Dordrecht, March 5 .- Following yes. terday's success, Gen. Brabant again engaged the Boers today with advantage, holding the position captured yesterday. There was some smart light-ing this morning, the British losing five or six men and capturing the Boer fort, thus vastly improving thelesposition. The Boers fought tenaciously, contesting every inch of the ground, but ultimately they retreated suddenly. tion.

During the course of his remarks, the chancellor of the exchequer, referring to his previously expressed opinion regarding the capacity of the Transvaul to bear a responsible share in the ex-penditure of the war, said he still adhered to that opinion, but he was bound to say that the events of the last five months and the claims which would undoubtedly be made by the local col-onists of Natal for compensation for losses sustained at the hands of the Boers, and the enormous increase in expenditure since he last spoke, had made him feel that the capacity of the Trans-vaal to hear the cost of the war was a less important factor, though it was still an important factor, than he estimated in October last.

HEALY PROTESTS.

Timothy Healy, Irish nationalist, protested against Ireland having to pay anything toward the war expenses, asserting that not a penny had been ex-pended in Ireland. The tax on whisky, he further asserted, was an attempt to bleed Ireland. "Let the diamond stockers," continued Mr. Healy, "those who are making money out of the war, pay the cost.

HARCOURT IS SARCASTIC.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, liberal, complimented the chancellor of the ex-chequer on the soundness of his finan-cial principles, but said the country would like to know how the government intended to insure that the Transvaal would ultimately pay a large part of the cost of the war. He added:

liberty and freedom, so that then there is a prospect of millionaires like Mr. Beit and Mr. Rhodes having the taxa-tion of the Transvaal at their own disposal. Of course the government would not think of opposing by a centralized taxation from England, and while Eng and is being taxed for the war it would be interesting to know how the government intends to realize on the vague expectations of the gentlemen who will be putting millions into their pockets as

Railroad Men,

Owing to the nervous strain to which they are daily subjected, the physical hardships of the constant jolting, exposure to all kinds of weather, and irregular meals, break down in health, unless nature is aided in the unequal struggle. Eighty per cent of the railroad men who have been in service any length of time, are afflicted with some form of kidney disease, and the standard remedy in use by them is Warner's Safe Cure.

Kindly read the subjoined testimonial from Mr. Charles B. Ross, of 284 61st St., New York city, a railroad conductor on the Metropolitan Railway, which is but a recent sample of hundreds of voluntary statements received by Warner's Safe Cure Co.:

"By the use of Warner's Safe Cure I have just recovered from a severe attack of kidney trouble. My system was in very bad condition. Every movement of my body caused intense pain, and at last I was compelled to abandon work. For four months several specialists doctored me, all to no benefit, but my relief was obtained when I began taking Warner's Safe Cure, After the use of this marvelous medicine, I was able to walk about briskly, and in a few days was so far improved as to be able to attend to my work, and I haven't suffered one day since. I heartily recommend Warner's Safe Cure. as the best and safest cure that can be had."

STORMBERG EVACUATED. Sterkstrom, March 5, evening .- Gen, Gatacre entered Stormberg unopposed today. The Boers destroyed the rail-way approach, but the station is intact. BOER POSITION LOCATED.

Osfontein, Saturday, March 3 .- The Boer position has now been fairly lo-cated as about four miles to the British front and extending about eight miles. The Boer right consists of a high, long mountain on the north of the river, which Gen. French shelled this morning. Apparently the space between the mountain and the river has been entrenched. South of the riv-er the Boer lines cover more ground. A few days ago their left rested on the high kopies standing in the middle of the plain. They have now been extended two miles further south while six small kopjes stand in the plain be-tween the center and the left and be-tween the center and the river and form a ridge behind which the Boers move unseen. The weakness of the whole position, however, is that it can easily be turned in either direction. The country is flat and water abounds, the recent rains having nearly filled all the dams. LORD ROBERTS' SILENCE.

Lodon, March 6 .- Spencer Wilkinson, in the Morning Post, says: "From the silence of Lord Roberts we may infer that his army is again busily engaged in the continuance of his operations. It is hardly likely, with previous experiences in forcing rivers at the wrong places, that the relief force-left at Kimberley for Marcking will try to cross at Fourteen Streams, seeing that it can as easily cross it Barkley or some other point and it is impossible that any Boer force in the neighborhood is large enough to guard the whole American Officer Ambushed-His Command Takes Revenge - General Wheeler at San Francisco.

Manila, March 5 .- Gen. Bate's expedition to southern Luzon, consisting of the Fortleth and Forty-fifth regiments, a total of 2,300 men, has occu-pled Nueva Carceras, province of South Camarines, Daet, province of North Camarines, and the neighboring smaller towns. The enemy resisted at one point and two Americans were killed including Lieut. John B. Gallegher of the Fortieth regiment. On Feb. 20 the expedition arrived at San Miguel bay, landed, and in three columns pushed inland, converging upon Nueva Carceras and attempting to control the enemy's route to retreat.

At Libmanan, north of Nueva Carceras, the enemy was concealed in the rice field and resisted a battalion of the Fortieth regiment, which engaged them at close quarters, with Dayonets. After forty minutes' righting the enemy fled and Libmanan was occupied. The Americans buried sixty-four of the enemy, whose total loss in killed and wounded is estimated at 140. From Libmanan the expedition proceeded to Nueva Carceras, the gun-boat Paragua arriving ten minutes ahead of the troops. The town was found practically deserted. The Amercans, daily scouting in the vicinity, re-port that the enemy have retreated into the mountains.

of £154,652,066 has to be provided for in the budget of 1900-1901. The state-ment shows that the exchequer ac-count of 1899-1900 would have given a count of 1839-1800 would have given a surplus of upwards of £5,060,000, but the supplementary war estimates of £23,000,000 maker the expenditure ex-ceed the revenue by £17,770,000. The chancellor of the exchequer, after laying the figures before the house, pointed out that the country had to face a total estimated expenditure, in consequence of the war, of no less than six times as much as had been estimatout ed in October last. Against the estimat-ed expenditure of £154,082,000 for the coming year, the chancellor of the ex-chequer, estimated the revenue on the basis of taxation at £116,500,000, or a deficit of £37,000,000.

CLOSE OF WAR UNCERTAIN.

Dealing with the war expenditures, he said the government had made the best calculations as to the amount it ought to ask from parliament with the view of a successful prosecution of the war. but it was impossible to be certain when the war would be concluded, and the expenditure might be larger. On the other hand, however, a happy change in the military situation, the fact that the season now fast ap-proaching was, in the opinion of all the authorities, favorable to Boer opera-tions, had to be considered.

He might be obliged in July or August to ask parliament for further relief, but he believed he was fairly justified in hoping that the intended expendi-tures would suffice to successfully con-clude the war. He estimated the total war expenditures, including the deficit of £17,770,000, at £60,000,000.

The chancellor of the exchequer char-acterized the suggested methods of fresh taxation as in no way impracti-, saying that the government felt justified in raising a portion of the war funds by a loan, but, he added, it was also justified in calling upon the taxpayers for an immediate and substantial sacrifice.

HOW TO RAISE TAX.

In this connection he thought they could reasonably anticipate that the could reasonably anticipate that the more acute and more costly phases of the war would not last long. He asked the taxpayers to subscribe to the cost of the war by an increase of the income tax to one shilling in the pound, as producing an additional £6,500,000. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach also said that in order to meet a war expenditure of £60,000,000, he would propose that the stamp duties on stock exchange contract notes be extended to sales on the produce exchange; that the beer duties would be increased a shilling a barrel of thirty-six gallons; that there would an increase in the duty on spirits of six pence per pound, and tea two pence per pound He anticipated that the above changes would increase the revenue £12,317,000, and he proposed to save £4,640,990 by suspending the sinking fund in relation to certain annuities.
