Ogden, Utah, April 17.—Edwin Dallmore who died last Tuesday night of pneumonia, in his seventy-second year, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the family burial ground in the Ogden cemetery. The grave was dedicated by Elder Charles H. Greenwell.

Impressive funeral services were held at the Fifth ward meetinghouse commencing at 2 o'clock. Bishop John Watson presiding. The choir rendered a number of musical selections. Miss Phil Hunscock sang "Some Time, Some Day We'll Understand," and Miss Alice Flowers sang with the choir "O My Father." The life and character of the deceased was eulogized and the many excellent qualities of true, unworldly and noble character which he possessed were spoken of feelingly by Elders Joseph Stanford, Joseph Parry, Fred Johnson, George E. Brown, T. A. Shreve and Patriarch George W. Lar-

8,000 DAMAGES FOR A COLD.

An action with a rather new feature in the complaint is to be filed within a short time by W. L. Margolis in the interest of Thomas Harney, who claims that the Union Pacific, or at least one of its conductors, was the cause of his catching a severe cold that has permanently injured his health. He therefore asks damages in the sum of $10,000. Harney was a passenger on the Union Pacific train, No. 13, having bought a ticket from Kansas City to Salt Lake. He secured a Pullman berth and was in bed when the train, on Jan. 21, about 2 o'clock in the morning, had reached a point between Laramie and Cheyenne, and where the conductor woke him up, and after humiliating him by loud talk, made him pay an extra $15.00. During the journey Harney claims he caught cold, and therefore sues for damages to the amount of $10,000 as the additional fare paid.

MASONIC EASTER SERVICE.

The Masonic lodge has decided next Sunday to attend the Methodist church in a body at its annual Easter service. Special services for the occasion will be performed by Rev. Blair, and special music will be rendered by a choir of 3 voices. Several soloists of Salt Lake City will take part in the musical part of the program. The evening service will commence at 8 o'clock, to which all are invited.

DESPICABLE WORK.

Not only were the members of Foster's Military band disappointed Saturday night going to California with the Woodmen of the World, but the members of the local order regretted it very much. The band members had given up their positions for the vacation and had been practicing very hard on their music to be rendered on route to Los Angeles, and the contracts for them to go had been signed, but at the last moment the Salt Lake order and Commercial club notified the local lodge that they would not pay the cost of the expenses of the band, the only reason given being that some of the members of the local band are not members of the Musical union. The Salt Lake lodge should have at least notified the Ogden representatives sooner, so as not to have inconvenienced the band boys as they did on such a despicable and trifling excuse.

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECK.

R. L. Stoddard is in the toils of the police on the charge of obtaining money under false pretense. Stoddard, Saturday evening, endeavored to pass a worthless check on several saloons for $5, but did not succeed. Later in the evening, however, he succeeded in passing the check on the proprietor of the Imperial restaurant. He ordered a 50 cent meal, which he ate then gave the check in payment, receiving $4.65 in change. The proprietor, however, suspected something wrong and asked young Stoddard to wait while he stepped out to see if the check was good. Stoddard fled but was later placed under arrest by Officer Fred Toot.

COHEN BROUGHT BACK.

William Cohen, alias Cook and several other aliases, who was arrested at Stockton, Cal., was brought back to Ogden by Detective J. R. Ponder and placed in the city jail. He was wanted here on the charge of the forgery of Burrman & Co's name to checks which he cashed in this city, last month. He is also wanted by the Pinkerton detective for similar offenses perpetrated throughout the east.

MRS. A. E. BOWEN DEAD.

Popular Young Lady Answers Sudden Summons—News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., April 16.—Althea Reeder Bowen, wife of Prof. A. E. Bowen of the Brigham Young college, died Friday evening. She had been in poor health for some time. Her death was due to Bright's disease, which produced premature confinement, resulting in the birth of twins, two boys. The oldest was too much for the mother, and she died shortly afterwards. Mrs. Bowen was a daughter of Robert Reeder of Hyde Park, where she was born and grew up. She married Prof. Bowen about three years ago. Her husband left to fill a mission in Germany shortly after their marriage and she continued her duties as abstract clerk in the county recorder's office. She was an intelligent, loving young lady and had a host of friends who will mourn her untimely death. Prof. Bowen will have the sympathy of the entire community in the sorrow that has come to him.

The funeral of Thomas Tardet was held at the tabernacle at 12 o'clock today. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance and followed the remains to their last resting place.

Miss Ethel Cirtik, a clerk at Wilkinson & Sons' store, was taken suddenly ill on Friday afternoon and fell in a room while attending to her duties. She was taken to her home and died after a short illness.

The Agricultural College Dramatic company will present "She Stoops to Conquer" at the opera house tomorrow night.

The April term of the district court opens Tuesday next at 10 a. m.

A new baby boy has arrived at the home of Fredrick and Mrs. C. H. C. in Logan, and for which the county certificate to the State Bank of American Falls, with a capital stock of $25,000. He has applications from bank charters at Sugar City, Twin Falls and the new town of Burley. He is also in correspondence with a number of capitalists outside of the state, who desire to open banks here, but have waited until a law should be enacted that would protect legitimate banking.

TO PARTITION STATE FUNDS.

There was a meeting of the board of state deposits, when the first steps were taken toward partitioning out the state funds under the new state depositary law. No definite action was taken at this meeting. The offers of various banks to take the state funds were not accepted. The state is to accept state deposits under the law, which requires the payment of at least two percent interest on daily balances were opened and listed. The aggregate amount asked for and for which a certificate was offered, exceeded $500,000. State Treasurer Coffin submitted a report showing that there was now in the treasury funds to the amount of $150,000 which could be deposited in banks. Another meeting of this board will probably be held this week, when the rate of interest that will be demanded will be fixed, and an apportionment of the funds made among the banks meeting the requirements of the law. It is believed that the board will demand the payment of 2 1/2 per cent interest.

INSPECTION OF BANKS.

In addition to this all state banks are subject to inspection by the state bank commissioner, and it is found that business is being done in violation of the law, such banks will be stripped of authority to do a banking business. The commissioner will be carefully inspecting at least once every year, and frequently as he may determine. The expense of the department will largely be borne by the banks, the law creating the department, fixing the license, inspection and other fees that must be paid for the privilege of doing business. Acting under the law, Mr. Ireland has already granted a certificate to the State Bank of American Falls, with a capital stock of $25,000. He has applications from bank charters at Sugar City, Twin Falls and the new town of Burley. He is also in correspondence with a number of capitalists outside of the state, who desire to open banks here, but have waited until a law should be enacted that would protect legitimate banking.

Installing New Jordan Pump—Sugar City News Briefs.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., April 14.—Yesterday the taxpayers of this school district voted upon the proposition of bonding this district for $15,000 to build new schoolhouse this summer. The voting standing 100 to 45 in favor of bonding. Options for sites for this building have already been arranged for and will be submitted to a meeting of the taxpayers two weeks from tonight for final selection. In all probability the schoolhouse will be built upon the property of the school in the lower part of town. Last year this question of bonding was voted upon by the taxpayers but was voted down as the majority thought the conditions would not warrant the expense.

The new pump to be placed at the mouth of Jordan river arrived a few days ago and is rapidly being put in place by R. B. Gardner, who has the contract for installing it. It will be ready for operation by the 15th.

IMPWORK IN IDAHO.

New State Law Provides for a Systematic Campaign in Each County.

APPRAISERS TO BE APPOINTED.

Department of State Banking Designed to Protect All Depositors.

Boise, Ida., April 15.—One thing in which the present state administration is engaged which is expected to return the expense of doing many fold, is the reorganization of field work in connection with the state land department. The field work is under the control of the state commissioner, Hon. C. J. Munson. It is the intention to put an appraiser in every county of the state. Each appraiser will be equipped with complete plat of the county in which he is working, showing all of the state's holdings in the territory assigned to him. He will also have a compass and a field book. In the latter the appraiser will be required to report as to the value of the lands, and other facts affecting the value of the lands so as to enable the state board of land commissioners to make upon the appraisalment.

MUST BE HONEST.

These county appraisers are given strict instructions as to the work to be done, particular stress being laid on the honesty of the work that is demanded. The law passed by the recent legislature, and the selection of the land department, provides: "If the state land commissioner, or any state land selector, appraiser, or timber cruiser, or appraiser, or other appointee or employee of the state board of land commissioners, shall, knowingly, make a false oath, concerning the selection or appraisalment of state lands, or the timber thereon, or knowingly or willfully divide any thing, or share information in regard to such land, other than to the state board of land commissioners, he shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a period not exceeding two years, and a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by both such term and imprisonment."

GETTING UP PLATS.

Earl L. Marvin is the special agent employed by the state board of land, getting up the land department plats. Mr. Marvin is an expert in the land department. He has spent 14 years in the employ of the Northern Pacific railway, and has been in the timber business and has a reputation for information and ability in connection with land department matters second to that of no other man in the west. Under Mr. Marvin's direction a full series of land plats of the state is being made. These plats will show each special grant of land to the state, the lands belonging to separate grants being designated by different colored lines; the common school lands, sections 16 and 36, and then sections for losses in sections 16 and 36; lands selected under the Carey act; These plats will give the title to all these lands, how acquired and how perfected. It will also show the boundaries of those under contracts of sale, those already deeded and those where a contest is under way. The character of the lands and their appraisalment will be on these plats, and they will serve as an index to the records in the land department. During the short time during which Mr. Marvin has already been at work, the value and desirability of these plats has been clearly shown. In a number of instances the land department has been able to make gains of many times more value than the entire cost of the department during the year.

SELECTION OF LANDS.

It is the purpose of the administration during the coming year, to make a careful selection of valuable agricultural lands to be reserved to the state. No settling at so fast a rate that in a short time it will be hopeless to secure valuable agricultural lands. The same is true of the timber lands, and the reason for this is, Gooding and the state land board will endeavor to make selections of state lands as rapidly as it can be done, and still have proper care exercised.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING.

A new department of the state government was created by the last legislature. The new department is that of the Department of Banking. Edwin Falls was named as state bank commissioner. The new law, which was passed at the instance of the state bankers, is designed to give the same security to state bank depositors, that is now enjoyed by those who prize national banks. It compels the state bank before doing business to secure a certificate from the state bank commissioner, showing that the institution has complied with the laws of the state in regard to banking institutions, which are to a large degree modeled on the practice with national banks.

THE MASTERY OF SELF.

Bishop Spaulding preached yesterday in St. Mark's cathedral from Isaiah, 56:7. "For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded; therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed." The preacher brought out that true mastery means the mastery of self, and in laboring for the good of others. Moreover, true happiness consists in devotion to duty. At the close of the sermon, the bishop confirmed 29 persons, and as an offertory Karl A. Schied sang "The Pains."

About Rheumatism.

There are many diseases which inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless line of remedies have been suggested. Hope that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which cures all kinds of rheumatism, with great success in the treatment of this disease. Our application of Pain Balm to the joints of the body, and the relief of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm can cure such a distressing ailment? SUNDAY IN THE CITY CHURCHES.

Few Men are Materialists and Not Many are Atheists, Says Rev. Mr. Young.

MANY A JEW WAS CRUCIFIED.

Rev. Eddy Says Christ's Death Upon Cross and His Dying Agonies Are Without Religious Significance.

Rev. Benjamin Young preached last night in the First Methodist church on "What shall I profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" The speaker said in part: "Life is dual. Few men are materialists, and there are not many atheists. The doctrines of materialism are too cold and repulsive to men. Man is spiritual. Christ came into the world to tell men great truths. He taught that life was a probation, that death did not end all, and that there was a judgment. He also taught that this life bears an important relation to that beyond. In view of the teachings of Jesus Christ, this interpretation of this text is of tremendous import. It concerns every man. It was designed to awaken men from lethargy. 'What shall I profit, if I am to be crucified?' 'Men like to figure out of bargain. They are very careful to estimate profits and calculate losses. Some of you so interested may figure this problem of profit and loss. Will it pay for a man to be crucified upon a cross? Let us turn to the scriptures and let us find the answer for himself that question. A man may get the material, even the world, but the history of man proves that the more getting of things does not satisfy his life. What compensates for loss of soul? A man forgets his real life, is submerged in business or the activities of life, but is there compensation here for loss of the finer things, even the spiritualities? Does mere business compensate for loss of soul? Does pleasure? The histories of men prove that they do not. The loss of soul to men if they remain in this world, and if they remain in this world, it is said that Carlyle sent his manuscript of the French Revolution to the philosopher Mill, and that the servant girl, seeing the pile of paper on the table, thrust it into the fire. With her own hand she destroyed the manuscript of the French Revolution. 'You may be able to reproduce or recreate after business losses, but if you operate under as here you can never call back the life which has been spent. This words of Jesus Christ have a powerful appeal to men if they remain in this world concerning the loss of life. A woman charged a nurse when she left home to carefully care for her babe, in whom her life was wrapped. When the nurse failed to do so, the mother said: 'Here are the baby's clothes, but the baby is drowned.' Some of us are about as wise as that nurse. We are lost in the material, submerged in the more things of life and we have forgotten the philosophy of Sartor Resartus and think that clothes is everything. We have forgotten the spirit and the soul."

AT THE UNITARIAN SERVICE.

At the Unitarian church yesterday morning, Rev. Frank P. Eddy preached on "The Crucified Christ," and said in part:

"The fact that Christ died on the cross is a matter of no significance. Many a Jew saw his death before Jesus, and after Him. His dying agonies are of no more religious importance than those of the thousands of the crucified men who have suffered the same way. The whole theory of the vicarious atonement is a monstrous and repulsive absurdity from the point of view of the liberal Christian. But it is undoubtedly suggestive and inspiring, because that Jesus and all great souls walk through the valley of tribulation for humanity's sake."

In Jesus' own loneliness of His mind, and in the agony of His death, He made Him feel the sorrow and sinfulness of men as His own. He was compelled by every impulse of His being to try to relieve men with a message of profound spirituality and to be constantly frustrated by their dullness and incapacity. This was His crucifixion. "God only permits men to be great in ways that are the types of their kind. The greatness of Jesus is inseparable from the fact that He typifies humanity in its nobler aspects. Hence the meaning of His crucifixion of spirit."
