OCCIDENTALS SEE SECOND

But That Once Only-Fielding and Pitching and Batting All Served to Fans.

In a game which will be talked about or months the White Mings defeated he Occidentals by the great score of 2 to 0. There was no element of luck n the game, Salt Lake won the game eisively and the fans left the grounds ghtly well proud of the locals. Chevlier tried in the box once more and aller tried in the box once more and allowed but one hit. This, with but one error on the part of the White Wings will show why Salt Lake won. The one error was a high throw by Deane to first, the error let Black get as far as second—that was as far as any of the Occidentals got. The game and play were fast, an hour and minutes was all the time consumed. The attendance was light for a Sunday.

The attendance was light for a standard day.

Sait Lake's fielding, both in and beyond the edges of the diamond, was beautiful. The infield tried for everything and got everything, the outfield pulled them down when the flies would have meant three bases at a time, scores. Wells dropped a long one because he could not recover himself after a long chase in time to get a good grip on the sphere, but it cost nothing. One notlocable feature of the White Wings' playing was the manner in which Walsh and others of the infield backed up their brother players at critical times.

The White Wings got five hits and with two errors contributed by the

The White Wings got five hits and with two errors contributed by the brunettes, gained one in the second and one in the second and one in the seventh. Salt Lake got its first by fast play. Vahrenhorst went to first on balls and took second on a wild one from Langford, who occupied he box for the colored boys. Kaefer went out but "Dutch" ambied down to hind. Castro pumped a fly 'steen hundred feet in the air and "Buddy" Clark, playing third, dropped it. Poutch" hurried home on the dropped by and made it. In the seventh it all appened this way: Marx went to first on a hit but was caught off a moment later. Vahrenhorst bumped another it out and got first. Kaefer pushed out a two-bagger. Castro was the relable boy again and pushed a fast one o Campbell, who had to run too fast and far to hold the ball when he met t. Vahrenherst scored again.

Hits, Lobsters Defeat Smeltermen.

Ogden, Sept. 6.—Eckstone and his teammates up in Ogden took a pull-together oday and said they would play good ball to make up for the Sait Lake Saturday laughter. So when Murray came along he Lobsters enticed the Smeltermen over o a baseball field and wnipped them unpercifully, not an error was made by he locals. The score was 8 to 1 and 2ckstone allowed but three hits. Capt. Dad' Gimlin was presented with a ortable electric table lamp during the ame by Managor Bossner. Lobsters Given Worst Shaking Down Of Season in Busy Batfest.

Up in Ogden yesterday they presented "Dad" Gimlin and his bunch with a token of esteem and appreciation for winning the pennant, Down here Saturday they presented "Dad" and his bunch with an unmercifully large and bitter lemon. The slaughter of Saturday's game between the Lousters and White Wings saw Ogden go down to defeat by the score of 14 to 9. Fred Walker.old coach at the Agricultural college, and star pitcher in the Chleago City teague during the past summer, made his how to the public in a White Wing uniform and occupied the box throughout the game. His pitching was bewildering to the Lobsters, 10 of them hitting the dust with a deep, dull thud. Winn Fulmer, big second baseman and catcher for the Lobsters, fanned the air 15 times—figure it out. Winn holds a unique record, he fanned five times, yet one foul swat tore the cover off the bail. Eckstone, from the east, lasted three innings. The locals swatted whatever he threw to them. Maggie Murphy went in and the treatment handed him was something fierce. It was a batting practise for the locals and the ball was on the go all the time. The detailed score of the barbeeue follows: day they presented "Dad" and his bunch OGDEN.

Salt Lake Ahead of Lobsters in Games Played Between Them.

Murray and the Occidentals meet at 3:30 this afternoon. The White Wings go to Ogden to play their last league game there. Ogden will get the pennant today, A post-season series is being discussed and at least six weeks more of ball are promised the fans. The league comes to a close with the teams standing as follows:

Won. Lost, P.C.
Ogden 18 6 .750
Salt Lake 14 11 .560
Occidentals 6 9 .400
Murray 9 18 .333 No matter how today's games come

No matter how today's games come the standing of the four teams will be the same as the difference in percentages are great enough to have each team doomed for the place in which it now is. A peculiar feature of the season is this: while Ogden takes the banner, Salt Lake is a game ahead of Ogden in the games played between the two team's. In other words Ogden is the best team in the league, yet Salt Lake is ahead of it but must be content with second place. The Occidentals are largely to biame for this as Ogden could defeat the colored boys early in the season while Salt Lake went down to defeat every time. Chevaller pitched three games against the Occidentals, yesterday being the third and last time. It was a charm for Chevaller allowed but one hit, Heretofore the brunettes have found "Chev," no matter what kind of pitching he served.

FALL AUTO RACING DRAWING ATTENTION

Fall racing is close upon the automo bile industry and the manifold activities marketing products and outlining plans for the winter campaigns are engrossing the attention of manufacturers and agents alike. The vacation conditions which have been responsible for the dullness which has been apparent lately are passing and this month the real opening of the new season.

Under these conditions, the most optimistic feeling prevails at present. Even the tangled racing control question is being sifted and well-defined efforts to straighten out the tangle are being made. Representatives of both the A. L. A. M. and the A. M. C. M. A. have been considering ways and means for the reconciliation of the warring factions, with what success is not now apparent. It is the earnest hope of most of the manufacturing and selling interests that a treaty of peace may be concluded but many of the makers of automobiles refuse to be worried over the situation and devote their best efforts to the perfecting of 1909 machines and the arrangements for fall tours, races, and the winter shows.

The Lowell road race and the 24 hour race at Brighton Beach are the immediate events in the sportsman's portion of the industry which obtain the bulk of attention just at present. tions which have been responsible for

TITLE MATCHES TODAY.

The tennis match lost to the Salisbury brothers by the Roberts brothers was the hardest and longest fought in the history of tennis in Utah. The score, 16-12, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 shows how the Roberts brothers played gamely but could not withstand the onslaught of their young opponents. The winners meet Brown and Badger today for the intermountain title in men's doubles. Frank Roberts and Sam Neel meet today for the title in singles. Miss Williams won the intermountain chapmionship Saturday by defeating Miss Humphries. Miss Williams now owns the Newhouse challenge—cup permanently.

IDAHO TRIP PLANNED. The Occidentals leave tomorrow for a trip through Idaho. Games will be play-ed with the crack teams of various towns in the Gem state,

CALIFORNIA YOUTH ACCEPTS GIRL'S DARE

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 7 .- Accepting a San Jose, Cal., Sept. 7.—Accepting a dare from a young woman, Fred Blaggi, the 18-year-old son of a prune rancher, yesterday made a daring and unheralded aeronautic ascent that thrilled hundreds of spectators. Running forward just as W. L. Warring, a professional parachute artist, cut loose from the ground, Blaggl sprang into the cordage at the mouth of the bag and was carried upward to a height estimated at 6,000 feet. Warring, with his parachute, cut loose at an elevation of 2,500 feet, and Blaggl as its solitary passenger, the balloon drifted over the hills of the coast range until it was passenger, the bancon dritted over the hills of the coast range until it was almost lost to view. His weight prevented the sudden escape of the gas, and after two hours of suspense for his friends, he returned to town, having landed without injury.

READY FOR ATTACK.

Colomb Behsar, Sept. 7.-The French column under Gen. Allix arrived at Boudenib to reinforce the French force of 1,500 men who are reported to be surrounded by 15,000 Moors. Gen. Allix is preparing to make an immediate at-tack on the tribesmen.

TAKE DARING FLIGHT.

St. Louis, Sept. 7.—Bond Lambert and Harry E. Honeywell, both of this city, will make a balloon ascension this morning, and they will attempt to make a flight across Illinois, using a trailing rope to help manage the craft. Various aeronautical instruments will be tested on the trip. The aeronauts will be prepared for a 24-hour flight.

GETS PENNANT ANVIL CHORUS, ENTIRELY WRONG

Just Why the White Wings Didn't Get Pennant "There's A Reason."

SOME FACTS FOR CROAKERS

Knot-Hole Peekers Have No Right to Jeer for Jeering is Rank Injustice.

Now that the summer baseball season of 1908 has practically closed, a great many persons are asking, Why didn't we get the pennant?'

This is to be no wailing, no exhibit tion of "soreheadishness." The Lobsters get the bunting because they close the season with the highest percentage. But this is a word for the team management and promoters of the game in this city.

HOW GAME LIVES.

Salt Lake has some real fans, It who give their money, time and hard work to the making of baseball and seeing the game live is their only reward. The officials of the Salt Lake club worked hard and long hours all summer to keep the game moving this season, and got not a cent for it. They gave their time and service freely, knowing they would get hard knocks and jeers if victory didn't come home to roost on the lo-cal diamond, and realizing that they would not be considered should the pennant come here.

SALT LAKE LIBERAL.

Salt Lake has been a liberal town that is, the guardians of the game have been liberal in baseball affairs that a league might be organized and kept up. The Salt Lake management has always stood ready to play any-where. Murray, a town full of loyal fans as it is, cannot make big gate receipts, has seen the White Wings always ready to play there.

SALARYLESS WORKERS. It was Salt Lake's suggestion that a league sinking fund of $4,000 be provided before the season opened and the gate receipts pooled, that all towns might share alike. If each town used its own gate receipts, Salt Lake could make more and a high-Lake could make more and a high Lake could make more and a high-priced team brought together. But Salt Lake's real fans not only re-fused to hog on the money end, but took off their coats and worked like Trojans all summer without a cent of pay, that the lovers of baseball might have their chosen sport.

THIS CITY'S HANDICAP.

So it's "sort of up to the man who so it's "sort of up to the man who has growled," because the White Wings didn't win a majority of the games to think twice and then either be cheerful or keep still. It's also up to everybody to realize that it is the unrewarded hard work of a few up to everybody to realize that it is the unrewarded hard work of a few unknown, unthanked fans that kept baseball going this summer. It's hardly fair to knock and jeer. If there were four cities of Salt Lake's size in Utah, this town would win the pennant every season because it would have no little towns to assist. This old town is a martyr in baseball affairs; it will be handicapped until it has sister cities as populous as itself. Thinking men and true sportsmen will realize this and be all the more proud of their town. And anyhow, it's the man who has sore eyes from peeking through the holes in the fence, who has a sledge holes in the fence, who has a sledge out at the end of the season; the man out at the end of the season, the who paid his mite at every game is the one who says, "Well the boys tried; wait until the state's bigger!"

FEAST OF FISTIC FUN.

Three Championships to be Decided

Within 72 Hours—Two Today.

What are termed "meal ticket" fights are paid little attention by the world at large. True, the meal ticket fight may mean a step higher up to the victor and meal ticket fights may make a future top-notcher. When top-notchers (champions), meet then the world sits up and takes notice; many men in many walks of life are eager to read about the training gone through by the two men who are to meet. It is as foolish to say "no" to this assertion as it is to deny the solidity of granite. The financier in his auto stops to get shoulder to shoulder with the hod-carrier standing before the newspaper office, the windows of which are filled with bulletins from the fight centers.

So it happens that the world's dwellers, in broadcloth and denim are perusing, with no attempt to conceal eagerness, the daily bulletins, emanating from a half dozen training centers scattered along the Pacific coast.

Three championships are to be decided within 72 hours. Such feast of fistic fun is an epoch in the history of prize fighting. The wircs are groaning beneath the weight of "stuff" being sent over them to supply the world with the newest from each of the six training camps. An assayer would say of this "stuff," "It goes 40 per cent real value and 60 per cent clay," for of clay are "pipes" made. Within 72 Hours-Two Today.

or this stati, or real value and 60 per cent clay," for of clay are "pipes" made.

The three bouts scheduled are Stanley The three bouts scheduled are Stanley Ketchell vs. Billy Papke, for middle-weight championship of the world to-day at Los Angeles; Joe Gans vs. Bat-tling Nelson for light-weight, cham-pionship of the world, Sept. 9, at San Francisco; Owen Moran vs. Abe Attell for the feather-weight championship today at San Francisco.

for the feather-weight championship today at San Francisco.

The favorites in the three respective mills are Ketchell, the Montana Cowboy wonder; Battling Nelson who scored a knockout over Gans in July and Abe Attell. This last leaning is natural as Attell is an American, Moran is the English champion. All three pairs have met before. The weights under which they will fight are: Middleweight, 158; light-weight, 133; feather-weight, 122.
