Local and Other Matters.

Found. - The owner of a pocket-book can bear the same at the Historian's Office.

Wool. - Meeting of the wool growers and others interested in the subject, at the Council House to-night, 7 o'clock.

Co-Educators. - A committee of the University of Wisconsin has made a report favorable to the continuation of the education of the sexes in that institution. The reasons set forth in the report are plain, potent and powerful, convincing themselves to all who have given the subject instant consideration. We believe the system works as satisfactorily in the University and academically.

Seventies. - Meeting - The monthly general meeting of the Seventies was held at the Council House last evening, commencing at half-past six. An interesting address was delivered by President Joseph Young, in whose favor of which he strongly urged friendly visits and assistance to the poor and to the needy family of absent missionaries by those who were better off in regard to the good temporal things of life.

A Bad Fight. - A gentleman of this city was in a deplorable plight yesterday, having had a bad fit of depression, superinduced by alcoholism. He wandered to the vicinity of the "Dobie Yard," in the southwest part of the city. He told several stories there that he was tired of life and talked of committing suicide. Some kindly disposed people in the locality took charge of him until the arrival of some of his friends, whom they had notified.

Not So Unpopular. - The women of Utah take an active interest in woman suffrage matters. Here is what an exchange says:

"Women are not as very unpopular in Washington as some people imagined. The House Judiciary Committee, a few days ago, proposed sixteen amendments to the Constitution of the United States, concerning upon women's suffrage, and five more (all republicans) voted in favor of the measure. The others (all immigrants) voted against it. One member (Harrington) who was absent will be voting in favor."

Plat. - Mer. says February and March are the dullest months, for business, in the year.

It is asserted that as many street traps are being laid in this city, by mischievous boys, as in some cities of more than double the population. An effect of this is a greater number of street traps.

WHILE in various parts of the country the winter has been blinding snow, cold and drizzled, the hurricane at general smash and roar, the tornado played strong mundane things, there has been weather sufficiently violent, turbulent or stormy in Salt Lake to stop the regular traffic of Benediction.

Nearly everyone has found a home of prominence except Salt Lake.
