

often unworthy descendants. For his military victories the Duke of Marlborough was granted a perpetual pension of £20,000. The taxpayers built him a grand palace and purchased an estate for him at a cost of over $1,240,000.

ancestral valour they appear small compared to the extent to which the "National cow" has been milked by descendants of ill-fated royal offspring who are now numbered among the shining lights of the British aristocracy.

before coming to the throne, drew $28,670,000 from the treasury. Then the Queen's eldest daughter married in 1853 the Crown Prince of Germany who is based to one of the wealthiest families in Europe, a kind, generous government settled an annuity of $40,000 on her.

AMERICAN AUTOIST SENTENCED TO JAIL IN PARIS.

The above photograph is an excellent likeness of Elliott Fitch Shepard, son of the late Col. Elliott Fitch Shepard of New York, and a grandson of the late William H. Vanderbilt, who was sentenced to three months in jail in the Ninth Correctional Tribunal of the Seine, for running down and killing little Madeline Marduel with his motor car at St. Ouen last April 24.

After a conference with his counsel, Maître Anquetin, Mr. Shepard decided to take an appeal to another court and under the French procedure this had the effect of giving his sentence a temporary suspension.

Mr. Shepard expressed the deepest regret for the fatal accident, but contended that in the absence of any criminal intent the jail sentence was not warranted by the evidence.

The counsel for the prosecution insisted that the court make an example of Mr. Shepard. He said that wealthy Americans apparently labor under the impression that they can come to France and run over peasants as if they were mere poultry.

for three lives. The pensions cease with them, but they have already cost the nation $2,445,000. Most of these recipients are descendants of royal blood.

Lord Raglan in 1855 received a pension of $10,000 a year for self and successor for services in the Crimean war. The present Lord is the last holder of the title to receive the pension which thus far totals over $500,000.

Another descendant of an illegitimate child of the "merry monarch" is the present Duke of St. Albans. The family have drawn a pension of $1,000 a year since 1684.

ROYALTY COMES HIGH. Royalty costs a great deal more than is generally known. During the 62 years of her reign Queen Victoria received the enormous sum of $133,700,000.

MILIONS FOR USELESS MONARCHS. The bare cost of the monarchs alone thus amounts to something between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 per annum.

The 20 monarchs between them own 115 royal palaces, which, together with the three dozen palaces owned by the Kaiser as king of Prussia, make a total of 148 palaces, dotted all over Germany.

WHAT KING DRAWS. The King gets $2,820,000 a year. The Prince and Princess of Wales between them are officially credited with a beggarly $150,000 a year, but they really get much more than that.

HOTBEDS OF SCANDAL. The scandals connected with the Saxe-Coburg family, which culminated in the flight of the wife of the present king, are too fresh in the public memory to need repetition.
