BRYAN'S PLAN TO REFORM DEMOCRACY

He is for State Ownership of Railroads and Government Control of Telegraphs.

HE FAVORS AN INCOME TAX.

He Advocates the Election of Federal Judges by Direct Vote of The Feople.

Lincoln Neb., July 21.--William J. Bryan's plan for the reformation of Democracy was publish today. In it Mr. Bryan favors radical changes and a departure from conservative lines. but advocates the election of Judge Parker for president as a good beginning. He declares for state ownership of railroads, government control of telegraphy, abolishment of private monopoly, the income tax and the election of federal judges by the people. Mr. Brynn mays in part:

"My selection as standard bearer of the Democratic party in 1896 and again in 1900 made me the nominal leader of In 1969 made me the normal leader of that party, and as such I did not feed at therty to engraft new doctrines upon the party creed. I contented my-self with the defense of these princi-ples and policies which were embodied in the platform. "Now that the leadership devolves mather and I hear only the re-

"Now that the leadership devolves upon another and I bear only the re-sponsibility that each citizen must bear, namely, responsibility for my own opinion, my utterances and my conduct, I am free to undertake a work which until now I have avoided, name-ly, the work of organizing the radical and progressive element in the Demo-centic name.

and progressive element in the Dense cratic party. "The money question is for the pros-ent in abeyance. The increased pro-duction of gold has lessened the strain upon the dollar and while bimetallism is as sound in the ordinary as it ever was, the necessity for it is not so ap-was, the necessity for it is not so up-parent. "But while the people cannot be brought at this time to consider the various phases of the money question, they can be brought to consider cer-tain other questions with which the Democratic party must deal. I have heretofore refused to take a position upon the question of government own-ership of railroads, first, because I had not until recently studied the subject and, second, because the question had not reached primary importance. "Recent events have convinced me that the time is now ripe for the pre-sentation of the question. Consolida-tion after consolidation has taken place, until a few men now control the railroad traffic of the country and defy both the legislative and executive power of the nation. I invite the Dem-ocrats, therefore, to consider a plan ocrats, therefore, to consider a plan for the government ownership and op-eration of the railroads. The plan us-ually suggested is for the purchase of these roads by the federal govern-ment. This plan, it seems to me, is more objectionable than a plan which involves the ownership and operation of these roads by the several states. "To gut the railroads in the hands of

of these roads by the several states. "To put the railroads in the hands of the federal government would be an enormous centralization of power. It would give to the federal government a largely increased influence over the citizen and the citizen's affairs, and such centralization is not at all neces-gary. The states can own and operate sederate within their borders just as eary. The states can own and operate railroads within their borders just as effectively as it can be done by the federal government, and if it is done by the states the objection based upon the fear of centralization is entirely answered. A board composed of rep-resentatives from the various states could deal with interstate traffic of the unclose lines. Sheehan is preferred over Thoma Taggart of Indiana is understood to be because of the belief that either of them would be able to command attenon of eastern business men and cure a large campaign fund. While the judge's advisers say that Taggart will be amply provided for in an ad-visory capacity, they think that either Gorman or Sheehan, with their wide ex-perience, would be better able to con-ting their commany.

He still refuses to discuss the subject of national chair-man, but nothing has yet occurred to alter his determination to stand for the place if the committee is of the same mind next Tuesday that it was when it assembled in St. Louis the day after the convention. Mr. Kern is just as determined as ever to insist upon Tog-gart and is still talking about the imdetermined as ever to insist upon Tag-gart and is still talking about the im-portance of the west in connection with the campaign. He insists that Taggart knows the conditions in that section better than any other man sug-gested for the place and says that if it is desirable to have men connected with the committee who are in close touch with the financial interests an executive committee may be chosen to touch with the financial interests an executive committee may be chosen to have the management of the campaign in the three eastern states which are considered necessary for Democratic success. # People Need to be Advised of Its Attractions, Which Have Never Been Equalled.

St. Louis, July 21,-Because they believe the fair is not being properly exploited by the press in this and other countries the national commission has caused a letter to be addressed to President Francis of the exposition. The letter is signed by Thomas H. Carter, president of the commission, and says:

"I respectfully call your attention to the apparent need for an extension and enlargement of the publicity feature of the exposition. Within the range of the general circulation of the papers published in this city all features of the fair have been made known: but. unhappily, the journals of this city, like those of all other cities, enjoy general circulation only in a limited area. Beyond the line of the special influence of the local pess the extensive proportions and interesting details of the tair do not appear to the commission to have been known to the general public, to the extent or in the manner cal-culated to inspire the interest and secure the attendance warranted by the extra merits of the great educational force here installed. In the opinion of the commission this delinquency does not arise from any lack of devotion to the public welfare by the press of the country at large.

The buildings are completed, the exhibits are installed and the exposition has been in progress for substantially has been in progress for substantially three-sevenths of its allotted period, The failth of the management in the merits of the fair has been justified by the approving judgment of all who have entered the gates, but the daily attend-ance has been far short of what it should be from any point of view. were they not reported to the conven-tion? "It is well known that the report of the committee was adopted without du-bate or amendment and the Democratic platform is precisely as reported from the committee, and I defy Mr. Bryan or any one else to find in that platform as reported by the Associated Press any plank endorsing any of the three meas-ures mentioned or any plank that can be twisted or construed into such an endorsement. On the contrary, the platform says: 'We favor the enact-ment and administration of laws giv-ing labor and capital their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be ene-mics. Each has its rights but the rights of labor are certainly no less "lealienable" than the rights of capital.' That is a plank on which the employer and em-ployed can alike stand.
