AMERICAN. SPEECH OF VICE PRESIDENT HENDRICKS.

NEW GOLD MINES ON SNAME

TWELVE MORE HORSE THIEVEN HUNG IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

RIVER, OREGON.

Speech of the Vice-President. BOSTON, 25.-Vice-President Hen- nevs result in Indiana last fall and express-ing the opinion that since the trouble whatever they may be, I said at once, there must be reform in this office. My ferent, did step down and out. [Applause.] The "hickory broom" of Jackson, that represented democratic reform, was the sentiment and emblem of the reform that I sought to bring about, and instead of the men who had earnest fellows that were willing to do the work; so that when I required that the work done at each desk should be 25 per cent, more than it had been before, these men came in and took their share readily and cheerfully and cordially, and when I left that office nearly four years afterward, it was only four months be-imed in the delivery of patents to men that had bought land. [Applause.] from four years it came down to four months, and that was as close as it was practicable to bring the work.

I thought was reform. I want to tell you another thing, gentlemen. when you men that give your votes at elections and pay your money to the taxgatherer want to understand the articular point at which civil service an be brought about, I will tell you it is not with the President in detail. is not with the Secretaries in detail it is with the bureau officer that has do afrectly with the work and with clerks who perform the work Applause. I am not personally very uch acquainted with the bureau of-ers employed by the secretaries at Vashington. I know some of them i the Interior Department. I know he Commissioner of the Land Office. know the Commissioner of Inlian Affairs. I know by reputation an dian Affairs. I know by reputation an excellent gentleman who is in the office of patents. I believe they, by their own judgment and free will, will bring about civil service reform in the departments. [Applause.] I think I am safe in saying that I know they have already taken steps in that direction and the people will not be sold out by them. [Applause.] That is my own in story about civil service reform, it may be of no account, but it is mine, applause.], and one that will stand inspection whenever and wherever it shall be; and it will fill all the bureaus in Washington City with capable men Washington City with capable men the head and tell them and hold hem responsible; it will bring about citain and prompt reform. I think we are going through all right. It was a good while that the Democrats were kept out a quarter of a century. The sentiment of the country had been enforced with ruel proscription such as I never adocated toward the opposite party, I snow there are honest men among them and I would not to-day, if I could do , take the charge of this entire Govnment away from the other side mey pay their taxes; they contribute the support of the country; they cip to fight its battles when horrist war comes upon us, and it is but fair that they should share in its honors. But it is not fair, and never has been tair, that they should grasp them all, and say to the young men of the Democracy: "You are not to be trusted; ou shall not share in them." [Ap-He closed by saying that, after the next national election, in which he proposed to have no personal interest peries of "head of the ticket next time"], he wanted to come back and neet the Bay State Club bringing good ews from Indiana and Massachusetts.

On Ora, 25.—The new gold discovery on Snake River, Oregon, is believed to be genuine. Telegrams follow each other fast into the Union Pacific headparters augmenting the wonder and importance of the new find. Doubts are many and expressions free that 'lis another Cour d'Alene boom. A a formed by the junction of the Powpoint on the railway is at Durkee or Baker City, thirty miles. A wagon road runs within eight miles of the scene. The new camp is known as Pine Valley. Parties are pouring in at the rate of fifty a day. The mining consists of placer and quartz. Old prospectors pronounce it a great discov-

day and presented a memorial in regard to the undervaluations and reappraisements of which the following appointed a committee to proceed to Washington and state their objections to the proceedings of the New York ork Custom House in relation to undervaluations and reappraisements, and as the undersigned consider that the above committee do not represent the class of merchants who suffer nost by the system of undervaluation, but, on the contrary, is mainly com-posed of gentlemen who are the representatives here of foreign firms, and not as owners of the merchandise they import, therefore, we respectfully call your attention to this fact, and the unsigned as importers of merchandise actually purchased in open markets abroad, and invoiced at the prices of purchase, desire to be heard in our own behalf. The Property the 1st of July proximo, may continue to be enjoyed by citizens and subjects of the two countries engaged in fishing operations throughout the season of 1885. This agreement proceeds from the mutual good will of the two govrnments, and has been reached solely o avoid all misunderstanding anlifficulties which might otherwise arise from the abrupt termination of the dshing in 1885 in the midst of the

The lumunity which is accorded by this agreement to vessels belonging to citizens of the United States engaged in fishing in British-American waters will likewise be extended to British vessels and subjects engaged in dshing in the waters of the United States. The regotiations leading up to this agreement began March 12 last, and were conducted by Mr. West, British Minister, and Secretary Bayard. The principal points made in the correspondence were that a spirit of international amity and good neighborhood prevailed between the countries involved, and that this should not be broken by the termination of rela-tions in the middle of the fishing seaon, whereby the vessels of either country fishing in the waters of the other would be liable to be warned off, in compliance, and vessels would be subjected to loss, and in case of refusal would be liable to seizure.

Twelve More Hung. Gainesville, P-xas, 25. - Information has reached here of another hang-ing of horse thieves in Indian Territory, they being a part of the same gang with those that were hanged about two weeks ago. Some officers from Burlington, with a posse of citizens and officers from Indian Territory, determined to rid themselves of these horse thieves, whose depredations have been greater and more daring tills last spring and summer than over befere. When three of them were over taken and hanged a few days ago, the citizens determined not to stop annual the work was completed. The onlivers and a posse of citizens continued on the trail and overtook eight more of the gang on Washita river, all of whom were hung. Continuing their search the officers found four more of th gang on Mud creek, who also suffered the same fate. The names of the men langed were not given. The above statements are corroborated by Chas. Edsail, who has just returned from a trip of several weeks' duration in Indian Territory. The scene of the handing is a long distance from here, so that the names of the thieves, particulars of the chase and the final tragic outome can only be obtained from the officers, who are now believed to be on heir return. They will probably cross the Colorado river and come into Texas o-morrow at some point near here.
