

Furniture Reupholstered.

Our facilities are such that old furniture can be practically remade as good as new at a small expenditure. The new materials for upholstering furniture consists of the latest and daintiest styles and colorings in tapestry, damasks, gobelins, armures, and velours.

During the week a discount of 25 per cent will be made on all pictures—and we carry a beautiful stock. One-fourth less than you have been used to paying for these pictures makes the opportunity yours.

Lace Curtains.

A busy spring season has left the department with many one and two pairs of a pattern which will be closed out at HALF OF THE USUAL PRICES.

The entire Stock of Curtains will be included in this important sale at from 20 to 50 per cent discount.

The curtains are standard stock, and comprise Nottingham, Irish Point, Brussels Net and Renaissance.

KEITH-O'BRIEN.

Carpet Week!

The Floor Below Has Made Decided Reductions on Carpets, Rugs, Lace Curtains, Metal Beds etc.

A season's heavy selling leaves us with discontinued patterns which we cannot replace. The manufacturers introduce new designs and cease making certain former ones. Every piece of carpet in stock which cannot be replaced in ordering, will be closed out regardless of values and former prices. Our stock of patterns for which new designs have been substituted, is large. The carpets are in every respect desirable, attractive, and of excellent quality.

Cutting the prices, as these carpets are now cut, is an interesting event which occurs but once a year, and just before the department manager leaves for the eastern market. It is well to bear in mind that carpets are sold on close margin. Reductions therefore are slight. But in this case they are large—most unusual for carpets. Now that house cleaning time is here the sale will arouse keenest interest. The saving on each carpet will be considerable. The other inducements on the floor below are strong. Rugs, Metal Beds and Lace Curtains are greatly below usual prices.

Moderate Priced Carpets

The showing of Velvet, Tapestry, Best Wool Igrains, and Best C. C. Carpets is such variety that selection is not difficult. The designs are pleasing to the eye and the qualities just what they should be for the class of goods.

New Metal Beds.

These fine metal beds are shown in every conceivable style and all the finishes. They are marked close in the beginning—as is everything on the floor below. On account of the difficulty of getting shoppers down to the basement, merchandise shown in that portion of the store is marked lower than is customary for goods of similar character offered elsewhere. These reductions, therefore, are exceptional.
