MIGHTY SCHEME OF CENTRALIZATION

Prest. Roosevelt Will Take Advanced Stand on Doctrine of Federal Supremacy

STATE SOVEREIGNTY. OVER

Special Message on Japanese Question and California School Problem Will be the Occasion.

Will be Very Vigorous in Tone-It Will Bring on Some Great Issues.

Chicago, Dec. 14 .- A dispatch to the Record Herald from Washington says: A special message on the Japanese question and the California school problem supplementary to the discussion of these same subjects by President Roosevelt in his regular message, will be sent to Congress from the White House next Tuesday. It is stated authoritatively that this special message will be more vigorous in tone than the former communication and will not be calculated to cool the indignation of Californians previously aroused. The special message, moreover, aside from its local application, will be one of the most important communications in the entire list of those sent to Conress by the present executive. It will bring to a direct issue the centralization scheme of government which is likely to form the climax of endeavor on the part of the Roosevelt administration

The administration is about to take advanced ground regarding the doctrine of federal supremacy over state sovcreignty. The Japanese question raised in connection with the public schools of California, has supplied the opportunity to give forcible expression to the mighty scheme of centralization that is to be perfected if possible.

It is not possible at this writing to forecast in detail what the president will say in his second message on the Japanese question. Accompaying his message, which it is understood will be a full explanation of the administration's projected policy as to the supremacy of federal over state power will be the report of the special investigation of the San Frantsco school question made by Secy. of Commerce and Labor Metcalf. Regaidless of the nature of this report, the president will adhere vigorously to the position taken by him in his regular message, which was written before he left Washington to visit the canal zone, and before he had anything at all from Secy. Metcalf. But as to the Metcalf report, it has been learned that its author found much to condemn in the matter of the treatment of Japanese outside of the school question. His report, in fact. will furnish a new sensation. It will show, it is understood, labor union tyranny over Japanese which affects the rights held to be theirs by treaty in even more pronounced manaer than anything connected with the school embroglio.

It is known that Pelican Point is being considered, and that some very strong inducements are being made to hive one or more of the big companies lo-cate there. It is argued that there could be no possible danger of dam-age to crops or live stock at a point so remote from any town or settle-ment. The nearest farming commun-ity would be across the Utah lake 20 miles to the east.

OFFER FOR IOSEPA.

Still another proposition has come to light in the admission that an offer has been made to the Church for the losepa farm in northern Skull valley, Troub country of the destination of the Tooele county, a few miles off the Western Pacific. Of all the sites in Utah that probably would come nearest being what might be termed ideal, that is the one fact that has re-sulted in a strong offer being made for it. The amount the smelter people offer for it was $150,000 but the ownthat ers declined for the reason that they do not care to part with it.

before the French revolution all churches, all ecclesiastical lands and properties belonged to the church by as just a title as property is owned in our wn country by any religious denomina tion. At the revolution, all buildings, landed properties, funds, etc., were con-fiscated by the revolutionists. The con-stituent assembly later voted for the support of the clergy, an annual bud-set

The most important development today in the Brown-Bradley case, is the confirmation by Mrs. Annie Adams of the story printed exclusively in the "News" last night to the effect that Senator Brown was engaged to her, and intended to bring her back from this trip to the east, as Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Adams points out in an interview given in New York that she knew the Bradley incident in the life of Senator Brown, and had conditioned her acceptance of him upon his making a, complete and agreeable settlement with her. She says that if Mrs. Bradley had known her attitude on this question, she would have taken a different course than that which she pursued, and could have been assured that while she felt as she did no marriage would have taken place.

From local sources it is learned that Senator Brown has been a "different man" since he "fell in love" with Mrs. Adams this summer. He had changed his habits materially, and to some of his intimates he confided that he hoped to forget his past life, make Mrs. Adams the mistress of his east South Temple street home, and end his days in a respectable manner with his household in good order, and his estate in excellent shape. Senator Brown was 63 years of age, while Mrs. Adams is

LOCAL DISCUSSION.

The effect of the announcement of her mother's intentions upon Maude Adams, is being discussed today by those who know the family. It is said that Maude was aware of the growing attachment of her mother for Senator Brown, and used every effort during the past summer to get her mother away from Salt Lake. She wired and wrote entreaty after entreaty for her mother to come east, and after being refused, Charles Frohman joined with her in the effort, making the flattering offer which Mrs. Adams was fin-ally induced to accept at the combined entreaties of both the star and the manager. In her interview, Mrs. Adams gives it out that it was her intention go with Brown to Boston, where her daughter is playing, and there tell her of her intention to wed. The body will leave Washington this afternoon for Salt Lake, according an Associated Press dispatch received at noon.

The present conflict dates back to a special measure to be prepared later.

Matters of this nature embraced in y. Metcalf's report will furnish the by for many arguments to be adfanced by the president in his message.

FACTORY

An enthusiastic meeting was held in the Big Cottonwood meetinghouse yesterday afternoon and it was plain from the expressions of those present that there will be a packing house in that district next season, and steps are being taken to establish a canning factory and evaporator. The fruit growers of Salt Lake coun-ty are now thoroughly awake to the need of better facilities for handling the fruit crop of the county. For years there has been a tremendous waste of truit and low prices have generally prevailed through lack of systematic effort and extensive planting has been discouraged. Altogether too much time has been spent in marketing the crop and too little time spent in caring for the orchard. The state board of horticulture took the matter in hand last summer and three cars of fruit were shipped from Murray as an experiment. The ship-ping proved quite satisfactory to the growers and they are now organizing and getting ready for next season's business.

J. Edward Taylor, secretary of the state board of horticulture addressed the meeting and gave some facts concerning the fruit growers organizations of other western states. He also told of the rapidly growing commercial spir-it in Utah. Mr. F. McDonald made a report to the meeting of the work of a committee ap-pointed to investigate the possibilities of the market for next season's crop and gave some very valuable suggestions to the growers.

"He proposes as a policy what we may call the destruction of the state There will be another meeting held in the East Mill Creek meetinghouse may call the destruction of the state and a complete and final subordination of the state power to the federal power in Washington. The question will be further discussed at that meeting. The state board of horticulture is ar-

Washington, Dec. 14 .-- The body of former Senator Arthur Brown left for Salt Lake today over the Pennsylvania railroad at 12:15 o'clock. The departure was delayed to allow Mrs. Annie Adams, who telegraphed a desire to accompany it, to arrive and prepare for the trip west.

Accompanying the body were Max, the late senator's son, his daughter Alice, and Mrs. Adams. It was stated today by the undertaker who prepared the body for burial that Mrs. Adams viewed the body last night and showed great emotion.

Attempts to interview Mrs. Adams before leaving brought out the statement that it was to the discovery of their intended marriage that she attributed the cause of the shooting.

Mrs. Bradley is now confined in the same jail in which Guiteau, the slayer of President Garfield, was kept awaiting his trial. She is apparently utterly broken down, now that she realized the gravity of the situation which confronts her. In reply to a question today the district attorney stated that he could give no definite idea as to when Mrs. Bradley would be brought into court. It is understood that the plea of emotional insanity will be entered in her behalf.

SHAW ADVOCATES HIGH TAXED CREDIT CURRENCY.

Washington, Dec. 14 .-- Secy. Shav appeared before the house committee on banking and currency today in advocacy of a high taxed credit currency, suggesting 5 per cent as a desirable rate. He emphasized the need for great elasticity in currency but expressed the opinion that the plan formed by the American Bankers' association will not bring about suffi-cient elasticity to be very useful. Granting that the bankers' plan results in the issuance of $200,000,000 additional in national bank notes, Mr. Shaw said that in his opinion not more than $20,000,000 worth of these will be redeemed.

Mr. Shaw thought the bankers plan was wholly inadequate to meet the requirements of the commercial world and said it was encumbered with too much machinery for the lim-ited good results he feels it is capable of accomplishing. He said he did not want to be regarded as an opponent of the measure suggested by the banks because he felt that any step toward relieving the demand greater elasticity at certain seasons of the year was desirable, but he ar-gued that the committee strive to gued that the committee strive to frame a more effective measure. It was urged by the secretary that an effort should be made to make all our currency more elastic rather that to impart elasticity to a certal a certain amount of emergency currency, der the bankers' plan, he said, the credit currency which goes into national banks would be on its way to redemption. There would be no reason why private banks should seek the redemption of national bank notes and consequently they would make effort to do so

In the bankers plan national banks are to be permitted to issue $25,000 additional notes for every $100,000 of their capital, at an interest rate of 215 per cent and an additional $12,-215 per cent and an additional $12,-000 with interest at the rate of 5 per

MRS. ADAMS' STATEMENT.

Accompanying the body will be Mrs. Adams, Max Brown and Alice Brown, and the party would have left earlier but for the delay in procuring a suitable casket. The one finally secured is an exact duplicate of the casket used in burying the late President McKinley This morning a number of senators who served while Senator Brown was at the capital in his official capacity, called at the undertaking establishment.

The signed statement given out by Mrs. Adams in New York is as follows: "Before leaving for Washington I wish to make the statement which now seems necessary. Senator Brown and I were to have been married. When the news of the tragedy came I was expecting him to join me in New York At that time I planned to go to Bos-ton to see my daughter. The situation that has been reserved has been of such a nature that I feel I have no right to make known to the world that which he steadfastly refused to do, "ASENATH (Annie) C. ADAMS KISKADDEN."

WEDDING NEW YEARS DAY. Continuing Mrs. Adams said:

"The senator and I were engaged to be married on New Year's day, with one great proviso. That was, that he should affect an amicable settlement with Mrs. Bradley. I fully knew of his relations with her, as did every one else, and I insisted that he should provide to her entire satisfaction before were married. He promised to do this. "We were to have met here in New York this week and were to hav to Boston, where my Daughter Maude Adams, is appearing, and we were to acquaint her with our intentions. We were then to have journeyed to his sor and daughter and tell them. We had hoped to have a union of the two fam-liles at the celebration of the ceremony

"The last letter I had from Senator Brown was that he hoped to be through with his legal business in Washington yesterday, and that he would call on me Wednesday night at the Grand Un-

"I was in Philadelphia when I heard of the shooting. The news of the shooting of the senator by Mrs. Bradley

 NEW VIEW OF SALT LAKE. A special feature of the Christmas "News" will be the Mammoth photograph of Salt Lake City taken from the top of the city and County building looking north and northwest. The view was secured by Johnson, the photographer, who waited for many years before he found the ideal atmospheric conditions to allow a perfect representation. The picture runs across two full pages of the "Nows," and gives a beautiful idea of the extent of the city's growth and development.
