why, the making of history has been one of our specialities. Within the span of a hu-man life we have been able to exhibit to the world the most wonderful growth ever shown by any community on secth in the same length of time: Yours in the interest of Universal Peac ace, ZINA D. H. YOUNG, President, EMMELINE B. WELLS, Secretary N. W. R. S. ELMINA S. TAYLOR, ANN M. CANNON, Secretary Y. L. M. I. A.

THE ADDRESS.

One result of the Peace Conference, held at The Hague in May, 1899, was Was the organization of a court of interna-tional arbitration. Although the powrs with which this court is clothed are imited, in comparison with what many rdent advocates of its establishment lesired, its existence is the occasion or profound gratifude. of international peace and of its application to international relations, mal, organized activity must inevitably follow upon public opinion. To give opitself, and to stimulate a wider public interest in this court, in its development and in the extension of its powr, this meeting is convened.

The men and women here assembled have met because of their common conviction that the recent growth of mili-tarism is a menace to the further de-velopment of civilization; that the fre-quent evidences of national irritability, greed and so-called "Imperialism," is a menace to the further development of civilization: that the frequent evi-dences of national irritability, greed and so-called "Imperialism," which have recently been given, attest to the langers which beset existing civiliza-ion. The further evolution of humanty is retarded by the war spirit. The wars that have been going forward in Cuba, the Philippines, the Transvaal and in China arrest the serious atten-tention of mankind. They compel all thoughtful men and women everywhere a question whether the finest expression and civilization is to be found in improved methods of warfare; whether the superiority of modern over mediaeval times consists in the greater num-ber, variety and effectiveness of the weapons by whose use men slay one inother.

Assembled to consider these questions and to discuss the antagonistic principles of war and peace in the light of history, philosophy and Christian as-piration, we unite in the expression of conviction that nations, which are but aggregations of individuals, should he held to a morality at least as ex-alted as that which is demanded of individuals under the highest existing forms of civilization. The court of jusice in which differences are arbitrated by law and reason has succeeded to the duel as the approved method of set-tling individual controversies. We believe this fact to be a pledge that na-tions also may be brought to settle. under corresponding laws of justice and reason, sectional and international con-

we hold this meeting to enlighten public intelligence to stimulate the pub-lice conscience; to quicken international sympathy. We pledge ourselves to give support to the principles enunciated in the conventions passed by the conference at The Hagwe; to sustain the court of international arbitration; to endeavr to augment public respect for it; and o aid in so modifying conditions that the range of its influence and the appliation of the principles in behalf which it convenes may be extended. In issuing this address, we, American vomen, extend to the women of all other countries a sympathetic and cordial greeting. To us the universal demon-stration of women in behalf of peace, girdling the globe with a chain of meet-ings where in. in different tongues, the same sentiment will be expressed, is it-self a pledge of that ultimate international fraternity under whose influence wars and rumors of wars shall cease peace of God be established on and the the earth.

MAY WRIGHT SEWALL. (Signed.)

On behalf of American women representing the United States of America in the Women's international committee for peace and arbitration.
