FORMER GRAND DUCHESS OF HESSE.

The marriage was formally announced of the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia and Princess Victoria Melita, Oct. 8, at Tegernsee, Upper Bavaria, according to the Russian rites. An imperial ukase dismisses Grand Duke Cyril from the service in consequence of his recent marriage to the Princess Victoria, the divorced wife of the Grand Duke of Hesse. The ukase also deprives the grand duke of his decorations and other honors. The marriage is the outcome of a long romance, for the two cousins are known to have been devoted to each other from childhood.

Two or three interesting bridal affairs have marked the week, and more are listed for next, the early fall season being a close rival with spring for the annual nuptial affairs.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was that of Miss Grace Talle Cannon and Charles Clarence Neslen, the marriage being solemnized in the Temple at noon, with Prest. August M. Cannon officiating, and a reception being held at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha Talle Cannon. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the parlor with yellow chrysanthemums in artistic profusion, filling the window and banking the mantel, while vines and palms completed the effect. In the library red was used, carnations and dahlias being the chosen flowers, and the dining room was a picture with its prettily dressed table, a tall green vase filled with white chrysanthemums making the centerpiece, and streamers of Nile green ribbons extending to the corners, where they were caught with large bows, while from the chandeliers hung showers of ferns. In the hall green was used, and here, in an alcove formed with palms punch was served during the evening, with little Miss Cannon presiding. The bride wore an exquisite gown of cream silk mull with trimmings of real lace, and carried bride's roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Lucella Young, wore a dainty gown of lavender mull, with cream lace trimmings and carried white carnations. Mr. Frank Chamberlain was best man. During the evening delightful music was rendered, among the soloists being Miss Cannon, Miss Hattie Whitney, Messrs. Horace Ensign, Walter Wallace and Charles Pike. The lace and Charles Pike.
