Albert Cox Acquitted by a Jury in Judge Rolapp's Court.

Jury Exhausted in Effort to Secure Verdict in Case of Murderer.

Albert Cox was tried before Judge Rolapp in the district court yesterday, charged with the murder of a young woman. The trial lasted but a short time, the jury returning a verdict of "not guilty."

At the conclusion of the Cox case, the hearing of Bass and Reese, the two men arrested on the charge of murder, in the shooting of young Fred McCabe, was getting a jury. The panel was exhausted and a special venire of 24 names drawn. The court was well filled with spectators, the case attracting considerable attention, on account of the diabolical murder with which the men are charged, and the popularity of the victim.

All this money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Heard of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol. I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health."

BURIAL OF ELDER FORSYTH

Impressive Services Over Remains of Missionary Who Fell at the Post of Duty.

Body Accompanied Home From Pennsylvania by Elder Heber Andrus, of Aklo, Idaho.

Special Correspondence.

Loa, Wayne Co., Feb. 18.—The funeral services of Elder James A. Forsyth, who succumbed to typhoid fever while performing a mission in the Eastern States, was held at his home in Teasdale, Wayne Co., Utah, Feb. 18, 1903.

There were people present from all the surrounding settlements, who had come to offer words of condolence and sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives, and to pay their last earthly respects to one who was beloved by all who knew him for his lovable disposition, and many praiseworthy traits of character. The remains lay in state at the home from 10 till 11 o'clock, after which they were conveyed to the meetinghouse, which was packed to its utmost capacity.

The services were conducted by Bishop Heber Wilson. The choir sang the soul-inspiring hymn, "O My Father," and Elder H. M. Hanson offered a fervent prayer for blessing and consolation on the bereaved. Elder Heber Andrus of Aklo, Bingham Co., Idaho, who had accompanied the body home from Pennsylvania, was the first speaker. He spoke of the untiring and faithful labor of Elder Forsyth in the missionary field and who had laid down his life for the cause of truth.

The other speakers were Elders George W. Worthen, the mutual missionary, Patriarch E. H. Blackburn of Loa, Elder Taft of Thurber, Elder G. S. Bastian of the stake presidency, and Elder H. M. Hanson of Loa. Each of the speakers paid fitting tributes to the work and worth of the deceased and offered consolation and comfort to the bereaved wife and little ones, and parents and kindred, whose society and the comforts of home Elder Forsyth had sacrificed that he might win souls to Christ.

Fillmore, Utah Co., Feb. 20.—In the case of the State of Utah vs. John L. Peterson the jury returned a verdict finding him guilty of unlawful relations with a female, and the court pronounced judgment that he be fined in the sum of $100, which was paid.

In the case against Mahoney Marshall for same offense, alleged to have been committed at the same place and with the same woman, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The evidence in these two cases reveal details of immorality without a parallel in the history of this county.

Henry Bowen is on trial today on a charge of grand larceny.

FAVOR WATERWORKS.

Citizens in Mass Meeting Ask for Election to Vote on Bonds.

Special Correspondence.

Mount Pleasant, Sanpete Co., Feb. 20.—It now seems apparent that Mt. Pleasant is to have a system of water works. If the expression of the people, at a well attended mass meeting held last night, counts for anything, then the system will be put in as rapidly as possible. A vote was taken empowering the city council to call an election to vote upon bonding the city for this purpose. About the only contention at the meeting was by the farmers, who are apprehensive as to their rights, and what would happen if the water works were put in through the inauguration of the system. This was fully explained to them and when the vote was taken empowering the council to call an election, the result was almost unanimous.

WATERWORKS AGITATION.

Citizens in Mass Meeting Ask for Special Election on Question.

Special Correspondence.

Spanish Fork, Utah Co., Feb. 19.—Quite a large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the city hall last night to hold the question of waterworks. Dr. Bentley and State Engineer Doremus were present and addressed the meeting. The question was on voting bonds to put in the water works. The sentiment was unanimous on the question of voting bonds.

It is to be hoped that the city council will now get down to business and submit the question of bonding to the voters and then go to work and put the plan in.

Pure water is needed worse than anything else, and an expenditure in that direction will be one of the best investments that can possibly be made. The question has been agitated for over two years and if anything is to be done now is the time to work.

While the attitude of the meeting was merely advisory, yet it can be taken by the council as representing the voice of nearly the whole of the community.

Let us have the waterworks.

COASTING ACCIDENT.

Little Boy Killed by a Horse—Fatal Result.

Special Correspondence.

North Ogden, Weber Co., Feb. 20.—A shocking accident occurred to a little boy of James A. Podman last evening through a kick from a horse, while the little fellow was enjoying coasting. The hoof of the horse made an ugly gash in the forehead requiring four stitches to draw the wound together, fortunately it is only a flesh wound and while the skull was bare it was not injured by the blow.

A few of the friends of Mrs. W. B. Jones remembered her pleasantly last Wednesday in honor of her 47th birthday.

The prospect in this locality thus far is very flattering for a heavy crop of fruit and an abundant supply of water.
