

MURDER TRIAL MOVING SLOWLY

Dusan Dohb Proves Important
Witness for State in Murder Case.

SAYS HE SAW KILLING.

Probably Another Week Will Be Consumed Taking Testimony in Case Filled With Interesting Details.

The testimony of Dusan Dohb, the Austrian who claimed to be an eye witness to the killing of Mike Popich by Steve Marovich in Bingham canyon on July 11 last, was concluded in Judge Armstrong's court this morning. The witness was under fire of cross-examination during the entire morning session, but as far as could be understood, Dohb's testimony remained practically unshaken. He maintained that he saw Marovich shoot Popich as the latter emerged from the Bogen boarding house to go on the night shift toward evening, and that Popich fell after being struck by the first shot, although Marovich shot him two or three times after that.

STATE'S SECOND WITNESS.
The next witness for the state was John Zorvan, who was placed on the stand shortly before noon. Zorvan, it is claimed, did not see the first shot fired, but did see Popich fall, and saw Marovich fire the other shots into the fallen man's body. The same difficulty is being experienced with Zorvan's testimony as with that of Dohb, it being almost impossible to get a straight story through the interpreter. Considerable time is lost in this way, and it was necessary this morning for the judge to peremptorily order the witness to answer questions on the stand before the state is ready to rest, and perhaps as many witnesses will be examined by the defense, so the trial will in all probability last for at least a week.

SUITS FOLLOW DELAYS.

Cutlemen Bring Action Against Harrington Lines on Account Slow Time.

Two damage suits against railroad companies were transferred from the Second district court to Ogden yesterday to the Third district court in this city. One of the suits was brought by the Union Pacific Railroad company and the other against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, and demand damages alleged to have been done in delaying the transportation of cattle. Charles LaFevre and Alexander Burnett are plaintiffs in the Union Pacific case, and they claim the railroad delayed 21 carloads of cattle between Green River, Wyo., and Omaha, to their damage in the sum of $2,800. M. A. Thomas is plaintiff in the action against the Short Line, and he asks for $2,200 for damages alleged to have been inflicted upon his cattle by delay in their transportation between Ogden, Wyo., and Omaha.

The cases were transferred from Ogden to this city for the reason that the headquarters of the railroad companies is here.

GILDED YOUTH IN JAIL

Takes Miss Botsford of Salt Lake Auto Riding and Omits to Pay Garage Bills.

Clarence Granger Astor, quite English in name, son of Arthur Astor, a wealthy New Yorker, got into trouble at Chicago yesterday, and also into jail because he tried to live up to the reputation of a real live one and 18 karats fine when it came to the art of entertaining.

His escapades would not be of any particular interest here but for the fact that young Astor was a Salt Lake visitor some time ago, met a Salt Lake girl, Miss Josephine Botsford, of 107 North Main street, and was so taken with her of his entertainment of her that he landed behind the bars of the Harrison street police station yesterday for the non-payment of a modest sum of $55 for automobile hire.

With the youth was another young man, Abdon Grander, son of Rev. N. O. Grander, of Chicago. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

The youths, according to the chug chugged to their hearts' content. After the ride, and after Miss Botsford had been taken to her place of abode, the youths, according to word from Chicago, decided to enhance the glare of the red-light district. Of course they took the automobile and all this time the owner of the machine was figuring up dollars and cents per hour and minute. A man named Walter Wheaton was with them and proved a most entertaining companion for Astor and Grander as long as young Astor's

When young Astor was here some weeks ago he explained that he came to "look over" the city. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

The youths, according to the chug chugged to their hearts' content. After the ride, and after Miss Botsford had been taken to her place of abode, the youths, according to word from Chicago, decided to enhance the glare of the red-light district. Of course they took the automobile and all this time the owner of the machine was figuring up dollars and cents per hour and minute. A man named Walter Wheaton was with them and proved a most entertaining companion for Astor and Grander as long as young Astor's

When young Astor was here some weeks ago he explained that he came to "look over" the city. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

The youths, according to the chug chugged to their hearts' content. After the ride, and after Miss Botsford had been taken to her place of abode, the youths, according to word from Chicago, decided to enhance the glare of the red-light district. Of course they took the automobile and all this time the owner of the machine was figuring up dollars and cents per hour and minute. A man named Walter Wheaton was with them and proved a most entertaining companion for Astor and Grander as long as young Astor's

When young Astor was here some weeks ago he explained that he came to "look over" the city. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

The youths, according to the chug chugged to their hearts' content. After the ride, and after Miss Botsford had been taken to her place of abode, the youths, according to word from Chicago, decided to enhance the glare of the red-light district. Of course they took the automobile and all this time the owner of the machine was figuring up dollars and cents per hour and minute. A man named Walter Wheaton was with them and proved a most entertaining companion for Astor and Grander as long as young Astor's

When young Astor was here some weeks ago he explained that he came to "look over" the city. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

The youths, according to the chug chugged to their hearts' content. After the ride, and after Miss Botsford had been taken to her place of abode, the youths, according to word from Chicago, decided to enhance the glare of the red-light district. Of course they took the automobile and all this time the owner of the machine was figuring up dollars and cents per hour and minute. A man named Walter Wheaton was with them and proved a most entertaining companion for Astor and Grander as long as young Astor's

When young Astor was here some weeks ago he explained that he came to "look over" the city. During the visit he made the acquaintance of Miss Botsford, a charming young woman. When he learned that she was in Chicago yesterday he lost no time in locating her and extended an invitation to take an automobile ride through the northern part of the Windy city.

Constipation

Should not be neglected. It leads to more serious troubles. It shows that the important functions of the liver are imperfectly performed. The best medicine to take for it is the mild, gentle and purely vegetable cathartic, Hood's Pills, which act on the liver and bowels, cure biliousness, constipation, morning and sick headache, break up colds, relieve uncomfortable fullness after dinner.

Hood's Pills

Are prepared by C. I. HOOD CO., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists and sent by mail. Price, 25c.

Constitution

roll held out, but just as soon as that was gone Wheaton remembered that pressing engagement and disappeared. The young men were in a hilarious frame of mind when they finally drove up to the garage. Then they received a shock. The hard hearted auto owner quietly but firmly demanded the sum of $55. Astor didn't have 55 cents. Neither did Grander. Then the motor gasoline sent for the patrol wagon and the two young bloods were sent to the Harrison street station, where they were locked up.

EDITION NEVER PRINTED.

Tribune's "Glorious American Victory" Number That Never Went to Press.

The election which has now gone down to history carried with it several disappointments. Possibly the most poignant grief was focused (with the accent on the cussed) at Tribune headquarters.

In anticipation of "a great and glorious American victory" the Salt Lake Tribune was prepared to give the much-inflated public a most dazzling array of pages of the morning paper. It was cradled in the fashion in which bright hopes were ruthlessly shattered and unrelenting toll and expense went unrewarded. Of course the paper was a candidate all down the line, and the dictionary rifled of available adjectives to carry the same. The stereotypers worked like horses getting out patriotic borders comprised of columns and phalanxes of Stars and Stripes up and down the page. The cartoonists were turned loose on masterpieces which were destined to eclipse previous efforts in the direction of caricature. Hours were spent on a most elaborate cartoon which the artist neglected to finish. His assistants, however, were not so careless. They finished the cartoon, and all this went for naught. The American flags were pulled out of the cases, the masterpieces of cartoon scores were ruthlessly thrown into the metal pot and the cuts fled away against the day when the eighth of November would be used for other purposes than exalting "American" candidates. And those burning patriotic and jubilant editorials of the day were left to change his hell box, which is the printer's elegant name for the repository of cast-off metal and worthless type.

DEATH OF O. B. OLSEN.

Ola B. Olsen, manager for the last 15 years of the Bismarck saloon, died last midnight, aged 46, at the Dr. Groves L. D. hospital, where he had submitted to an operation for dangerous stomach troubles. He leaves a widow and one child living at 317 Tenth East street. The deceased was a native of Christiania, Norway.

CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED.

G. W. Bates, residing at 242 east Sixth South street, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that while he was in a store at 222 Main street purchasing a suit of clothes some one picked his pockets and stole $12.75. He went into a hotel to change his clothes and he claims that while he was talking to the tailor about alterations the money was taken from the pockets of his clothing. The police are investigating.

STOLE SOME SAMPLES.

John Delaney was brought in from Bingham Canyon yesterday afternoon and placed in the county jail on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged that Delaney entered a hotel at Bingham and stole a quantity of woolen goods that were being displayed by a Logan merchant at that place. Delaney was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Forbes.

Daughters of the Pioneers

Discuss Pioneer Literature

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers met yesterday afternoon at the Brigham Young Memorial hall, and an exceptionally interesting program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

The program was given by Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon, who took for her topic, "Pioneer Literature and Writers." Mrs. Cannon began with remarks upon the influence exerted by literature, and how the beliefs, customs and characteristics of people and periods were expressed in it. Then she showed how the pioneer literature of Utah was written, and how the pioneer literature of Utah was written.

FIERCE HUSBAND, VIOLENT TEMPER

Marie Goldberg Says Her Hubby Frequently Beat Her.

CUT HER HEAD WITH BUCKET

For Not Keeping Him Posted On Fish and Game Law.

Charging her husband with being a fierce and violent temper and with having beaten her many times in years past, and with having, since their coming to reside in Salt Lake in September, 1907, beaten her more frequently than usual, Marie Goldberg this morning filed suit for divorce from John Goldberg, in the Third district court. The complaint specifies a number of times when defendant, brutally beat and mistreated plaintiff, one in particular being on the 10th of the present year, when the defendant was arrested and fined $10 for a misdemeanor of fishing in Jordan river without a license. Plaintiff beat and struck defendant on the head with a bucket and cutting a deep gash in her forehead, rendering her ill for several days. Again, on Sept. 23, 1907, the defendant attacked plaintiff with such violence that she was forced to flee from her home in fear of her life and was sheltered by neighbors for nearly a week.

DEALER IN JUNK.

Plaintiff alleges that defendant is a machinist and capable of earning good wages, but for years past has been buying and selling junk, such as old iron, tin, etc., and earns about $15 per month by such means.

Three children living, the result of the union, the eldest being 10 years of age and the youngest 10 months old. The plaintiff states that she and the defendant have a house and lot at 555 South Seventh West street in Salt Lake City, which is of the reasonable value of $1,000. The defendant is a laborer and saving of both plaintiff and defendant, which is subject to a mortgage of $700.

Plaintiff prays for a decree of divorce, for the care and custody of the six children, for a decree of sale of the property now owned by the defendant, and for the equitable division between the plaintiff and children and the defendant, and that the defendant be required to pay the costs of the suit, with $50 attorney's fees and for $35 per month permanent alimony.

WOMAN GOES TO JAIL.

Ruth Howard, a woman who was ordered to leave town some time ago for being a nuisance, was yesterday taken to the county jail for not paying her rent on the streets by a deputy sheriff, and was placed in jail to begin her sentence. It seems the woman went to Bingham for a time but wandered back to Salt Lake, her promise not to do so to the contrary notwithstanding.

EXHIBIT OF CUPS.

The silver cups won by exhibitors at the recent state fair will be placed on exhibition shortly in the Chamber of Commerce. The gold and silver medals have been received from the manufacturer, and will be given to a local jewelry house for engraving. There are 70 gold and 20 silver medals. The Chamber of Commerce will have a letter from former exhibitors stating their purpose to be very much in evidence at the next fair.

THURSDAY SOCIALS.

Weekly Entertainments for Elks and Their Friends Begin This Evening.

This evening marks the opening of the social season at the Elks' clubhouse on State street. Every Thursday evening during the winter months there will be given an entertainment of Elks and their wives and friends. In addition to the dances and socials, there will be a most enjoyable time anticipated. The socials have become most popular in the city, and a successful season is looked for. Exalted Ruler A. J. Davis, Secretary Raybould and the members of the entertainment committee, have worked hard for the success of these social functions.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Tonight sees the only performance of the big fairy spectacle entitled "The Land of Nod."

Lyric—Manager Clark announces a new and attractive vaudeville and phone pictures for Saturday afternoon.

Colonial—The advance sale for the opening night will begin at the box office on Thursday the 12th inst.

PERSONALS.

J. Fowson Smith, Jr., has gone to Europe on business.

Henry Krumpke, a mining engineer, has returned from a two months' prospecting trip in Arizona.

C. H. Monroe has been quite ill and confined to his home, but is now feeling better.

Samuel C. Hooker of Philadelphia, interested in the sugar manufacture, is at the Knutsford, en route to California.

Richard Smith of Honolulu, is at the Kenyon, on a transcontinental trip. He says the people of the islands will be greatly pleased to have him.

W. W. Trimmer, formerly teller with the Utah National bank of this city, is in town for a few days from Boise where he is interested in banking. Trimmer reports Boise as a most promising residence and commercial center. If it were only on the direct line of the railroad it would be booming in short order.

The High Priest Quorum of the Ensign stake will hold its regular monthly meeting next Sunday Nov. 8, 1908, at 10 a. m. in the new White hall, corner of Third and Second avenues. A full and punctual attendance is desired.

Towney's Back Ache and Kidney Pills

Is an excellent remedy for all kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder.

50c a bottle
3 for $1.25

Prescriptions Filled and Delivered Promptly and Correctly.

DRUG STORE.
The Pure Drug Dispensary
112-114 So. Main Street

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The reception at the Ladies' Literary club house yesterday for the benefit of the detention home was a gratifying success, about 100 being present and much of cash and other donations being received. The reception committee comprising Mrs. A. T. Moon, Mrs. Warren Benjamin, Mrs. Byron Cummings, Mrs. J. C. Hooper and Mrs. A. T. Sanford were in the hall, and received the articles donated, while down stairs the basement Mrs. W. V. Rice presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. G. H. Raybould and Mrs. Mary Berry.

Miss Williams' orchestra and vocal selections were given by Mrs. Corinne Harris Hammer, accompanied by Miss Kate Taylor and Miss Towle. A number of guests