WASHINGTON, 5.—Orth rose to a juestion of privilege and said he in-ended early to introduce a bill for a change in the methods of selecting committees. He alfuded to the vast interests involved and said the re-sponsibility of forming committees was too great for one man, however capable and honest, as now exercis-ed. It was a dangerous one-man power and might some time be used to the detriment of the best interests of the people. He said to the Speaker he had been kindly assign-OTHERS,
Speaker he had been kindly assigned to a second place on the committee of foreign affairs, and second on the committee of foreign affairs, and second on rules and chairman of the civil service committee. This was his seventh term here. He was the oldest member except two. He had served during that time on the committee of private land. the committee of private land claims, on the committee of ways claims, on the committee of ways and means and for ten years on lossign affairs, part of the time as chairman. He was the only republican member who, previous to this session, had served as chairman of any committee in this House. He, therefore, submitted that the Speaker's recent action had done him an injustice and, therefore, necessarily injustice and, therefore, necessarily and means and for ten years on the first California district from liability on his official bond for a default or deficiency was arrested on the charge of perjury, the complainant being Joseph Hart, of the Truth. Hewett's request to be removed from the committee on public buildings, for the reason his business might make it improper for him to rarve, was granted. Adjourned until Monday.

AMERICAN.

Biniuo's Circular, Washingron, 5. — The general character of Blaine's circular note to Central and South America has become know. It bears the date of the middle of November, and was sent by the same steamer which conveyed Trescott and Walker Blaine. It sets forth at considerable length the attitude of the United States towards other Republics upon this and the South American connt, affirming it is our policy the good offices of this nation use the good offices of this nation to establish and perpetuate peace be tween the various nations, to which this note is addressed. He affirms it is not the desire or policy of the United States to interfere in the domestic concerns of any of these nations, but that the commercial interests of the United States are deeply interested in the existence of harmonious relation between the various Rejublics themselves, and between each and the United States. The letter, after discussing at great length the mutual interests at great length the mutual interests of the United States and the nation of the United States and the nations addressed, treats the question of the great influence of European powers upon the two American continents, and virtually proposes that the United States and various other Republics to which the circular letter is sent, should come to a mutual understanding in regard to this matter, and proposes mutual guarantees against any interference or supervision from should.

The letter was prepared with great care, and while the subjects alluded to are fully discussed, the tone of the letter is and to be eminently conservative. The letter proposes on behalf of the United States, an International Conference of the republics of Mexico and Central and South America, to meet at Washington on the 30th of next November. The request is made that the authorities each should name—two commission—

WASHINGTON, 5.—The Chair submitted petitions from the bar of Rockford, Ills., for the organization of a court of appeals.

Many petitions were presented of which a large number prayed for the exercise of Government control over railroad transportation charges. Garland introduced a joint resolution to reappropriate the amount of $375,000 appropriated by act of March 1877, to pay in full to certain southern mail contractors for amounts due under their contracts for the years 1859 60 and 1861.

A bill was introduced by Anthony to promote the efficiency of the navy. By Maxey to increasing the efficiency of the signal service. Adjourned.

Tightening the Reins.; Judge Cox has issued the following directions as to the management of the court room during the argument in the case of Guiteau: All visitors will be allowed to be seated in the northeast corner of the room; the jury is in this corner; no visitors to enter there, after the argument is concluded any day, so as to pass be-tween counsel and jury; though visitors may be admitted who are invited to seats on the bench. All persons leaving the court room dur-ing the argument must pass out through the south door to avoid passing between counsel and jury, and for that object a passage way is to be left between the trial table and the audience. The south passage way to be kept sufficiently clear to allow passing in and out. The marshal is charged with the execution of the foregoing directions.
