

Pratt and Agnes Farrer. The solos adopted it unanimously.

Another very strong resolution which had been adopted at a meeting held in the Fourth ward, was also presented to the council, praying for the revocation of a license asked for by a Mr. Wilson in behalf of the Diamond saloon, and condemning Duggins and others for the part which they apparently took in the Bonnett murder case. It was signed by the following committee: M. M. Watson, president; Sarah E. Cluff, secretary; Emma S. Simone, chairman; Jane B. Snyder, Sophia A. Gee, Annie M. Young, Cornelia Horne Clayton.

Speeches were made by several of the council, all favorable to the granting of the petition, and it was granted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Wilson's petition to have the portion of the money returned which he had deposited for a license for the time which would have been unexpired had the license been granted, was then taken up and granted.

NOTES.

Owen Hogle of Salt Lake registered at the Palace hotel in San Francisco on Sunday.

The California Democratic convention, which meets in Sacramento on June 20, will consist of 614 members. It is said that a divided delegation on free silver is assured.

Rexburg, Idaho, Silver Hammer: John Davidson of Benton ward, Cache Valley, Utah, passed through town Tuesday on his way to Teton Basin where he will probably make his future home.

Otis M. Tupper has commenced a suit to foreclose a mortgage of $16,000 on the Young Men's Christian association's property at San Jose, Cal., the association having been unable to raise the money to pay the interest on the debt.

Mrs. Ramsey left her home in Moquito, Cal., Friday morning, taking with her her little boy 5 years old, to find a horse which had strayed away. She went down the American river and crossed Rock creek, which is a turbulent stream. The country is very mountainous and thickly covered with brush. She became confused and lost her bearings, wandering round and round all day and all night. The child became exhausted and Mrs. Ramsey had to carry him until she could go no farther. After resting she would renew her journey, climbing hills, crossing ravines and working her way through the brush. Toward morning she struck a trail, which she followed, and came out at Mr. Roellie's, who lives at Spanish Flat, near the town of Kelsey. This is about five miles from her home in a straight line. She probably traveled three times that distance. Mrs. Ramsey was completely exhausted and nearly famished, having had nothing to eat or any sleep, and being compelled to carry the child most of the time. Her son, 18 years of age, coming home at night and not finding his mother, went in search of her at the neighbors. Nothing could be heard of her. The neighbors became alarmed and went in search of her, carrying lanterns and continuing their search all night.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Elder George Clark, who resides at 731 south Third West street, this city, is anxious to know if there are any Saints residing in the State who hail from Basingstoke, Hants, England. If any such there be, they would confer a favor by entering into correspondence with the gentleman at the above address.

Nineteen thousand one hundred dollars is the amount the board of education has notified the assessor will be required for the district schools of Logan city this year. This amount includes $2,700 interest and $900 for the sinking fund. The total enrollment is 1,600, and the average attendance over 1,100. School affairs are efficiently and economically administered in Logan.

The lecture delivered by Professor Jacob F. Miller in the B. Y. College, under the auspices of the Fortieth quorum of Seventies, on The Life of Herod, was one of unusual interest; it occupied about an hour and a half in delivery. Another interesting lecture was delivered by Professor James A. Langton at the meeting of the Philomathic literary society of the B. Y. College on Friday evening. His theme was, The Bible as Literature, and the many beauties of the "book of books" were ably illustrated.

The case of Leo Broschinsky vs Salt Lake City came up for hearing in Judge Streets department of the Third district court Wednesday.

The plaintiff alleges that on the 7th day of February, 1894, he was riding along Ninth North street and that his horse became frightened by the wheels of their wagon falling into a hole and ran away upsetting the vehicle and throwing plaintiff upon a pile of rocks and breaking his arm and causing him personal injuries. He therefore prays for judgment in the sum of $5,000 and costs of suit.

Funeral services were held over the remains of Sister Margaret G. Tanner Wednesday afternoon at the Second ward meeting house, which was filled with sorrowing friends. Bishop McQuarrie presided; Elders C. F. Middleton, F. M. Lyman and F. D. Richards and F. S. Richards offered comforting remarks to the bereft family and friends. Sister Tanner was the daughter of Thomas Harrington and Mary Greenwell, and was born at Winter Quarters in January, 1848. Her death was quite sudden, she having only been sick three days. Her son, Nathan, is away from home filling a mission in California.

The preliminary hearing of the Bonnett murder case closed on Saturday night. Mr. Masse was discharged from custody and Duggins and McCoy were released on bonds. Duggin's bail was fixed at $5,000. Albert Fisher and Emily W. Duggins were his sureties. Dr. McCoy's bail was set at $3,000. His bondsmen were S. F. Mount, of Richfield and James Hegney, of Salt Lake. Carter was unable to secure his release here and it was mutually agreed by counsel on either side and the court that Justice Saxey of Provo, where the defendant was taken, might give him his liberty on filing a satisfactory bond there.

LOGAN, March 16.—As Miss Alice Watson and a young man named Smith were out buggy riding on Third street, yesterday, a man on a bicycle passed them and frightened the horse, which suddenly wheeled and ran the buggy into a ditch, throwing them both out. Miss Watson was thrown on the startled animal's back. After the horse ran some distance Miss Watson was thrown off and some part of the buggy, presumably a wheel, struck her in the back. She was so badly injured that she could not be taken to her home, but was taken to F. G. Smith's lodging house, where she now lies in a critical condition. The chief injury lies in her back and extends to the spinal column. Dr. Parkinson, the physician in attendance, considers her condition serious.

State Senator Childrester of Garfield county, received a letter Tuesday, bringing news of a most distressing accident which happened to his brother-in-law, Henry Worthing of Panguitch, Garfield county, on the 12th instant. Only meager details are given, but sufficient is told to show that the victim of the accident is in a precarious condition. On the date named he was out hunting, and in stepping across a ditch slipped and fell. The loaded gun which he was carrying was discharged by contact with the ground, part of the load passing through the unfortunate man's hand and part into his right shoulder, inflicting a dangerous wound. He was given attention as quickly as possible. At the time the letter was written the attending surgeons were discussing the necessity of amputating his right arm, and the patient was in a critical condition.

Another accident of the didn't-know-it-was-loaded type occurred in this city just west of Jordan river Sunday, about 5 o'clock.

As is usual in such cases the results are serious. This time the victim is Horace, the fifteen-year-old son of Stephen T. Durrant, traveling agent and salesman for Clark, Eldredge & Company. The Durrants reside at No. 1230 west Third South. Horace and a cousin, Algie Collinston, about his own age, were playing together, the latter handling a 32-caliber revolver. Suddenly there was an explosion and Horace fell to the ground as though dead. An examination showed that the bullet had entered his head directly under one of his eyes. Its course after that was unknown and no probing by the doctors was done last night nor had at the latest reports today on account of the serious condition of the unfortunate boy, whose prospects for recovery at this time are not very bright.

The Cheyenne Tribune, March 10: Mrs. Hynde, wife of Harry Hynds, proprietor of the Capitol club rooms in this city and who formerly resided here, was an east bound passenger on No. 4 yesterday afternoon.
