The copper works will probably not when the men suddenly quit work there were 250 tons of copper in the furnaces, which will have to be taken apart and then rebuilt. The loss caused by the stoppage of work is placed at $35,000.

The Smokehouse Lode.

Regarding the Smokehouse lode located in the city of Butte, Mont., on which work was started a short time-ago by the A. H. Tarbet syndicate, the Butte Miner says the foundation for a new air compressor that will operate three drills is laid and in a few days the compressor will be placed in posi-tion. This will be operated by an indep indent electric motor. A new water proof electric pump is expected to arrive this week. The former one was not a success. The Smokehouse is be-Eighty-five feet north of the 200 level in the shaft, the north vein was encountered a few days ago, about five degrees to the northeast of the expected point. On account of having no pumping facilities, the foreman would not penetrate it, fearing the mine might be flooded, as the water shows quite and turnsheets will be sent out from Butte this week. The lead is very large and was tapped at a depth of 200 feet by a tunnel 367 feet long. This tunnel was run under contract by Frank Penn and was completed about two weeks ago be flooded, as the water shows quite an increase. To the south of the shaft increase. through a distance of 30 feet several stringers of ore were found, showing onsiderable zinc and some galena. As soon as the pump arrives development work will be actively pushed.

Newhouse Tunnel Strike. Trouble is brewing at the Newhouse tunnel because of a recent big strike of ore. Possession of the rich vein has not been given to anyone because of two claimants. The John Owen Company lays claim to the ore body to the east of the tunnel and for some distance to the west. W. E. Henshaw also claims the ore body. It will result, therefore, in litigation or the working of the mineral deposit by the tunnel people under some kind of an agreement. Lateral some kind of an agreement. Lateral rights will enter largely into the adjustment. Both parties will probably sink their shafts and some arrangements may be made for the tunnel, peode to drift and raise in the tunnel, and after paying all expenses deposit the net proceeds from the sale of such ore in some bank until the question of ownership is settled.

New Mercur Engine.

The new engine for the Salt Lake and Mercur Railroad passed Council Bluffs yesterday and is expected here early next week. The engine is a 50-tons weight, and is similar to No. 5, the largest engine used on the road. All of the engines are geared so that the whole weight of the engine rests on all whole weight of the engine rests on all of the driving wheels, which insures the grip necessary in climbing such heavy grades as are found on the Fair-field-Mercur road. The engine is coming through on its own wheels and it is stated that the smallest one now in stated that the smallest one now in use on the road will not be needed when the new one arrives.

the Metropolis on the Mississippi. St. Louis, May 4.-Admiral and Mrs. Dewey breakfasted rather late, the long ride from Chicago and the parade

Shortly after 10 o'clock a reception committee from the Merchants' Exchange called on the admiral, and at 19:30 a. m. the admiral and Mrs. Dewey and Lieuts. Crawford and Caldwell were escorted to carriages and driven to the Merchants' Exchange where the first of a series of receptions in their honor was held. The admiral received an ovation all along the short drive to the exchange. The interior of the exchange had been tastefully decor-ated. As Admiral Dewey, escorted by President O. L. Whitelaw, of the Mer chants' Exchange stepped on the plat-form, he was greeted with enthusiastic applause and waving of handkerchiefs, which continued several minutes. President Whitelaw made a brief address in behalf of the members of the exchange, welcoming Admiral and Mrs. Dewey to St. Louis. Mayor Henry Zelgenheim followed and in his characteristic style emphasized the welcome extended by President Whitelaw, Admiral Dewey smilingly responded assuring the com-mittee of his pleasure in being in St. Louis. After the reception the dis-tinguished party was escorted to car-riages and taken for a drive along the eautiful boulevards and driveways of the west end.
