

HEARST DRAWS OUT SEVERAL MEN

Judge J. P. Elkin of Pennsylvania Supreme Court Makes a Statement.

HAD MONEY FROM ARCHBOLD.

But Never for Any Improper Purpose—Ex-Gov. Stone Has Something to Say.

Pittsburg, Oct. 25.—Justice John P. Elkin of the Pennsylvania supreme court, whose name was introduced by William R. Hearst in the alleged Standard Oil correspondence read by the editor at a meeting in New York last night, denied today that he had ever received money for improper purposes from John Archbold, or ever attempted to influence legislation in behalf of the Standard Oil company. Justice Elkin came here today from his home at Indiana, Pa., to resume his work with the supreme court, which is in session here.

The letters read by Editor Hearst purporting to be from Mr. Archbold refer to two remittances within six weeks to Mr. Elkin, then attorney-general of the state, during the early part of 1900, one for $10,000 and the other for $5,000.

Justice Elkin said that since reading the correspondence he had no had opportunity to go over his files and other data to determine whether the facts stated in the Archbold correspondence were correct.

"You may say for me, however," he added, "that I never received from Archbold, directly or indirectly, money for any improper purposes. Neither have I ever made any attempt to influence legislation in the interest of the Standard Oil company."

Former Gov. William Stone, whom Hearst charged with being influenced by Standard Oil officials in the appointment of judges, made this statement tonight:

"Mr. Hearst seems to think that because a lawyer understands the oil and gas laws of Pennsylvania he is disqualified to be a judge. That rule would make only those eligible who did not understand laws relating to oil and gas, and as every lawyer in Pennsylvania in practice does understand the laws relating to oil and gas, Mr. Hearst's rule would compel us to go into some other state for judges."

"The drafts to Mr. Elkin, if sent to him, were sent while he was either chairman of the state Republican committee or a member of the finance committee. It was not improper for him to receive contributions for campaign expenses."

"The judges of Pennsylvania have the confidence of the people. They have never been charged with partiality to corporations, nor can they be so charged justly."

"I have no recollection of receiving the letters from Mr. Archbold. I did not appoint Henderson. I did appoint Judge Morrison because of my knowledge of his fitness for the bench."

DENY KNOWLEDGE OF LETTERS.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Judge J. J. Henderson, of the supreme court, and Judge W. A. Morrison of the superior court of Pennsylvania, today denied any knowledge of the letters purporting to have been written by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company to Gov. Stone, bearing upon their appointments. Judge Henderson said:

"I never spoke to John D. Archbold in my life. I never had any business relations with him. I know of no reason why he should request my appointment to the superior court bench. The first intimation I had of any such letter as that read by Mr. Hearst was when I saw it in a newspaper. I did not know Mr. Archbold had communicated with Gov. Stone on the subject, nor do I know of any influence having been brought to bear upon Mr. Archbold to cause him to make the communication."

Judge Morrison said: "I do not think I have seen Mr. Archbold or had any communication with him in 40 years, and I did not know that he had written any such letter to Gov. Stone. I knew him in the early days of the oil business in Crawford and Seneca counties, but I do not know what influenced him to write such a letter as that read by Mr. Hearst."

GENERAL ELECTION FOR CANADIAN PARLIAMENT

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 25.—A heavy rain fell all day Sunday and is still falling, accompanied by a cold north wind, making conditions for the very worst in western Canada for the polling of votes today in the general election for the members of the commons at Ottawa. Some roads are impassable, depriving many farmers of an opportunity to vote.

The contest has been waged with unusual bitterness. The Liberal government has been attacked for granting timber limits and grazing leases in the west to favorites, or to those having a "pull," but the government is relying on being sustained on its railway policy, in the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from eastern Canada to the Pacific coast and the building of a railway to Hudson Bay.

There are 26 seats at stake of the great lakes, Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia probably will divide their representations between the two parties, but Saskatchewan's 10 seats will likely go solidly for the government. Candidate Root, who is running in Reddock, Alberta, is a cousin of United States Secretary of State Root. Many hundreds of former citizens of the United States will cast their first votes as British subjects and their influence will likely be felt against the government candidates in several constituencies.

The contest in Winnipeg and Manitoba is most bitter. The present Roblin government is warmly opposing the return to Laurier to power, and several hundred provincial constables were sworn in Saturday night to guard the polls. At the same time the Dominion government sent a large body of constables out to protect the booths, claiming that the Manitoba government can exercise no authority at the polls this election.

D. Cameron, the millionaire lumberman, is the government candidate in Winnipeg.

IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 25.—Intense interest in the Canadian general elections was manifested throughout New Brunswick.

IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Halifax, Oct. 25.—Nova Scotia, the Liberal stronghold, was the scene today of a spirited ballot contest.

IN QUEBEC.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 25.—Bright weather brought voters to the polls early in Quebec in larger numbers than expected.

TEMPORARY INSANITY PLEA OF CAPT. HAINS

New York, Oct. 25.—Temporary insanity will be the defense of Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., U. S. A., who killed William E. Annis at the Bayview yacht club landing last August.

In the supreme court at Flushing, L. I., today, Judge Garretson overruled the demurrer entered by attorneys for the defense in the case of T. Jenkins Hains, brother of the captain, which set up the claim that the indictment was defective in that it charged Jenkins Hains as both principal and accessory before the fact. Jenkins Hains was then called to the bar and pleaded to the indictment not guilty.

John F. McIntyre of counsel for the defense entered a plea of not guilty for Capt. Hains on the ground that at the time of the killing of Annis, Capt. Hains was insane.

Dist. Atty. Darrin asked that the court fix a date for the trial. This Judge Garretson said he preferred to leave to the judge who would preside at the November term of court.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS TRIAL OF C. W. MORSE

New York, Oct. 25.—A report that Mrs. Katharine Delmonico-Baker was to be called as a witness in the trial of Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis attracted an unusually large attendance to that trial today.

The first witness taken up was a check for $125,000 drawn by Mr. Morse on Oct. 16. It was testified by E. B. Wire, former cashier of the National Bank of North America, that Mr. Curtis told him on October 13 last, just before the panic, that the bank was all loaned up with little call money outstanding. On Oct. 5 he said, Otto Helme and Company tried to borrow $125,000 from the bank and failed to get it. On Oct. 16, F. Augustus Helme called to see Morse and later a check for $125,000, drawn by Mr. Morse and cashed at the American National bank came to the National Bank of North America. Mr. Morse then had a balance of between $5,000 and $4,000 in the bank. Mr. Wire repeated the overdraft to Mr. Morse's secretary.

It came out on examination that Mr. Morse kept a large amount of collateral in the loan department of the National Bank of North America, and other directors. The total value on Oct. 20 of this collateral, the list of which was read to the jury by Mr. Oleott, was $701,140. On the same day Mr. Morse owed the bank $500,000.

The collateral named consisted principally of United Copper stock, American Ice collateral 4 per cent. trust bonds of the Consolidated Steamship company, and also some Mexican coal stocks and shares in New York and Maine banks.

Mr. Wire said he signed the reports for the bank to the controller of the treasury, believing they were correct and true and that he did not know that Mr. Curtis knew any more about them than he did.

Counsel for Mr. Curtis asked if W. F. Havemeyer, former president of the bank, did not have loans in the bank in the name of J. A. Smith, his stenographer. The question was ruled out.

MANILA'S HEALTH.

So Greatly Improved That Sailors Are Granted Shore Leave.

Manila, Oct. 25.—Following an examination of conditions in Manila by a special medical board which has been dealing with the cholera situation, Rear Admiral G. B. Harbo, commanding the cruiser squadron, today for the first time in many weeks, granted the men of the warships shore liberty. The sailors and marines are forbidden to enter the shacks of the natives, instructed to avoid the Tondo district where the epidemic has created the greatest ravages and warned to take the precautions about food and drink usual under such circumstances. Hundreds of sailors are ashore today under the new regulations.

The dragnet of the board of health landed but one cholera suspect today. There is general confidence that the sailors are in no danger of contracting the plague as long as they exercise the ordinary precautions.

The cruiser Galveston carried off the honors in the recent target practice of the cruiser squadron.

TENNESSEE FACES SERIOUS PROBLEM

Investigation of Rankin Murder Night Rider Depredations Begins Today.

THE MILITIA IS CALLED OUT

Adjoining Counties Are Drawn On for Poses of Picked Men to Aid Them.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 25.—What may happen this week as a result of the investigation of night rider depredations in the northwestern section of this state is a matter of conjecture. Tomorrow, with the convening of the circuit court for Ohio county in special session at Union City, formally to investigate the death of Quentin Rankin, who was killed by a night rider band in the vicinity of Reelfoot lake Monday night last, the section will be under complete military domination. Five companies of the state national guard will be at the disposal of Col. Tatom. To aid the militia, the adjoining counties have been drawn on for posses of picked men.

In the Reelfoot lake district the lake itself is the source of contention. It was asserted by those living in the vicinity that it was their right to ply their vocation as fishermen in the water without molestation, while the owner of the land upon which it is situated took an opposite view. In the courts the latter, the Western Tension Land company, of which Capt. Rankin and Col. R. Z. Taylor of Trenton were the organizers and are largely interested, were upheld.

Then followed night rider warnings, threatening death to those who opposed the wishes of the band. It was upon the first visit in many months to the lake region that Capt. Rankin was killed. Of a number of night riders, 10 are being held, and it is promised that when the grand jury is convened tomorrow sufficient evidence will be furnished to secure the indictment of every member of the night riders organization. The sessions of the court will be under military protection.

MANY MORE PRISONERS.

Camp Nemo, Reelfoot Lake, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Forty-four more prisoners, including two women, were brought in today as the result of the murder at Log last week of Capt. Quentin Rankin by masked night riders. In addition seven others, including one woman, were arrested by the troops, but paroled. Among those seized are William Pratt, hotel keeper at Samburg; J. D. F. Carpenter, United States attorney, who, Col. Taylor charged, wrote letters to Taylor and Rankin which were instrumental in carrying them on the fatal trip to Walnut Log; William Brewer, a farmer, his wife and son. No charges against any of the arrested ones have been made public. Aside from the arrests today passed quietly with the troops in the disturbed region.

LITERATURE PROPAGANDA.

Endeavor in Germany to Stimulate The Reading of Better Books.

Consul Frank S. Hannah of Magdeburg, calls attention to a new plan just now being tried in Germany to create a greater interest in the reading of good literature among a class of people that is not up to the point of the highest appreciation of good books. He states that the plan in detail is as follows:

"Circular matter is sent to the different homes explaining the plan, etc., after which a messenger is sent with the first book, which in every case is a thrilling novel, calculator, dictionary, or other useful book, and is to be returned for one week. The weekly rate of 10 pfennigs is the entire cost to the reader and includes the loan of the book, the bringing and taking away. The character of the books improves with each week's issue, and through this means they hope to improve the taste of the reader until he has the desire for only the best literature. The books are attractive in form, well printed on good paper and at the end of each week hygienically disinfected and recovered before being given out again. The books are in no case sold and remain the property of the donor, paying nothing for them. The subscription can be commenced or stopped at any time without any further obligation upon the reader."

WOUNDED HEART SEWN UP.

An astounding surgical operation is reported by Prof. Sultan in the German Medical Weekly. The heart of a person who attempted suicide and fired a bullet into it was taken out and sewn up and the patient discharged from hospital six weeks later absolutely cured.

Prof. Sultan gives the following account of the operation, which is believed to be without parallel.

"On June 23 last the patient, a cabinet-maker, 38 years old, fired at his heart with a small-caliber revolver. Examination showed a small powder-black, erect hole in the heart through which hardly any blood issued. Late in the evening of the second day, thirty hours after the shooting we decided to operate, and made an incision in the sternum."

"As soon as the cardiac sac was opened a great quantity of dark blood oozed forth. The heart, lying quite free for its entire base, was raised and turned up. Upon the frontal side appeared only a small extravasation the size of a lentil, but as soon as the heart was turned toward the right there appeared a small wound with ragged edges about half a centimeter in diameter. With three stitches of fine silk thread the edges of the wound were neatly joined, while for safety's sake another seam was made at the extravasation."

"To hold the strongly beating heart while sewing was in progress required considerable force. Every time the heart was turned to the right in order to make a stitch the pulse was diminished until it was scarcely audible, but when the heart was turned round the beats again became normal. After all the blood had been drained from the chest the entrance hole of the bullet became visible, and it was immediately closed by catgut. When the chest incision had been repaired breathing and pulse became directly normal."—Berlin Correspondence London Mail.

BRYAN'S MAIL ENORMOUS.

Popular Subscription Plan of Collecting Campaign Funds Is Responsible.

The "popular subscription" plan of campaign adopted by the Democrats has swelled Mr. Bryan's mail, which was very large before the campaign contributions began to come in, to enormous size. Wagon loads of it are received every day at Lincoln, Neb., headquarters of the campaign.

A small percentage of the letters addressed to the nominee for president reach his desk. Not being counted take care of one-fourth of the mail that is received by the Bryans every day.

Mr. Bryan's brother, Charles, is the man upon whom falls the task of taking care of the great portion of the letters. All of William N. Bryan's mail goes first to his newspaper office, where it is sorted and where the greater portion of it is answered. Mail

FROM PARIS COMES THE PIERROT RUFF.

Scarcely any face that these gay little neck ruffs do not make more pleasant and alluring, and the pretty affairs are so easy to fashion that many women have a Pierrot ruff to complete every frock. The ruff illustrated is of closely pleated moire ribbon, three layers of the pleating being used to give sufficient roundness. Chiffon, crepe de soie and soft satins are also used, and in delicate evening colors ruffs of the airy fabrics are not only particularly captivating, but over bare throats or thin lace yokes they afford a very practical protection against theater drafts and the like. The typical Paris ruff has a pert bow of wide, soft ribbon, which is worn just back of one ear with ends falling down the back.

date deserves the attention of the candidate himself is sent to Fairview, and there, in addition to Mr. Rose, Bryan's confidential secretary, a force of stenographers is kept at work answering letters and acknowledging the receipt of campaign money.

IMPORTANT.

There was an amusing incident in connection with a wedding in Philadelphia in June last. About seven o'clock in the morning of the wedding day a messenger rang the bell at the home of the bride-elect and handed out a special delivery letter.

This was addressed to the best man, a Bostonian, who had come to second his best friend in the ceremony, and was, with several others, the guest of the bride's parents.

The best man was still fast asleep, but he was promptly awakened on the supposition that the special delivery missive must contain something of importance. And it did. On opening the envelope, the recipient was astonished to find a sheet of letter paper with a large needle, of the sort men always choose when emergency compels them to sew, thrust through it, and a foot of black thread doubled and trailing in a loose tangle down the page. On the letter paper was this hastily scribbled note:

"Dear Brother: Mother remembered there was a button off your dress coat. It is in your waistcoat right-hand pocket. Sew it on."

Later four bridesmaids gleefully assisted in making the repairs, and this telegram was sent to mother:

"Don't worry. Button sewed on."—[Harper's Magazine.]

Poor blood circulation anywhere in the body causes ill health, and the congested blood in the small capillaries causes pressure on the thousands of little nerves, thereby causing an ache or pain.

Just think how ridiculous it seems to take cures when massage with the Arnold Massage Vibrator will immediately relieve an ache or pain in a natural way—it makes perfect blood circulation.

The Arnold Massage Vibrator perfectly takes the place of drugs and medicines in successfully treating all the common family ailments. It is particularly effective for children, whose little stomachs cannot stand drugs without permanent harm.

The Arnold Massage Vibrator also has a wonderful effect in beautifying the complexion, because it exercises the skin to perfect health, rubs out all disfiguring wrinkles, cleanses and closes up unsightly pores, thus giving that perfect complexion which makes even irregular features wonderfully attractive.

It assures a perfect figure by removing superfluous fat, exercising away the double chin or over-stoutness anywhere, for superfluous fat is unnatural and by building up the fire into graceful curves by filling all hollow angles, for over-thinness is also unnatural.

The Arnold Massage Vibrator has really become a household necessity where health, beauty and joyous spirits are estimated at their true worth. Any one anywhere, can use one, for it can be run by dry batteries if you haven't the electric light in your home.
