

in the principality are writing to those brethren for assistance. But they have no funds now at their command. They would be glad to respond to the calls for help if it was only in their power to do so.

Now, there is a way by which the cries of the poor Saints in Wales can be responded to with some degree of satisfaction. Those who have been assisted to emigrate and are now in Utah, enjoying the blessings of home, friends and a good degree of creature comforts can commence to repay the means advanced to them. They are under obligations to the P. E. Fund to do this as soon as possible and consistent. The amounts thus repaid can be used again for the benefit of the Welsh Saints still remaining in their native land, and the good work can be continued until all who wish to come may be liberated.

In order that this may be accomplished, President Taylor has authorized Brothers Morris and Evans to collect from the Welsh Saints now in Utah, who have been assisted from the Fund, the amounts which they owe, and the President of the P. E. Fund Company, Elder Albert Carrington has also given permission for the use of this means by these brethren for the benefit of the poor Saints still in Wales.

Now the question is, will those who have been assisted show their gratitude for deliverance, their sympathy for their suffering countrymen, and their fidelity to their written obligations by commencing to pay what they owe? It is not expected that many of them will be able immediately to settle their accounts in full. But most, if not all of them, can do something towards it, and every dollar will help. Now is the time to begin. The brethren entrusted with this important matter should have the funds in their hands before the emigration season opens, so that they may be able to perfect their plans and make the needful arrangements with the office at Liverpool for the emigration of those who can be helped, as well as to give due notice to the individuals who are to be assisted.

This is a matter that will recommend itself to the attention of all the Welsh Saints who have gathered to Zion, and, we should think, would not require much urging. Still the brethren in authority in the various settlements might be kind enough to bring it to the notice of the people, that the object may be accomplished in due season.

While on this subject, we will take occasion to suggest to persons of other nationalities who have been generously aided to emigrate by means of the P. E. Fund, that many of them are still indebted to that Fund for the means of their deliverance, and that it is their duty to God and the scattered poor of Israel, and consistent with common business honor, to settle as soon as possible. The failure of crops and the general depression of trade in England make a heavy pressure on the working classes, and cause the Saints in Great Britain to cry piteously for aid to emigrate. If those who are indebted to the Fund will pay or partially pay what they owe, many deserving persons can be helped during the coming season. He that is in debt is in bondage. No man is truly free if he owes anything to the P. E. Fund. Come friends, make an effort to free yourselves from your financial obligations, and at the same time help to give freedom from poverty and Babylon to your relatives acquaintances and co-religionists now suffering in the Old World.

Local and Other Matters

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 30.

Rise in Meats.—Since the last cold spell of weather, beef and pork have advanced 2 cents to the pound, in the local market. The serious losses experienced the past season among cattle, and the death of animals now, from cold and starvation, are beginning to be felt.

Territorial School Report.—The report of the Territorial Superintendent of District Schools was presented to the Legislature this afternoon. It is a comprehensive, interesting and valuable document, and will, no doubt, meet the approval of the Assembly.

Suicide in Ogden.—Olof Hallstrom, a tailor of Ogden, cut his throat with a razor, last Wednesday night, in his shop. He was found in the rear of his premises, Thursday morning, covered with blood, two gashes in his neck, and an old razor blade lying near his body. At an inquest held 10.30 a.m. the same day, the verdict was that the unfortunate man came to his death by a razor in his own hand, while in a fit of temporary insanity, caused by deep drinking. He was 42 years of age, a Swede by birth, and had been a resident of Ogden for about three years. When last seen alive, about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, he was in an intoxicated condition.

We learn the above from the Junction.

A Music-teacher Wanted.—Our correspondent "Bonus," of Minersville, Beaver County, in a communication published last evening, says:

"There is one thing we need badly that would be of great benefit and pleasure to our little community, and that is a good musical instructor. We have instruments, but no one to play or teach how to play them, and we have plenty of natural musical talent that ought to be under cultivation. Won't some one volunteer us a visit, to give us a start? Your correspondent would take pleasure in getting up a class, or making any other necessary arrangements for any one."

Here is a good chance for at least one of the many impecunious professors of music, who eke out a precarious existence in this community. We have before spoken of this matter. Every inducement is now offered a musician to go south to Minersville, where a music teacher is in demand, and will not only better his own situation, but benefit the people who desire his services. Any one who wishes to accept the invitation of "Bonus" may obtain his address at this office.

In Hot Water Again.—By telegram we learn that Chas. S. King, the local editor of an obscure and indecent sheet, published in Ogden City, was the victim of a severe chastisement, last evening, at the hands of a man named L. D. Swigart, whose wife had been insulted by an article that appeared in King's paper reflecting upon her character. The two parties met at the depot, when Swigart presented a document to King, demanding that he should publish it. This the latter refused to do, whereupon the enraged husband knocked him down and drew a revolver, but King luckily recovering his feet, fled for protection behind a newsstand, near by, and escaped.

King is the same person who was tarred and feathered the other night. Ogden, it seems, is too tropical, just yet, for such plants to flourish.

The Junction account of the transaction, which we have received since writing the above, says that King had promised to publish an article retracting what he had printed previously, if Swigart would write it, but when presented with it, refused to do so unless some parts were stricken out. Swigart then demanded it back, and struck King to the earth. Swigart denies drawing his revolver, but says it fell out and he merely recovered. He complained on himself. The trial was to take place this morning.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 31.

Snowville Items.—A correspondent at Snowville, Box Elder Co., writes encouragingly of things in that section. The health of the people was good; the local institutions were in good working order, consisting of a Relief Society, a Young Ladies Association, a Primary, two Sabbath Schools, store, post office, etc. The country was fast filling up with good reliable men and their families, and good order prevailed generally. Weather was cold, snow plentiful, but the range was partially bare and stock was doing pretty well. The letter was dated the 29th inst.

Eating Concentrated Lye.—The following is from the latest copy of the Silver Reef Miner.

"On Monday last, the 14 months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bond picked up a chunk of concentrated lye, which had dropped from a shelf in the kitchen, and ate it. The baby's cries soon attracted the mother's attention, and when it was discovered what the little one had been eating, medical assistance was immediately summoned. Dr. Mantor responded, and administered vinegar, oil and emetics, with good effect, all the lye being vomited from the stomach before it had time to dissolve. The little one is getting along nicely now, with every promise of perfect recovery. The roof of its mouth is badly burned, but the doctor thinks the throat and stomach are uninjured. A few days previous to this accident, the little child of Mr. and Mrs. T. Cutts picked up and ate a piece of the same stuff. Remedies were administered in time to prevent the lye from dissolving in the little one's stomach, and it is now in a fair way of recovery.

Home Inventions.—Brother Joseph Burrows, of Huntsville, Weber County, called in this morning to exhibit an invention of his own in the form of a fire-lighter, one of the safest and surest things of the kind ever brought to light. It is a combustible composition, manufactured by himself, easy of ignition and perfectly safe and satisfactory in its effects. A small piece of the material is put into the stove and lighted, and the fuel placed upon it. No ordinary kindling is needed, as the flame will readily take hold of coal, and in few seconds create a good fire. The kindler does not snap nor explode like some others, but burns with a quiet, steady blaze, and, as said, is perfectly harmless. Another thing in its favor, is its cheapness. A package of the commodity costs but 20 cents, and is sufficient to kindle from 80 to 100 fires. Brother Burrows is making arrangements to place it upon the market. He is also the inventor of a mouse-exPELLER, a non-poisonous powder, inoffensive to the human inhabitants of a dwelling, but of so disagreeable an odor to mice, that they will shun it and leave the house where-in it is placed. A liquid bed-bug exterminator is also one of his inventions. All are warranted to give satisfaction.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, Feb. 2.

Seventies Notice.

The Presidents and Members of the Seventies will please take notice, that their regular monthly meeting will be held at the Council House, on Wednesday next, the 4th inst., at half past six o'clock p. m.

JOSEPH YOUNG, Sen.,

JOHN VAN COTT,

ROBERT CAMPBELL, Clerk.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 2d, 1880.

Maniac Dead.—Hans Jensen, the man whom we mentioned as having gone mad in Brigham City, bitten his tongue into shreds and torn out some of his teeth, died on Saturday night.

Wanted.—The Millennial Star of Jan. 12 has the following: Wanted. The address of Richard Wilson, who emigrated to Utah from Stafford about nine years ago. Address John Matthews, Woodhouse, Wern, Salop.

More Settlers Wanted.—A communication from St. Charles, Bear Lake, written by Brother A. Gallo-way, states that more settlers are wanted in Montpelier and Bennington, two of the most desirable localities in that region. Persons in search of homes, who design going into the country, should take note of such matters. In these places they will not only better their condition, but be welcomed by the settlers already stationed there.

"Sorcerer" Postponed.—Owing to the severe indisposition of the two ladies who were to take the leading characters in the opera of the "Sorcerer," the performance advertised to commence on Friday the 6th inst. will be postponed until the first week in March. In the meantime, rehearsals of the other parts will be continued until the time of presentation, and time for the orchestra to more completely master the splendid instrumental arrangement will be given.

Logan "Leader" Lines.—The Smithfield Co-operative Mercantile Institution was organized 10 years ago, with a capital of $800. Up to Jan. 20th of this year the establishment had paid to its shareholders in dividends, half of which was retained as capital stock, $19,165.

Brother Hopkin Matthews, of Providence has been confined to his home for two months past by an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. The disease was very severe and for a time fears were entertained that it would prove fatal; but we are glad to state that the aged gentleman is improving in health, and will probably before long be around again among his many friends.

On Wednesday afternoon last a young lady by the name of Matilda Hansen, residing in the Fourth Ward, Logan, was painfully injured by falling on the ice. She was conveyed home, and Dr. Ormsby was sent for. He found that a slight fracture of the clavicle had ensued and that one of her shoulders was severely bruised. The young lady is progressing favorably.

Tooele Items.—"S. S.," our Tooele correspondent, sends us a few items of intelligence, under date of the 31st ult.:

The abundance of snow this winter gave encouraging promise to farmers of an increase of water next season, which would make up the losses of the past year in fruitful harvests, etc.

Two day schools were in full blast, and there were enough children, eligible, to fill another.

The co-operative store was in a prosperous condition, having but recently declared a dividend of 14 per cent. on the business of the last year. Superintendent Atkin was having some of the old buildings taken down preparatory to erecting a more commodious and suitable store for the accommodation of increasing trade.

It was a sickly time among children; three deaths were reported on the 30th, and quite a number of other cases were known in the settlement. The disease was lung fever.

Still Missing.—About 6 o'clock last Friday morning, a man named Elliott, residing in the 19th Ward, left his home and wandered away and has not yet been heard from. He was a butcher by trade, and was in partnership with a young man named Knight, at whose house he lodged and boarded. Their place of business was the slaughter-house near Jones' lime kiln, some distance above the Warm Springs. Elliott was a good, reliable man in business and society. The cause of his mysterious disappearance is generally regarded as due to a sudden stroke of insanity. It is possible he may have wandered away up among the hills and been frozen during his attack of mental aberration. There is so little travel in the winter time among the mountains, that such a thing might occur and the corpse remain undiscovered for weeks. Parties chiefly interested should institute a search in these or other unfrequented localities, and try and ascertain something of the fate of the missing man.

"Enquirer" Items.—We are pleased to learn that the young man, Rufus Taylor, who accidentally shot himself in the head some time ago, at Salina, and who is now in Provo, under the professional charge of Dr. Pike, is progressing as favorably as could possibly be expected. He is able to sit up, eats heartily and is in excellent spirits.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Provo Bench Canal and Irrigation Company, on Thursday, the report of the board of trustees for the last two years was read, which showed that the cost of cleaning and widening the canal to its present capacity, during that time, including gates, etc., amounted to $3,174.66. With this improvement the fall has been increased to nearly five feet, the width of the canal at the bottom, being about 16 feet, and the flow of water being thereby increased nearly double.

The following persons were elected as a board of trustees for the ensuing two years: P. M. Wentz, T. J. Patten, W. D. Roberts, J. A. Loveless, N. Knight, B. M. Roberts, C. F. Dixon.

Collapsed.—A Malicious Libel.—The Dispatch, a paper that has had a career of several months in Ogden, came to its end on Saturday evening. The last number had a communication headed "A Mean Man," and signed with a star, containing a shameful libel upon Mr. John Reeves, local agent of the U. C. R.R., in Ogden. There was little danger of the slander gaining credence, Mr. Reeves' reputation being so well known in that community it would take something more to shatter it than an anonymous communication. But being naturally indignant and desirous of knowing to whom he was indebted for the cowardly attack upon his character Mr. Reeves went to the editor of the journal referred to, and on making his case known, was handed the manuscript of the defamatory article and informed of its author's name. We learn that it is Mr. Reeves' intention first to give his Reverend (?) traducer an opportunity of retracting, but if this is refused, in all probability he will institute legal proceedings in the courts for the punishment of his slanderer.

District Court.—Proceedings February 2d, 1880, first day of February term, Chief Justice Hunter presiding.

People, etc., vs. Henry Keyser et al., grand larceny; defendant Keyser is allowed to withdraw his plea of not guilty and file demurrer to the indictment herein.

People, etc., vs. Morris & Salisbury, assault; defendant arraigned and pleads former acquittal, etc.

People, etc., vs. Henry Newman assault; L. J. Sharp appointed torney for defendant.

People, etc., vs. Wm. J. Williams, grand larceny; Dilley & Pearson appointed attorneys for defendant. Defendant arraigned and pleads not guilty. Trial set for Feb. 10, 1880.

People, etc., vs. Alex. Moore, murder; defendant arraigned. Arthur Brown appears as attorney for defendant. Defendant pleads not guilty.

The empanelling of the grand jury then took place. A number of persons whose names were not on the original list drawn, being either absent or eligible for excuse, nine additional names were drawn as follows: 76, John C. Evans; 104, Alex. M. Ledingham; 114, John Alford; 63, Hugh D. Rippitts; 86, Frank W. Jennings; 79, Jacob Moritz; 191, James A. Varnee; 128, Wm. K. Adkins; 62, John H. Fox.

Following is the panel of the

GRAND JURY.

183 John Thompson, 164 Henry H. Wilson,
24 Jos Terry, 174 Thos Yeomans,
