

and that the committee had kept steadily before them the fact that the exhibition was for the million. He announced that the exhibition would be open several nights each week for the benefit of the working classes. He cordially extolled the gratitude felt by the committee for the applications and assistance the undertaking had received, and the way it had been responded to by foreign governments and by the colonies. He then formally bade the Prince of Wales and his party welcome to the exhibition.

The Prince of Wales then read his reply. He hoped the exhibition would be the means of bringing to the notice of the people the latest and most efficient means of securing the bounty of the streams, lakes and oceans, and would thereby be a practical benefit to them. He dwelt at some length on the life saving section display. He complimented it, and commended it to the notice of the people. After some further exercises, the Exhibition was formally declared open.

London, 12.—It is understood the foreign office has received news to the effect that China intends to oppose the plans of France in regard to the establishment of a French protectorate in Tonquin.

It is stated that a large proportion of the abstentions on the part of liberal members from voting during the recent divisions in the Commons have been deliberate, and there is a growing inclination among some liberals to support the government.

Berlin, 12.—The Assistant-Secretary of the Royal Library has been convicted on the charge of distributing seditious writings, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Rome, 12.—Archbishop Croke has promised the Pope he will in future conform to the attitude of Cardinal McCabe with regard to Irish affairs.

London, 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: The Japanese government has proposed to China that they establish a joint protectorate over Corea; China, however, is not inclined to accept the proposition.

Dublin, 12.—The man Kinzella, who made voluntary confession to the police that he was concerned in the murder of Lord Leitrim, was arraigned to-day. His story is not believed, as it is thought he is a lunatic. The jury was about to discharge Kinzella when the latter said he was afraid he would be shot if he was released. He was therefore remanded to prison.

Paris, 12.—It is stated that Waddington has a political mission to Berlin, where he is now stopping en route to Moscow.

The Moniteur has reason to believe that an important and very categorical document has just been sent by the Vatican to Irish bishops.

Berlin, 12.—The hygienic exhibit was formally opened to-day by the Crown Prince Frederick.

Constantinople, 12.—Gen. Wallace, United States minister, has sent a note to the Porte, demanding that until negotiations now pending have come to a conclusion, the regulations concerning the petroleum depots existing previous to the recent order be continued.

VICTORIA, B. C., 14.—Government proposes sending a party of explorers to Queen Charlotte's Island, with a view to establish a European colony. Parliament was prorogued to-day after a session of one hundred and seven days.

Dublin, 14.—Joe Brady was hanged at 8 this morning. A vast concourse gathered outside the prison yard in which Brady was executed this morning. A strong force of cavalry, infantry and police were present to preserve order; there was no attempt at disturbance, however. A wreath of flowers was received by Brady, to which was attached a card bearing expressions of grief at his fate, from Irishmen living in Liverpool. Brady made no statement to the jail chaplain or to the governor of the prison. One of the last things he did was to write a letter to his mother. He carried a prayer book in his hand to the scaffold and was thoroughly resigned and firm. His body fell nine feet and his death was instantaneous. The number of persons in the crowd outside the jail was estimated to reach 100,000. The throng is said to have been even greater than any of those which collected when executions were public. At the moment when the black flag was seen over the jail, the cry was raised, "hats off," and every head was uncovered. The crowd shortly afterwards dispersed quietly.

St. Petersburg, 13.—A bomb was exploded on the street in Moscow on Saturday and several persons were wounded. The police version that it was only a railway signal was not satisfactory to the public who became alarmed.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, MAY 14.

Indicted for Murder.—We learn that Robert Keyes, who stabbed and killed H. Steers, a soldier, at Beaver, a few days ago, has been indicted for wilful murder by the grand jury of the Second District. The popular feeling against Keyes is said to be very strong, his general character being bad.

Director Elected.—Mr. S. W. Sears has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Board of Directors of Z. C. M. I., caused by the demise of the late Hon. W. H. Hooper. Mr. Sears is one of the shrewdest business men in the Territory, and the trade of the Ogden Branch of the Institution has grown remarkably under his management and manipulation.

Women's Work.—Sister E. R. Snow Smith, has gone to Brigham City to attend a Conference of the Ladies' Societies of the Stake. She will visit several of the settlements in that part of Utah, among them the Indian settlement of Washakie where she will organize a Lamanite Relief Society.

Sister Smoot's Condition.—Prest Willford Woodruff returned last evening from a visit to Provo. When he reached there on Saturday "Ma" Smoot was unable to speak, but before he left yesterday she could talk so as to be understood, and there was an evident improvement in her condition. It is scarcely expected, however, that she will recover so as to be able to be about again. She talks herself as if she did not anticipate it.

Brother Woodruff attended meeting in Provo yesterday, preached to the people, and had an interesting time.

Accidentally Drowned.—We learn from I. O. Anderson, of Koosharem, that a lamentable accident occurred there about sundown on Saturday, the 5th inst. A boy named John E. Manwill, not quite eleven years old, son of Orson M. Manwill, took his father's horses to water. It is thought that the unfortunate lad must have mounted one of the animals, as only a short time afterwards one horse was found lying in a mud-hole with the boy under him. The lad was taken out but he was quite dead, never showing any signs of life, notwithstanding that all known means for resuscitation were applied.

The accident caused great sympathy to be felt by the community for the bereaved family.

Boy Lost.—Last Tuesday John Campbell, son of Sister Jane Campbell, of this city, and who was lately stopping with Mayor Robert Campbell, at Logan, left the latter city and no trace of him has since been found. He is 12 years old, of fair complexion, but sunburnt, brown hair and light grey eyes. He was dressed in a dark cloth suit and had on a red and black checked shirt and light home-made cloth overcoat. Any information concerning him will be gratefully received by his mother, who resides in the 14th Ward of this city, by whom all expenses incurred in his being restored to his family will be paid.

A Harsh Proceeding.—On Thursday last a lady named Belle Harris, who resides in Plute Co., was summoned before the grand jury at Beaver and questioned as to her domestic relations. On being asked whether she was married and if so to whom, she declined to answer. She was taken before the Second District Court, where the matter was reported by Asst. Prosecuting Attorney, Z. Snow. Judge Twiss decided the question was proper, but the witness still firmly declined to answer, when she was fined $25 for contempt and remanded to the custody of the Marshal until further order of the Court. Mr. S. A. Kenner appeared in court in behalf of the prisoner, but, up to Saturday, when our informant left Beaver, she was still in durance vile. There was talk of a commitment on one side and application for a writ of habeas corpus on the other.

Obsequies of Sister Needham.—The funeral services of the late Alice W. Needham, wife of Elder James Needham, were held in the Seventh Ward meeting-house yesterday morning, conducted by Eld-

Wm. McLachlan, Bishop's Counselor. The hall was densely crowded, numbers having to stand during the proceedings, while others were unable to gain an entrance into the building.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder J. Nicholson.

Brother McLachlan, speaking for Bishop Thorn, who was absent on account of sickness, as well as himself, paid a well merited tribute to the character and disposition of the deceased, making special reference to her labors as President of the Relief Society, a position she held from 1874 until her demise, her open-handed generosity and benevolence exhibited to the needy having been one of her marked traits. The speaker was deeply affected while giving utterance to his sentiments and views.

The congregation was next addressed by Prest. Angus M. Cannon, who delivered a discourse on the nature and ordinances of the Gospel and the power of the Priesthood, showing now, by these means, the family of man would be ultimately linked together in the perfection of the heavenly order. He also spoke of the virtues of the deceased.

President Joseph F. Smith was the next speaker. He delivered a discourse on the purposes and designs of the Almighty in the creation and development of man in the several spheres through which he had to pass, and the nature of his final destiny. He also spoke on the resurrection, stating, in that connection, that Sister Needham would take up the body she now laid down in a purified and immortal state, and live forever in her glorified and redeemed condition.

The benediction was pronounced by Elder C. W. Penrose.

The singing exercises were conducted by the Ward choir, led by Brother W. H. Foster.

THE PROVO GRIEVANCE.

A BETTER UNDERSTANDING ESTABLISHED.

Our sister city of Provo has been considerably exercised during the last few days over an action of the U. P. and U. C. railroads in reference to freight. The new arrangement complained of was stated in the News a few days ago. It is in this way, The railroads established a uniform rate for freight from the East and West to Ogden, Salt Lake and Provo, goods being delivered at each of the three points for precisely the same charge. To counterbalance this discrimination in favor of Provo as against Salt Lake, the Utah Central so fixed their tariff that the Capital is enabled to lay goods down at all points south of Provo at the same rates as Provo can. This makes the matter precisely even, placing Provo on an equal footing with Salt Lake.

An indignation meeting was held by Provo merchants and other prominent gentlemen, and resolutions were read expressive of a determination to withdraw patronage from the U. P. and U. C. roads, and from the Salt Lake merchants, on the ground that the railroads had been incited to take the step by pressure from Salt Lake business men. Counter judgment prevailed, and it was decided, before taking such an extreme action, to first have a consultation with the railroad officials on the matter.

Accordingly Messrs. James Sharp, Francis Cope and John Rumell visited Provo and met with the business men of that place, when, by mutual explanation, it appeared to be the prevailing sentiment that there was no disposition to discriminate against Provo, and with the exception of the possibilities in regard to local products, the arrangement was quite proper and just as between that city and Salt Lake. The railroad officials stated that the tariff was made up with a view of doing justice to all parties concerned, and as soon as the matter pertaining to local products, such as lumber and mill fabrics was brought to their attention they assured the meeting that a change in that regard would be made.

We are pleased to learn that a comparatively amicable understanding has been reached. It is desirable that the most cordial relations in every respect should be maintained between this city and her growing southern neighbor, and there should be no disposition toward discrimination in favor of or against either, and there certainly, to our way of thinking, does not appear to be any inclination of that sort on the part of the railroads on the subject now considered. We desire to see our southern sister flourish and grow, and we believe her business men have the intelligence, enterprise and ability to keep her steadily on the road of progress without any undue advantages other than those of which a bountiful Providence has given her a goodly share.
