(Signed)
W. H. BANCROFT,
J. S. WELLS,
JAMES H. LAMONT.

It was a delighted crowd of carmen which gathered around the company barns this morning and brought their cars out at 6 o'clock, with zongs clanging all the way down to Main street.

The strike was over, and the reaction after two days of restrained feelings in which the men had been standing together against the fear that strike breakers would come in to take their places permanently, made itself felt in a demonstration of joy as each car went on its way in charge of union men or union officials.

The feeling today among the men is one of gratitude to C. O. Pratt whom they consider a general of ability, and to B. H. Roberts, who was trusted with their case in the previous settlement secured last June, and who entered this case after all ways of effecting a settlement seemed to be closed.

PEACE AT MIDNIGHT.

The Kenyon hotel was the scene of the final negotiations for peace. Brigham H. Roberts entered the case early in the day, holding an interview at 10:30 o'clock with Mr. Pratt, and learning that his case was one of wages, and not union recognition as usually stated. Mr. Roberts then left for the company headquarters, where he held a conference with Mr. Bancroft and other officials. At the end of this conference he was prepared to offer a wage scale of 20 cents after the first year and 25 cents for service after that time. At midnight he met Mr. Pratt at the Kenyon and went over the entire proposition with him, finally securing signatures of both parties concerned to a memorandum of settlement.

Meanwhile the union had been assembled at 3 o'clock to wait for the final settlement. It had been announced to them, were in progress. At 8 o'clock the men disbanded for supper, and again convened, but after adjourning and did not learn of the happy outcome until messengers reached them early this morning or late in the night. For that reason not all of the cars were ready to run this morning on schedule time, but the number sent out was increased through the day, following the meeting of the men to ratify the agreement, this morning.

Chairman Pratt had not been in position in the final settlement, but declared this morning that it was all a mistake to suppose that he or the men wanted to rule the city. He was as they thought they would be asking a little more than $2.75 a day to do that, and their own business was all they wanted to run at that figure. While he did not figure in the final agreement, his principal allegation that the case was really one of bread and butter and not union recognition was vindicated by the action of the union and working with him, in waving the secondary considerations of union recognition and the enforcement of the closed shop.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night, Chairman Pratt sent the following telegram to the president of the organization he represents:

"W. D. Mahon, president, 45 Hodges building, Detroit, Mich.: Strike settled midnight. Entire wage scale granted. All men return to local positions without discrimination. Era of jubilation, including the public."
"C. O. PRATT."

CITY COUNCIL IN WEEKLY SESSION

Several Communications Received and Considerable Oratory Indulged in Last Night.

PROTEST ON FRANCHISES.

Charles Crane Addresses Correspondence on Proposed Utah Light & Power Ordinance.

The strike situation received very little attention at the hands of the city council last night, although the Utah Federation of Labor sent in a copy of the resolution passed by it on Sunday endorsing the action of the strikers. The resolution was filed upon motion of Ferry without any comment whatever. This was the only matter which in any way pertained to the strike and it required no action on the part of the council there was not any oratory on that subject.

Another communication was received from the Federation of Labor in which it was charged that foreigners were given the preference over American labor on the public improvements now going on in the city and that some of the foremen on the work were receiving $1 for each foreigner thus employed as a bonus for the job. The communication stated that the Federation entered a protest against such action on the part of public contractors and would furnish the council with ample proof of the charges if needed. Upon motion of Carter the communication was referred to the streets committee, and the representatives of both sides of the controversy will appear before the committee on Thursday night, when it will be considered.

CHARLES CRANE'S PROTEST.

A protest was received from Charles Crane against the granting of the extension of the Utah Light and Railway company's franchise as proposed in an ordinance submitted by the council last Monday night. The communication states several reasons for opposing the matter. First, Mr. Crane is of the opinion that 20 years is long enough for a franchise to run, and that franchises should not be granted except by initiative and referendum; second, the people should be considered and consulted in the matter; third, the city should receive some profit for the extension; fourth, "the Utah Light and Railway company is the illegitimate offspring of a corporation which has been a fraud on the people since it was organized, and it is a highwayman, holding up the people of the entire state by exorbitant freight charges, and debauches every legislature in our state. Your honorable body knows how a few days since they tried to build the city council. Grant this franchise and the streets which have cost the people millions of dollars will become freight yards for this corporation which denies 400 honest employees the right to live decent lives."

Mr. Crane suggests that the fare be reduced to 2 1/2 cents between 5 and 8 a. m. and 5 and 7 p. m. and that at the end of the franchise all the property of the company revert to the city. The matter was referred to the municipal law committee.

STREET IN BAD SHAPE.

A petition was received from J. W. Utter, the Marine Coal company and about 200 other business men and residents residing west of Fourth West street asking that First South street be put in a passable condition so that teams can get to and from the business portion of the city without having to go two or three blocks out of the way. The petitioners state that First South, North Temple and First North streets are practically closed to teams by the Short Line Railroad company, and that the viaduct on North Temple street is for streets cars and is not safe for teams. The council referred the matter to the streets committee with power to act in regard to First South street and to put it in condition and the municipal law committee was instructed to draw up an ordinance requiring the railroad company to build a viaduct across the street on North Temple street just north of the present viaduct.

WELLS RESOLUTION PASSES.

Wells introduced a resolution providing for the installation of two cluster light poles on the east and west side of the Brigham Young monument instead of the present arc lights there. The cost of the change will not exceed $130. In support of his resolution he urged that the change be made at once so that the improvement now under way at the monument can be completed at once. The posts will conform to those to be used for cluster lights on the east side of that block.

CONTRACT RELEASES.

The report of the committee of the whole in regard to releasing the Utah Fireproofing company from its contract for sidewalk construction awarded in 1905 was submitted, but after some little discussion, was laid over for one week upon request of Black and Crabtree.

SEEK REFUNDS.

Several petitions were received from property owners asking for the refund of their special sidewalk tax and interest on the money paid in by them on the work which has been left uncompleted by the contractors. The council was on the verge of granting the petitions when Recorder Moreton called attention to the fact that there was probably a thousand more just like the ones before the council if these were granted. Upon his suggestion the petitions were referred to the finance committee to be held up until after the council gets through with the question of releasing the contractors from completing the work.

committee to be held up until after the council gets through with the question of releasing the contractors from completing the work.

PAT MORAN CALLED.
P. J. Moran has failed to make a payment on the Pascoe lime quarry which he leased from the city under contract dated Dec. 12, 1906. Under the terms of the contract Moran agreed to pay the city $125 upon its execution, but he has not done so. City Auditor Alf, who called the council's attention to the matter, was instructed to notify Mr. Moran to pay up at once, and also to pay interest on the sum, which now amounts to $47.10.

GARBAGE HOPPERS.

City Engineer Kelsey was authorized to at once take charge of the construction of the hoppers and dumping platform for loading garbage into cars on the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad at a cost of about $14,000, which is the engineer's estimate of the cost.

O'DONNELL WRATHY.

Councilman O'Donnell went on the warpath and tendered his resignation, but later consented to it being withdrawn after he was labored with by Ferry and Carter. The trouble arose after the engineer had been authorized to build the hoppers at the loading platform for the garbage. O'Donnell is chairman of the sanitary committee and had worked hard to have the garbage cared for in the future. He and the committee had arranged to have the board of public works to rush the matter of advertising for bids for the work so that there would be no delay whatever in the construction. When the council went back on the committee and authorized the engineer to do the work, O'Donnell wrote out his resignation and handed it to the recorder, Carter and Ferry, both agreed with O'Donnell and upon the promise of Ferry to move for a reconsideration of the matter the councilman consented to the withdrawal of his resignation, whereupon Carter went to the recorder and got the communication and destroyed it, and the matter of letting the contract will be reconsidered at the next meeting.

BIDS FOR ADVERTISING.

Fernstrom introduced a resolution authorizing the city recorder to solicit bids from all papers of the city for publishing advertisements of notices of intention to make public improvements and notices required in levying special taxes for the same. The matter will be considered on Thursday night, when the council meets to approve the payrolls.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR.

The mayor submitted the appointment of Henry H. Bockholt as city plumbing inspector to succeed Fred Spencer, resigned. The appointment was confirmed by a unanimous vote.

G. A. R. APPROPRIATION.

An appropriation of $100 was made to the G. A. R. to assist in the expenses of the Memorial day exercises.

At the close of the meeting all the councilmen, except Proctor, Black and Davis, went to the office of the chief of police and consulted with him in regard to the strike situation. They authorized the chief to employ all the extra men he needed to maintain peace and protect life and property, and informed him that they would stand back of him in that matter.

Your Clothes Will Look Well Always If Glissmeyer Makes Them

If you are anything like myself you want your clothes to look well always, not just when they are new.

In order to make clothes retain their shape, the fabric must first be shrunk until no more shrink can be taken out, and this I do by my own special process.

I have made a thorough study of this shape-holding problem and find it to be purely a matter of shrinkage. All fabrics—wool in particular—will shrink and unless this shrink tendency is overcome the first damp weather will be a bood-bye signal to shape and fit and you suffer from "hump shoulder," "lapel curl," "chest tightness," "a bag at the knees,"—and the other common clothes defects.

DURABLE—Thoroughly shrunk garments do not wear so quickly, because they do not wrinkle and chafe in odd places.

STYLISH—A Suit to be really stylish must fit and hold its shape. A suit that holds its shape and fits will show its style, if it does not fit and hold its shape it can't show its style—and that is all there is about it.

FITTING—The fitting I attend to personally and never let a suit go out until the customer is satisfied. We will make your clothes as you want them made. Of course we will offer suggestions or tell you how they should be made to become you.
