LOCAL BRIEFS.

Rabbi Reynolds will lecture on the subject "Idolatry" at the regular services at the synagogue this evening.

The funeral of the late Thomas C. Armstrong was held from the Odd home, 157 south Fourth West street, this afternoon.

Charlie Hansen, a small boy living near G and Fifth streets, had his collar bone broken yesterday while playing football with some other boys.

Miss Carolina Schlatter and G. W. Wurzbach were married in the Temple on Wednesday. They have many friends who will wish them happiness.

Judge E. F. Colburn arrived from the East yesterday and partook of Thanksgiving dinner with his family in Poperton. He was absent nearly two months, and reports that business is booming in the East.

Utah boys who came back from the Big Horn country to spend Thanksgiving with relatives here express themselves as well pleased with the new country which they propose to make their home.

Three new cases of "smallpox" have been reported. They are Sadie Walker, hamaged 35, who lives at 537 West North street; Ruby Irvine, 542 West North street, aged 19; Ethel Jameson, 451, Hazel court, aged 5 years.

Ephraim Enterprise: Hon. Thomas D. Rees of Wales passed through town Saturday on his way home from Mantt. Mr. Rees, in response to a question, said that he is a candidate for re-appointment as a member of the State board of land commissioners.

A handsome and in every way modern pipe organ is soon to be placed in the Christian Science church, at a cost of $4,500. There will be two key boards, and 1,375 pipes and the exterior of the instrument will be finished to match the architecture of the church.

Butte, Montana, now has an epidemic of the prevailing "smallpox" notwithstanding the efforts to stop it by compulsory vaccination and quarantine. It was from Butte that this part of the country received the disease. It having been carried in by persons from the Montana town.

Peter Isaacson had his head cut open Tuesday by being thrown against the brake beam of a wagon, says the Ephraim Enterprise. Dr. Jensen came up the wound, which required five stitches. The accident was caused by the old gentleman getting entangled in a rope that was attached to a calf.

Blackfoot, Idaho, Mail: Isaac H. Allard returned Saturday from a three-weeks' visit with his relatives at Lehi, Utah. He left here in answer to a summons from his aged father, who was lying at the point of death. The old gentleman battled bravely with the fell destroyer, however, until last week, when his soul finally took its flight.

The teachers' institute under the auspices of the Congregational schools began its sessions at Hammond hall this morning. It held a session this afternoon, and at the meeting this evening. Prof. Marshall of the University will deliver an address on "General Culture," and Mrs. Emma McKiver, state superintendent of public instruction, will deliver a lecture on "Kindergarten Thought in the Grades."

Miss Angie Bickford was an unwilling party to a wild and exciting run-away yesterday afternoon. She was out driving with Earl Mackey near the old University building, when she dropped her handkerchief on the ground. Mackey got out to pick it up, but before he could reach the buggy the horse took fright at some children playing in the street and started to run. It continued at high speed until it reached West Temple and Second South streets, when it was stopped by Officer Smith. Miss Bickford sustained no injuries except a long accelerated heart action.

SMALLPOX REMEDY.

One That is Said to Cure the Disease in Twelve Hours.

A new cure for smallpox is now going the rounds of the press, and seems to have supplanted that old favorite, tartaric acid and water, which has been printed a thousand times. This latest panacea is harmless to persons in health.

Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fogfogle (digitalis), one grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar; mix with two teaspoonfuls of water. When the above has been thoroughly mixed, add four ounces of water. Take a teaspoonful every hour. The disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child smaller doses according to age.

If counties would compel physicians to use this there would be no need of pesthouses," says an eminent physician. He adds: "If you value your life and experience, use this for that terrible and dreaded disease."

AN ERROR OF 1,000.

In the published returns on State ticket, in all the papers, an error was made in the plurality by which Hon. C. S. Tingey, of Nephi was elected State auditor. The figures were given as 768, when it should have been 1,768, he having received 456 votes to 4,832, for his opponent, Mr. Tingey's majority in Salt Lake county was 579. Governor Wells's 828, and Judge Barich's 1,203.

A Wyoming Judge Grants a Temporary Injunction.

MINES AGAINST RAILROADS.

Will Settle the Question of Mineral Locations on Mineral Lands Granted to Railroads.

Judge Drame of Laramie, Wyoming, issued a temporary injunction Wednesday morning, November 29th, restraining Chas. Haberland and Wm. Noble from removing the ore or further interfering with the Copper King mine near Tieding, Wyoming. The case is a very important one, inasmuch as it involves the right of the Union Pacific Railroad company and parties holding title under it to the mineral on the lands granted by the United States government to the railroad corporation.

The plaintiff, John W. Starkweather, William B. Willard and Howard S. Bailey, purchased from the Union Pacific Railroad company the south half of section 29, township 13, range 72 west. The defendants located and worked the "Copper King" mine under the mineral laws of the United States and base their claim upon the reservation by the government of all mineral on lands granted to the Union Pacific corporation.

The patent to this land was made to the Union Pacific Railroad company four years ago, and it is the contention of the plaintiffs that the issuance of the patent closed the land to any one who desired to file on the land under the mineral laws of the United States. There is no telling how many millions of dollars are involved in this very legal point. The mineral was reserved by the United States government on all of the lands granted to the Union Pacific, and on the lands granted to a number of other railroads in the West as subsidiaries. The mineral discovered on much of this land is of great value and the question will be undetermined until the Supreme Court of the United States decides upon the point of law involved in the litigation over the Copper King.

FED AT THE ARMY SHED.

Nearly Two Hundred Men and Boys Fare Sumptuously.

The interior of the Salvation Army shed presented an inspiring view to the eyes of 181 men and boys yesterday afternoon. There were five tables laden with as good food as perhaps any of them had ever eaten, for it was as fine a dinner as most people desire.

There were 226 people fed by the Army last year, but the officers think that there is more employment to be had now than then, and that this is the cause of a few more to be fed.

Besides the dinners that were dispensed at the Army shed, 210 boxes of good wholesome food, including the ubiquitous turkey, were distributed to indigent families throughout the city. There are some boxes left, which will be given to needy ones if they will call for them at the Army headquarters.

The members of the public for the liberal help given them in their benevolent enterprise.

N. DOUGHERTY FOUND DEAD

Miner from Montana Expires in a Lodging House.

Neil Dougherty, a miner, who came here a few months ago from Montana suffering with miners' consumption, was discovered dead in his bed at the Anderson rooming house on Commercial street yesterday afternoon. On account of his enfeebled condition Dougherty had been accustomed to sleep late in the morning, so when he did not appear yesterday morning it caused no alarm. Along in the afternoon, however, Mrs. Anderson went to his room to see if he was feeling worse, when she was greatly shocked to find him dead. The body was taken to Undertaker Evans' parlors where it will remain while efforts are being made to find some of the dead man's relatives. He was about 45 years of age. Nothing is known of him except his quiet and reserved habits after coming to Salt Lake.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Denver, Stockman, Nov. 27.—Among the Utah shippers in were J. R. Wilson, of Heber City, and C. W. Wilson, of Thistle Junction. They had 171 cattle which went on sale here.

A dispatch from Chadron, Neb., says: Colonel Jay L. Torrey, late of the Rocky mountain range riders and a member of the Cattle company of the Wind river range in Wyoming, has just completed the shipment of 100 carload cattle and 23 cars of horses from the Wyoming range to the stock yards in Nebraska, for wintering. The reason for this is the short range in the mountains and the overcrowding by sheep. The coal for wintering the stock is estimated at $50 a head.

Wasatch Wave: D. N. Murdoch rushed up about a dozen horses and took them to Salt Lake City the latter part of last week to sell to the government. He was able to dispose of only about half of them. The remainder are being held for wintering. The cattle, and preparing for winter feeding. If they have to feed from now until next May some of them have a pretty large contract on their hands.

Thomas A. Cosgriff, one of the sheepmen of the state, who is well known as a business man of Wyoming, is at the Brown Palace here, says the Denver Stockman. The Cosgriffs are among the most successful handlers of sheep in the west, and besides owning large flocks in Wyoming, are interested in a large mercantile business in Wyoming and Utah.

Wyoming is making a strong fight against scab among the sheep of the state. The State authorities are maintaining a rigid inspection of sheep brought into Wyoming from surrounding States. This is done at the expense of the owners of migrating herds which come into the State during the winter season to get the benefit of Wyoming ranges and are driven back in the spring to avoid taxation. Parties driving sheep into the State are now compelled under the law to give a notice to the board of state sheep commissioners before crossing the State line.

Denver Stockman, Nov. 25.—C. H. Taylor had a train of stock cattle from Price, Utah. They were on sale here at the State stock yards. The afternoon with a string of Utah cattle. They will be offered here, George Traub, of Burdett, Utah, had in a string of stock cattle which were offered here.

The Denver market took 521 head of Utah beef cattle in two days this week.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

A farewell reception to Elder E. W. Reese, who leaves soon for a mission to Europe, will be given in the Fourteenth ward meeting house this evening. In addition to an excellent literary and musical program, choice refreshments will be served.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in Chicago—Hisgen Bros., the popular South Side drug store, corner 5th and West, worth avenue, say: "We sell a great deal of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and find that it gives the most satisfactory results, especially among children for severe colds and croup."

If you have ever seen a child in the grips of croup you can realize how grateful you are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung trouble. F. C. Schramm.
