

NEW ENGINES FOR SALT LAKE ROUTE

First of Passenger Equipment Arrives in Salt Lake From Philadelphia.

THEY ARE MAMMOTH AFFAIRS.

Among the Biggest and Most Powerful Pacific Type Locomotives Turned Out to Date.

The first consignment of passenger engines for the Salt Lake Route arrived in Salt Lake yesterday afternoon. These huge locomotives are part of a consignment of 19 ordered from the Baldwin Locomotive works at Philadelphia. Of this number 10 are for this end and nine for Los Angeles, the latter being oil-burners.

No sooner had the two locomotives, Nos. 406 and 407, arrived than they were surrounded by a little knot of railroad men who at once started to criticize the big fellows. The engines are of the Pacific type (three driving wheels on each side) and some surprise was expressed that being the custom out west to furnish all heavy engines with a center wheel without a flange, thereby giving the engine play on the curves.

It is safe to assert that the new locomotives are the biggest and most powerful that have come to town to date. Their drivers are 77 inches in diameter and the cylinders 22x28. The engines weigh 140,000 on the drivers, or 222,000 total weight. Add to this the total weight of the tender which when empty tips the beam at 46,000 pounds, and some idea of the monsters is forthcoming.

All the new engines are fitted with Vanderbilt tank tenders. When one of the Oregon Short Line "coffee pots" with a diamond stack pulls up alongside the difference between the ancient and modern engine is very marked. At present the yards here are decidedly crowded and the need for another roundhouse is very marked. Side tracks seem to be full up with engines while the new ones present a very comical appearance with about 20 feet of their frame sticking out of the stall doors.

W. U. WIRES TO BE STRUNG.

Two Lines to be Run on the Salt Lake Route.

Supt. Dwyer of the telegraph department of the Salt Lake Route this morning stated that there were five gauge of men at work stringing the second wire between Salt Lake and Los Angeles, and that within the next 30 days work would be started on the Western Union wires, one right through to Los Angeles and the other for local service.

SURVEYORS IN WYOMING.

Burlington and Chicago & Northwestern Corps Are Very Busy.

Special Correspondence.
Thermopolis, Wyo., Feb. 4.—Burlington, and also the Northwestern surveyors, are very active in this section. Lines have been run through the canyon of the Big Horn into town, and the surveyors are now working on the other side of the Owl Creek mountains.

It is asserted here that the report that the Burlington had let contracts for the grading of the branch line from Frannie to Burlington, were premature. No contracts have been let, but it is expected bids will be called for soon for the construction of the line from Frannie to the mouth of Lovell, Burlington, Basin, and on to Thermopolis.

Rate Conference.

New York, Feb. 6.—Commercial organizations of the Atlantic ports, as well as of the primary grain centers, whose natural outlet for export grain has heretofore been considered the Atlantic ports, will hold a conference over the railroad rate situation in the rooms of the New York Produce Exchange next Thursday. Invitations have been sent to and accepted by most of the following organizations:

My Offer to Kidney Sufferers

I will give you a full dollars worth of my remedy free to try without cost or deposit to promise to pay.

I could not make this offer—a full dollar's worth of my remedy—free to an ordinary kidney remedy. It is not. It treats the kidneys themselves, but the kidneys that control them. The cause of kidney trouble is ALWAYS in these troubles. The only way to cure kidney trouble is by strengthening and vitalizing these kidneys. That is exactly what my remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—does. Therefore I can make this offer with the certain knowledge that every kidney sufferer who makes this trial will be helped.

When I say "nerves" I do not mean the ordinary nerves of feeling, thought, action I mean the automatic nerves, which night and day, unguided and unreasoned, control and operate every vital process of life. These are the master nerves. The kidneys are their slaves. Your mind cannot control them. They will not away from them. Yet when they are strong, you are well; when they are weak, you are ill. I have written a book on the kidneys which explains fully and clearly how these tiny, tender "inside" nerves control not only the kidneys but each of the other vital organs.

I have made my offer that strangers to my remedy may know. It is not intended for or open to those who have used my remedy. They need no further evidence. They may have delayed or heard or heard of my remedy. I will send you a hand you a full dollar's worth of my remedy and the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements—simply write me today.

West, left today for Oregon with the intention of starting work on the Hood River branch, which is to be built for the purpose of shipping logs to the sawmills of the Oregon Lumber company. The road is to run along the west bank of the river and connect with the O. H. & N.

OGDEN ELECTION CASE.

Action of Daniel Hamer vs Judge J. A. Howell Opened This Morning.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, Feb. 6.—This morning the case of Daniel Hamer vs. Judge J. A. Howell was begun in the Second district court, before Judge C. W. Morse, who is hearing the case at the request of ex-Gov. Heber M. Wells. The contestant, who alleges irregularities in the election of the contestee to the office of district judge, was represented by Atty. C. C. Richards, O. W. Powers and H. P. Henderson, the first two being present at the hearing this morning. The contestee is represented by Messrs. J. N. Kimball, W. C. McGowan, E. T. Hunsaker, A. R. Heywood and George McCormick, these gentlemen all being present.

Judge Kimball, for contestee, moved the quashing of the order of Judge Rolapp, setting the case for hearing Jan. 10, 1905, and also the quashing of the citation which was issued at the same time and by the same judge, on the ground that Mr. Rolapp was interested party in the case, it being alleged by the contestee that he was duly elected judge of the Second district; and on the further ground that the term of office of Judge Rolapp would terminate before the hearing, and that he was therefore taking action in the calendar of another judge who would assume the bench.

Judge Kimball further argued that the time for the filing of contestant's complaint had elapsed, also that the date set for the hearing had lapsed. He also argued that the continuing of the case by Judge Morse from Jan. 4 to Feb. 6 was illegal, Judge Morse having no jurisdiction in the case, because of the fact that the term of office of governor had expired before the date set for the hearing. Mr. Kimball continued his argument until 30 minutes to 12, when Attorney C. C. Richards began his argument for the contestant representing Judge Rolapp. Arguments will continue during today, and will perhaps not be concluded before tomorrow, when Judge Morse will take the case under advisement. The case will be a very strongly contested one, and one of the most interesting ever tried in Weber county. Some sensational disclosures are expected to be made.

YESTERDAY'S RECORD.

"I enjoyed good health until about two years ago when I noticed my back began to ache frequently. It became sore and lame, and headache soon added to my misery. I found that my general health diminished. I became thin and weak and nervous, having severe pains at regular intervals." writes Mrs. Augustus Emory, Treasurer New Century Club, 14350 Street (Roxbury), Boston, Mass. "I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which several of my friends praised so highly. I felt relief within a week, my appetite came back, the pains gradually decreased and I enjoyed sound sleep. Within seven weeks I had completely recovered my health. I seemed built up anew, my pulse which had been weak became normal, and my life animated my entire being. I gladly endorse your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health, by curing the local womanly diseases which are generally responsible for the failure of the general health. A woman's entire being is centered in her womanly nature. When the delicate womanly organism is attacked by disease, when there is irregularity of a disintegrating drain, when inflammation burns and ulcers gnaw the general health will reflect the progress of disease, in increasing weakness, nervousness, backache, headache, loss of appetite and sleeplessness.

So sure it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.

BIG LAND LEASE.

Messrs. Callister and Mackey Tie Up 600,000 Acres in Wyoming.

John C. Mackey and E. H. Callister have returned from Omaha, where they leased between 500,000 and 600,000 acres of land in Wyoming for sheep grazing; and as the railroad lands alternate with government lands, the lease is held to amount practically to double this acreage. The tract lies in the Red desert, between Leroy and Green River, and will furnish grazing grounds for 300,000 sheep. While the lease runs but a year, the lessees have the option of renewing it. Messrs. Mackey and Callister acted for the United Grazing association. Under the state laws, trespassers can be kept off without the necessity of any fencing. The gentlemen say that while in the country the temperature ranged from 14 to 29 below zero.

REDUCED DUTIES IN PHILIPPINES.

Senator Foraker Favors a Lower Tariff on Sugar and Tobacco.

SCHEME HAS DETERMINED FOES

Doubtful if Congress Will Aid to the Extent of Passing a Bill.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, Feb. 2.—What patience the members of the house ways and means committee show in listening to arguments pro and con regarding the duty on Philippine sugar and tobacco which are imported into the United States! There are some senators that are earnestly in favor of the reduction. Senator Foraker has given notice that he will offer an amendment to this purpose to every Philippine bill that is considered in the senate. There are also some men in the house who think the reduction should be made, but the opposition to the proposition is so strong and so determined that nothing can be accomplished. Secy. Taft says that the reduction is necessary for the people of the islands, but it will take the same kind of pressure which brought about Cuban reciprocity to get a bill through Congress, and that is not possible this year.

WHEN LA FOLLETTE ARRIVES.

It will be an interesting spectacle to see John C. Spooner offer his arm to Robert M. La Follette on the 4th of March and escort him down the aisle to be sworn in as his colleague. Some people are wondering whether Spooner will escort La Follette. It would not be an unprecedented thing for the senator to be absent on that occasion or even to refuse to escort his colleague on account of the differences between them, but with few exceptions senators who have been bitter personal and political antagonists compose their differences so far as concerns their conduct in the senate, and possibly that is what Spooner and La Follette will do.

TAXES WILL STAY.

Not long ago a discussion arose in the house about the kind of stock that is raised in this country, and Representative Hull of Iowa maintained that his section produced the best. "The gentlemen from Texas, Mr. Burleson, says the best in the world comes from that state. I am not going to take any exception to that, because Texas is a part of the Union."

"And will continue to be," chimed in Burleson.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Many statesmen in Congress think that it would be a good thing if there should be a constitutional amendment adopted giving Congress the power to pass uniform laws for marriage and divorce. The only place now in which Congress has power over the social relations is in the District of Columbia, as the territories pass their own laws governing both marriage and divorce now. In several territories the law of divorce is much more liberal than in the states. Attempts to secure constitutional amendments have thus far failed and, in fact, always will fail, because it indicates too much federal interference with states. So the next best thing is to secure statistics through the census office on the subject. Several men have tried to authorize the census office to collate these statistics.

"MUST SHOW ME."

The old story of the man who said, "I'm from Missouri; you'll have to show me," was touched upon in the house during the debate on the agricultural appropriation bill. Representative Lloyd interrupted the chairman: "I do not understand these provisions, and I am asking these questions for the purpose of finding out."

"The gentleman is from Missouri?" inquired Chairman Wadsworth.

"Yes," answered Lloyd.

"The house 'caught on,' and the laughter was general.

Representative Sheppard of Texas, who attacked the seed distributing method last year, renewed his attack this year, but in a less serious vein. In the course of his remarks he said:

"For instance, the watermelon seed which went into my district last season produced watermelons so diminutive that they could have been easily used for watch charms. Evidently these seeds were intended for a sterner climate. It is unnecessary to say that I was unsuccessful in the seed crusade. Cassandra never had a more unsympathetic audience in foreshadowing the doom of Troy. I was a prophet without a people, an apostle without a following. It seems that the distribution of vegetable seeds is a permanent institution, an institution which it is sacrilege to question and madness to oppose. As long as the republic lives senators and congressmen will, with the recurrent seasons, go forth to sow. Encouraged by the hope that succeeding elections will bring in the sheaves, 'some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.' The custom has the highest authority, for in Genesis we find that Israel cried to Joseph, 'Give us seed that we may live and not die, that the land be not desolate.'"

ARE NOT PLEASED.

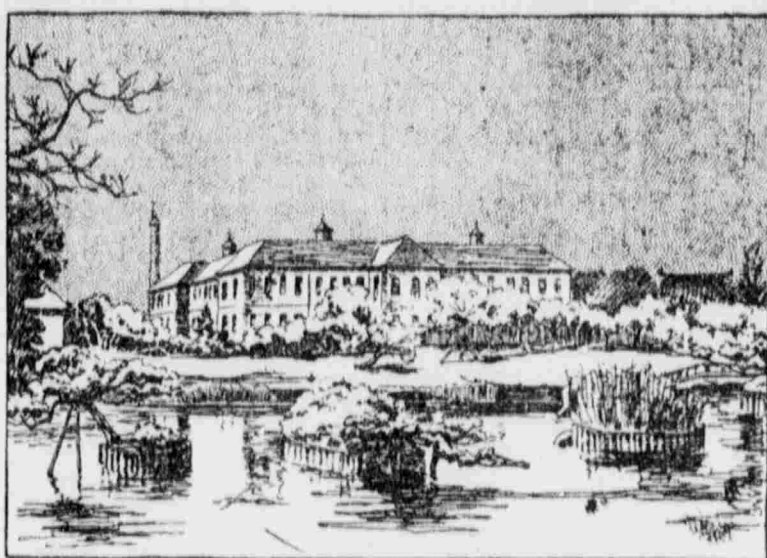

Many men in congress are not pleased that an impeachment trial was forced at this time which bids fair to crowd the senate as it has never been crowded before, and by some Representative Palmer is blamed. When a letter was sent to every man in the house making charges against Judge Lacombe of New York, about 100 members mailed the letters to Palmer. This was done as a joke by several and by others because Palmer was responsible for Swayne's impeachment.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mrs. Rebecca E. Mace, of Kanab, Kane county, Utah, wishes to learn the whereabouts of her sister, Mrs. Maria Frederick, who is supposed to have come to Utah about 1872 or 1873. Any one who can give information relative to Mrs. Frederick will confer a favor by communicating with her sister at the address given.

Mrs. Thyra Rasmussen, nee Woller, of 1772 Minnehaha street, St. Paul, Minn., wishes to learn the whereabouts of her uncle, named Hendrickson, who left Denmark about 24 years ago and is supposed to be living somewhere in the neighborhood of Salt Lake.

THE ANNAPOLIS OF JAPAN.

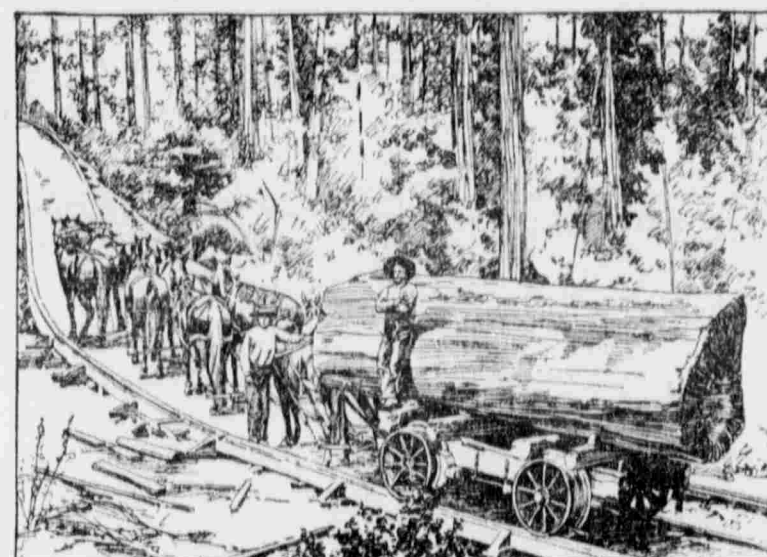

The school at which the present officers of the Japanese navy received much of their training is situated near the national capital of Japan, Tokyo, on the ancient estate of one of the former feudal lords, or daimios, named Shiraakawa Shosho of Kuwana. The mikado's naval academy is modeled on European and American lines and is not largely different in its course of study from that at Annapolis. The accompanying cut shows the main building.

A CURIOUS PAVEMENT OF WHALES' BONES.

The cut represents a pavement which leads from the street to the west door of the Church of St. Charles Borromeo in Monterey, Cal. The curious murre-like objects in the pavement are the vertebrae of whales. When California was a part of Mexico, Monterey was the center of the whaling trade, then a business of considerable importance on the coast. The church is a mission founded at an early day by the Franciscans and is still used and in a good state of preservation. The pavement also is in excellent condition and seems to have worn better than stone. Hundreds of persons walk upon it without knowing that it is composed of bones. There is nothing like it in the world.

A PRIMITIVE CALIFORNIAN RAILWAY.

The picture is from a photograph showing the method adopted to transport the huge redwood logs which are cut in the California forests to the mills that saw them into lumber. These trunks of the sequoia are not only of mammoth bulk, but they are so heavy that all ordinary methods of moving logs would prove inadequate. To get the monsters to the mills or to the river whose waters are to float them down to the camp a rude railroad is constructed, the logs are mounted on trucks, and several teams of horses furnish the motive power. In some sections oxen are substituted for the horses. Such a railroad is not able to gain a reputation for speed, but its record of infrequent accidents is commendable.
