"Lenny, you're a pig," said a father to his little five-year-old boy. "Now, do you know what a pig is, Lenny?" "Yes, sir; a pig is a big hog's little boy."

An English paper says that photographs can now be printed with printers' ink. They are as permanent as a printed text, and so easy of production that 12,000 may be produced from a single plate in one day.

Gov. Geary of Pennsylvania has now under consideration no less than seventy-eight applications for the pardon of convicts in Pennsylvania guilty of murder in the first degree, besides almost innumerable applications for offenders of a less heinous crime.

A master carpenter in Toplitz (Germany), lately made a bet of ten florins that he would eat twenty-five liver sausages and ten rolls of bread at one meal. He managed to get down twenty-three of the sausages and eight rolls, when he had to give up the task. He lost not only his bet, but died in consequence of his gluttony shortly afterwards.

A London importer of Australian preserved beef is about to establish an eating house in that city, where he promises to furnish a meat dinner, "well cooked, savory and nutritious," with the addition of potatoes, at the very trifling sum of two cents per plate. If luxuriously inclined, any one may prefer this repast with a plate of soup with bread, which is also to be furnished for two cents.

About four miles west of Chillicothe, Ohio, there recently lived a sick and decrepit widow and four children. No one knew in what manner they were provided with the necessaries of life until it was discovered, by chance, that when the neighbors' hogs were fed, the children went out and fed with them. After this discovery they were provided for by some humane neighbors.

Nothing annoys a man more than to be eagerly questioned when he comes home tired. Give him a neatly served dinner, or a pair of easy slippers, and a cup of tea, and let him eat and drink in peace, and in time he will tell you of his own proper motion all you wish to know. But if you begin the attack too soon, the chances are that you will be rewarded by curtly spoken monosyllables. Put down that piece of wisdom in your note book, girls; it will serve you well some day.

Craig, for many years the General Agent of the Associated Press, and a gentleman whose attention has been much given to the use of telegraphing, has completed an invention calculated to facilitate for the public the use of that great means of communication, the telegraph. His apparatus, he believes, will immensely reduce the expense of telegraphing, and that it will at once save time and money, are the features in its favor that he presents.

"Eyesore Jack" was the title bestowed upon an English plague, who used to make money by rendering himself a nuisance. He would buy a house in a genteel neighborhood and proceed to decorate it in the most absurd and fantastic manner. One of his achievements was "Zebra Zilla," a house painted with broad black stripes; another, which he called "Zodiac Hall," was adorned with rude sketches of zodiac signs. The end of all his ventures was a conviction of the neighbors that he was intolerable, and the purchase of his property at his own price.

The Vietnamese have organized a "Society for the Endowment of Marriageable Daughters," and as the Grand Duchess Glise (a oldest daughter of the Emperor) has undertaken the protectorate, its success is considered assured. The object is to enable fathers and guardians in moderate circumstances, to secure to daughters of wards, after contributing for a number of years to the society, dowry of two or three hundred guilders or from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars gold—a very acceptable sum to help in beginning house-keeping in Germany. The dowry will be paid immediately after the marriage ceremony, the only condition being that the young lady shall be 18 years of age. Twenty-five appears to be the age at which the society will consider a lady member an "old maid," for then any lady, upon giving up her entry papers, will have an amount of two hundred guilders returned to her, even without marrying.

Prof. O. C. Marsh, of Yale College has made a careful examination of the Onondaga stone image, and declares that it is of very recent origin and a most decided humbug. He says the figure is cut from a block of gypsum, similar to that found in Onondaga County and at other localities of the same formation in the State further west. The peculiar position of the body and limbs, which has occasioned so much remark, was apparently determined in a great measure by the form of the block of stone, which was water-worn on at least three of its sides, before the sculptor began his work. These rough water-worn surfaces were not entirely removed in cutting. Portions of them still remain on the sides of the head and on the limbs and feet, and have erroneously been regarded as indicating for the work a high antiquity. The tool marks are still very distinct on different parts of the statue, especially where they have not been obliterated by the imperfect polishing which evidently completed the work. In several places they are very clear, and therefore are evidently of subsequent formation. As gypsum is soluble in about four hundred parts of water, a very short exposure in the locality at Cardiff would suffice to obliterate all traces of tool marks, and also to roughen the polished surfaces, but these are both quite perfect, and hence the giant must have been very recently buried where discovered.

Executive Session—Cuban Correspondence—The Question Settled—A Regent Wanted for the Smithsonian Institution—Papa Cragin has Utah at heart—National Banking Capital—Telegraphic communication with Foreign Countries.

WASHINGTON.—The Senate was in executive session to-day for nearly four hours.

After the confirmation of Stanton it is understood the time was occupied mainly by a prolonged discussion on the President's refusal to comply with the request of the Judiciary Committee to transmit various papers in relation to the nomination of circuit judges. None of the latter have yet been reported from the Committee.

The President to-day transmitted to the Senate a voluminous document in reply to the resolution calling for information in regard to Cuba. There is little new in the correspondence submitted, which includes the entire correspondence of the State Department with Minister Sickles and all other parties in relation to the matter.

The question at issue between the President and the Senate Judiciary Committee is settled. Yesterday afternoon after a four hours' debate the executive session committee claimed the Senate had a right to see all papers bearing on the Circuit Judgeship, and that the President, on call, was in duty bound to send them to the capital. This the President and the Attorney General denied. The Committee asked the judgment of the Senate on the question. Conkling, Edwards and Carpenter were the principal supporters of the Committee's view. Morton, Sumner and Wilson opposed the Committee. A resolution offered by Wilson, was adopted requesting the President to send to the Senate all the information and recommendations respecting persons nominated for Circuit Judges.

WASHINGTON, 21.—The Vice President called attention to the requirements of the law for filling the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Fessenden as one of the Regents of the Smithsonian Institution.

Granger reported favorably, with amendments, the bill to provide for the execution of the law against polygamy in Utah.

Warner introduced a bill for the more equal distribution of the national banking capital, by providing that the amount of circulating notes issued by the banking association should not exceed $340,000,000 and that the preference be given in issuing said notes to sections having the least national bank circulation. Also requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to retire the amount in three per cent certificates, equal to the extent of the issue of bank notes under this act.

Sumner moved to take up the bill relative to telegraphic communication with foreign countries. After a discussion relative to the propriety of giving priority to this bill the Senate went into executive session.

HOUSE.

Discussion on Bill for Admission of Georgia.

At the evening session Woodward made a lengthy speech against the bill. He appealed to the House to postpone it. Fitch supported the bill on the ground that if any State violated the compact on which she was admitted Congress had the right to resume jurisdiction. Morgan, of Ohio, refused the bill. Axtell gave his reasons for opposing the bill, one being the provision requiring the Legislative ratification to the Fifteenth Amendment.

The gun-boats at San-Feabody and the Rebellion—Fat Men's Ball—McFarland Arraigned—The attempted Gun-boat Destruction—A Congressman's Trap—Died Suddenly.

NEW YORK, 20.—The steamer Bien-ville from Havana, reports this morning that she exchanged signals on the 17th with the Spanish gun-boats, under convoy of the steamer Pizarro, running under all sail with light wind.

Thurloe Weed publishes a letter vindicating the course of the late George Peabody during the rebellion. He gives an account of an interview with Peabody during the first year of the war, at which Peabody said his devotion to our Government and the Union was so strong, painful as was the thought of war with brethren, he should stand by the Government, and whatever he could do, then and there for the Union cause, he would do cheerfully. The letter further says, that during the attempt of the confederate sympathizers in Parliament to induce the recognition of the rebel Government, Peabody manifested a devotion to the North, and he never, directly or indirectly gave aid, comfort or encouragement to the rebel representatives.

The first annual ball of the Fat Men's Association was given to-night. No member is under 185 lbs. in weight and the aggregate over 25 tons. With such an amount of fat there was a corresponding display of good humor and jollity. The affair was conducted most respectably, and a large number of ladies were present.

McFarland was arraigned to-day at the Court of General Sessions, for the murder of Richardson. He pleaded through his counsel, "not guilty." No day is fixed for the trial.

It has transpired that the project was matured for the blowing up of the Spanish war vessel Pizarro and the gun-boats. Two tug-boats were chartered and lay out in the river on Saturday night, having a line of torpedoes stretched between them which were to be manipulated from the tug-boats.

The storm of Tuesday prevented the attempt.

NEW YORK, 21.—J. A. Wampler, Congressman from Georgia, published a card this morning claiming that in his correspondence with Wogan & Co., on the subject of supplying Georgia with counterfeit money, was only actuated by a laudable desire to entrap the rogues into some act by which they could be brought to justice.

NEW YORK, 21.—Rosa Cellina, the noted Contralto, who sang at a brilliant house at the Academy of Music on Friday night, died suddenly of heart disease.

FOREIGN NEWS.

FRANCE.

Cause of Expulsion of Refugees—Emperor aids Mutual Military Societies—Rochefort on the Expulsion—The Emperor and General Bismarck—Pion Plan to Proceed.

PARIS.—It is rumored that the Emperor was instrumental in driving the Spanish refugees out of France; but the report is unfounded. The intermingling of these refugees with the revolutionists here was the real cause of their expulsion.

The Emperor has promulgated a decree to encourage and aid all military societies for mutual assistance formed in France, and to this end the Emperor grants half a million francs to a Commission, of which he is to be honorary President.

In the Corps Legislatif to-day, Rochefort addressed an interpellation to the government, relative to the expulsion from French Territory of the political refugees, Senor Paul Angles, a deputy in the Spanish Cortes. He said the government permitted Queen Isabella and the Carlists to conspire in France against Spain, but exercises all its severity against Spanish Republicans. Rochefort concluded, "Then you have only one fear, and it is a Republic; she is at hand and will avenge the wrongs of Frenchmen and Spaniards."

General Banks had a long and very interesting audience with the Emperor yesterday. The Emperor expressed an earnest wish for a satisfactory understanding with the United States in postal and other equally important matters and regretted that his minister had not fulfilled his desires in this respect. It is reported that Prince Napoleon will soon resume the presidency of the privy council.

CANADA.

The Red River Outbreak.

A St. Paul special is a company of mounted insurgents have taken possession of the Hudson's Bay Co.'s Fort, near Pembina. Governor McDougall's attempt to organize the Indian forces and get up a counter revolution has utterly failed. The greater part of his agents and emissaries have been captured. The whole population is a unit. The French, under Riel, are in undisputed occupation of the whole country. McDougall is absolutely without a faction, all having deserted him except about fifty Swampy Indians. It is said McDougall is preparing to return.

BRAZIL.

A War-like Emperor—The Brazilian Army Hard Up.

A Rio letter of Nov. 24th says the Emperor of Brazil has informed the ministers who demanded a cessation of the war, that he would not treat with Lopez, and would not cease the war as long as the latter is free in Paraguay. The Brazilian army is still on scant rations. Lopez cleans the country as he retreats.

John Arthur Ottaway, the senior Secretary of the Foreign Department and a member of the House of Commons for Chatham, made a speech in that city last evening in which he expressed his hearty satisfaction at the settlement of the American naturalization question. He stated that an act had been drafted which would be brought before Parliament at its next session enabling British subjects to divest themselves of their nationality whenever they saw fit.

The steamship Monarch with the remains of the late George Peabody sailed for America to-day.
