

JAPANESE WOMEN WHO WILL RAISE FUNDS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Two of the busiest women in the country at the present time are Mrs. Iwahara and Mrs. Aral, the two ladies pictured above. They are now organizing a series of Red Cross fairs, to be held in various cities, for the benefit of their sick and wounded compatriots.

IN WOMAN'S WORLD.

for Silverton, Colorado, and may locate there permanently.

Miss Elsie T. Jones, a well known young lady of this city, was married at Salt Lake City this week to Mr. George Bishop.

John T. Hamilton left Monday for Butte, Montana, where he expects to spend the summer.

Quite a number of young people of Eureka are making preparations to attend the dance at the pavilion at Payson on Tuesday evening, March 15, as a special excursion will be run on that date.

The pupils of St. Joseph's school will give a grand concert at L. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening, March 16. An excellent program has been prepared, and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the library.

The minstrel show to be given by the local lodge of Elks on March 21 and 26, promises to excel anything of the kind ever given in Tintic. The sale of seats all ready are very large.

CLUB CHAT.

At the Ladies' Literary club yesterday afternoon Mrs. Elmer B. Jones had charge of the program, and took part with a review of Ellen Glasgow's "Deliverance." Mrs. C. S. Kinney gave a talk on federation matters of interest to those who anticipate attending the biennial in St. Louis, and Mrs. A. D. Melvin and Miss Margaret Robinson furnished delightful music.

The meeting of the Council of Jewish Women this week was an open one, and included in its program a reading by Mrs. Emma Mooney, a discussion of current events by Rabbi Reynolds and a piano solo by Henry Wolff.

At the meeting of the Unity club on Monday night Mrs. Fisher Harris gave a paper on "Frederick the Great, and the Growth of Prussia." Mr. Frederick Lyon discussed Lessing, Wieland and Keats, and Dr. Brodbeck gave musical selections from German composers.

The Clootier met on Tuesday with Mrs. Charles Wells, with Mrs. Edna V. Sloan as chairman. The club program was the reading of Ruskin's "Mornings in Florence."

The Woman's club met on Tuesday with Mrs. Vilate Kimball, and Mrs. C. S. Kinney gave a paper on "The Woman Who Toils."

The report that all the meetings of the coming biennial will be held in the morning and evening, leaving the afternoons free for the exposition, turns out to be not quite authentic. The afternoon programs will be as few as possible, and, generally speaking, will be brief. The business sessions will be held mornings, as May weather in St. Louis is liable to be warm.

The Missouri Federation is said to have gained largely since it was decided to hold the biennial in St. Louis.

The assembly hall chosen for the use of the seventh biennial of the General Federation is the Odeon, for the accommodation of orchestral and choral societies. It is situated on Grand street, within 10 minutes' ride from the federal hotel headquarters. The hall has remarkable acoustic properties, and is said to be one of the safest buildings in the city. Nearly 2,000 people can be seated in its ample space.

It is a little curious that, in this centennial year of the Louisiana purchase, the house built in 1807 in St. Louis by Captain Clarke, who lived in it until his death in 1838, should be torn down, and little or no notice should be taken of it. The old house, it is said, is now being removed to make way for a race track. From 1813 to 1821 Captain Clarke was territorial governor of Missouri, and for some time afterwards acted as superintendent of Indian affairs. Many noted people visited his house, and it was there that the treaty providing for the removal of the Osage Indians from Missouri to the Indian Territory was signed. The recent of a Nebraska chapter of the D. A. R. has managed to secure some valuable mementoes of the old place, including part of the mantle in Captain Clarke's room, a small cupboard used by him, and several feet of quilted scroll work in a design of leaves and grapes, made in France for a porch railing. The regent of this chapter, Mrs. J. R. Haggard, has an interesting collection of historic woods.

Mrs. Charles M. Denison, president of the General Federation, is in New York, resting after a record-breaking trip of over three months, during which time she has visited 22 states and has talked to nearly 100,000 club women. No other president of the General Federation has done so much in the way of organization as Mrs. Denison, nor is her work at an end, for she expects to visit a number of southern states before the expiration of her term next spring. It is understood that she does not desire, and will probably refuse a second term.

Efforts by patriotic societies in Massachusetts to save the famous "Dorothy Q" house in Quincy promises well. Several substantial subscriptions have been secured, and much interest is being manifested in the scheme. The amount to be raised is only $5,000. The last three successive owners of the place have held it without alteration, and the house remains almost exactly as it was before the Revolution. A great deal of valuable furniture and china remains.

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, March 6.—During the week we have been visited by five returning Elders, who have all arrived in different European countries. They arrived in Boston last Tuesday morning, and at once made boat connections for New York, where they remained until Friday, viewing as many of our main points of interest as could be seen in that limited amount of time. Elder Carl Gessel of Providence, Utah, who labored in Germany, tells some interesting news concerning some of our well known Salt Lake boys, namely, Serge Campbell, Eddie Kimball, Clarence Neelen, Charlie Pike and others. The other missionaries and their places of labor were as follows: Henry P. Kloefer of Logan, Germany; Henry L. Edwards, Wellsville, England; and Christian Hansen of Deweyville, Sweden.

Arriving on the same boat as the above Elders were Misses Margaret Thurman and Diana Beane of Provo, who have labored for nearly 20 months in English provinces doing missionary work. They went from Boston direct home, having visited New York previously.

A frequent visitor at Sunday services is Mr. John Rigdon, eldest and only living son of Sidney Rigdon. Mr. Rigdon, while not a professed member of the church, tells some interesting reminiscences of the early days and remembers distinctly crossing the plains by team in 1847. It is now some 13 years since he was last in Zion, and he is therefore very desirous of paying the Saints another visit. Mr. Rigdon is a lawyer by profession and resides in Brooklyn, where he is always pleased to see anyone from Utah.

Mr. Wesley Early has been confined to his room for a week with a slight attack of pneumonia, but has so far recovered as to enable him to return to his office. Mr. Early has been very successful with his business ventures here, and is well established on Wah street, having his offices in the Astor building.

Mrs. Early has also been ill but has recovered.

Miss Blanche Thomas, like many others of her profession, has had the misfortune of having her season's engagement cut short for lack of patronage. This has been, as everyone knows who drama, dealing with the life of David. It is a production that has cost the managers close on to $75,000, and is supposed to surpass "Ben Hur" in the matter of costumes and scenery, and in one scene 500 persons are on the stage. Mr. Eldredge is to be congratulated on being connected with a company of this standard. As an example of his business qualities, he made arrangements last week with Harper Bros., whereby they are to publish "The Shepherd King" in book form free of charge, and pay Mr. Lorimer a royalty.

Mr. Milly Pratt, brother of Viola Pratt Gillette, has a good position as bookkeeper of Klau & Erlanger's costume house on West Thirty-fourth street. These managers make all the costumes used in their productions and also execute large orders for Perley, Dillingham and others. They have just finished 250 handsome costumes for Perley's new production, "A Venetian Romance," which is to have its initial opening in New London next Thursday. One of the principal roles is to be played by Mr. Walter Percival, who played in the second "Coriolanus" company in Salt Lake and was later (then) in the "Theater" company in New York, and was later in the "Theater" company in New York, and was later in the "Theater" company in New York.

Mrs. Col. Willard Young has been in poor health for some time and Tuesday her condition became such that an operation was decided on. It was learned today that Mrs. Young is entirely out of danger and that she is rapidly recovering from the disease that threatened her system. The best wishes of the colony are with her for a speedy recovery.

A number of young Utahns formed a party at the Lyric theater last evening to witness Wilton Luckaye's performance of "The Pit." The party was composed of the following: Misses Emma Lucy Gates, Hattie Thatcher, Arta Banta and Bertha Crawford and Messrs. Clyde Squires, George Barratt, Irving Snow and Cecil Gates.

Mr. George L. Savage arrived in Gotham recently from Boston, where he had spent a portion of his time. His time here was mostly divided between the different large wholesale and jobbing houses and visiting with his sisters. Before leaving for the west he found time to take a run up to West Point for a short stay with his friend, Rupert Dunford, one of Utah's young leaders now studying at that institution. While in town Mr. Savage was registered at the Grand hotel.

SPRING MILLINERY OPENING

Monday, March 14, 1904.

Our millinery department will present a perfect beauty show of the very newest creations and most novel ideas from Paris and our domestic markets.

Our pattern hats, in fact our entire showing, is more distinguished this season by evident style and exclusiveness. You can hardly have a clear idea of fashions present trend without seeing the exhibit.

See those hats, make your selections before serious inroads are made in the now perfect assortment.

$35-Walker's Suits For Women-$35

Have you seen the Walker suits at $35.00? They're the most surprising regular values Salt Lake has ever known. We've scoured the markets "everywhere" to get them together. It's an idea of ours to make them an all season special, and not a feature of a day or week.

Here's the point: A $35.00 suit of,

Perfect Model

Best Materials

Best Workmanship

Best Style Ideas

$40.00 to $45.00 values.

We want to make these famous; we want to make it plain that you should come to Walkers for your suit needs; we want you to talk about them. And choosing's not confined to one or one dozen, but to many dozens.

Come Monday and all the season and make their acquaintance.

DRESS GOODS.

The dress goods section is really an exhibition of the very newest weaves, styles and colors in Silks and Dress Goods.

It offers an opportunity for choosing from a stock that embraces the "absolutely correct."
