Electric light operations in Ogden have been closed down. The machinery is to be changed.

The students of the Deseret University and their friends will spend to-morrow at Calder's Farm.

The Wasatch Engine Company, No. 2, will meet to-night at 7.30, in the 12th Ward engine house.

The rear wall of the first story of the Wasatch south wing is up, and the work is rapidly progressing.

The mining case now before the District Court, Pinyon vs. Climax, has stopped work in the mines, and thrown many people out of employment.

Nine deaths occurred in Ogden during May; four male children, three female children, one female adult, and a Chinaman who committed suicide.

The present building boom is giving carpenters, masons and others lots of work, but there are lots of workmen to take hold of it, so there is no perceptible scarcity.

A colored individual got badly beaten last night by a fellow named Richard Roe. Strange how many scrapes that Richard Roe and his cousin John Doe manage to get into. Richard was fined $10.

A thief invaded the premises of the Rev. Mr. Barrows, Congregational minister, last Tuesday night, and among other things toted off several cut and dried manuscript sermons. If the thief should happen to read one of them the bereaved author will be amply avenged.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Woman's Exponent.—The June 1st number of the Exponent, and the opening one of the 10th volume of this excellent journal, was placed on our desk this afternoon. Its leading articles are, "The Young May Moon," (poetry) by Hannah T. King; "Living Links," Avondale; "Benjamin Disraeli," H. T. King; "There's a Strange Wild Gleam," (poetry) M. J. Tanner; "Pen Sketch," etc., continued; "Brigham Young," editorial; "Life Incidents," concluded, H. M. Whitney; "Jesse Burns," continued. The usual quota of brief articles appear and go to make up an excellent number.

"Our German Senator." — Gus Williams, undoubtedly one of the finest Dutch comedians and impersonators of character now upon the stage, will make his first appearance in several years at the Salt Lake Theatre, this evening. The play is "Our German Senator," written especially for Mr. Williams, and one in which his eccentric genius has every opportunity to shine. He is supported by a complete and efficient company, brought with him for the purpose of making the tour of the continent, and every actor is peculiarly adapted to the character entrusted to him. It will be a rich funny treat, and our laughter-loving citizens will doubtless attend the performance in force.

Utah and Salt Lake Canal.—Bishop A. Gardiner and Messrs. Henry Beckstead and George Nebeker, with a large force of men and teams, have been engaged during the last six weeks in strengthening and cleaning up jobs on the above named canal. By Saturday, (to-morrow) all the work on the bench will be completed. Nebeker's force will move along the entire length, and finish up patches of work not completed by the original contractors at the latter's expense. Too much credit cannot be given to President Gardiner and his men for the indefatigable energy with which they have prosecuted the work. It has been deemed wise to expend considerable more labor near the head of the ditch, for fear the banks might give way, as the ground is somewhat treacherous there and liable to slide out. If all works well, the water will be running through the whole channel next week. Yesterday afternoon, Dirk Rockholt, Esq., was examining the canal, and found water running therein three miles from the dam, twenty inches deep, and Bishop Gardiner says this will run seven miles from the dam, which will be good news for farmers on the dry spots near by.

Deseret University.—The closing exercises of the academic year 1880-81, at the Deseret University, took place to-day, beginning at 1 p. m. There were present as visitors, Hon. John Taylor, Territorial Superintendent of District Schools; Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon, Chancellor of the University; Hon. F. D. Richards, Regents Joseph F. Smith, H. S. Eldredge, L. John Nuttall and John T. Caine; Professor T. B. Lewis and Messrs. George Reynolds, James Dwyer, etc. After singing by the choir, and a prayer by Hon. F. D. Richards, the Principal of the University, Dr. John R. Park read the names of the graduates. They are as follows:

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

Geo. T. Richards, John T. Woodbury, N. W. Anderson, Charles A. Welch, James P. Low, Wilford Smith, Ellen Valentine, Emanuel D. Smith, Henry Aird, Wm. M. Stewart, Joshua P. Terry, Sondra Sanders, Andrew B. Cook, Marion D. Wooley, Lizzie Cooper, Amasa Aldrich, Samuel H. Allen, David J. Ross, Serge F. Balliff, Rhoda Young, Joshua H. Paul, James A. Oliver, Alviras E. Snow, William Bradford.

NORMALS.

Henry Aird, Lyde Wells, Cloe Pratt, John T. Woodbury, Chas. A. Welch, Rhoda Young, Samuel H. Allen, N. W. Anderson, Wm. M. Stewart, Ellen Valentine, Emanuel D. Smith, Jas. P. Low, James A. Oliver, Alviras E. Snow, Joshua H. Paul, Andrew B. Cook, Adelaide Asper, Sondra Sanders.

POLITICAL SCIENCE.

David J. Ross, Joshua H. Paul, Jas. A. Oliver, Wm. Bradford, Wm. M. Stewart, Wilford Smith.

David J. Ross, Wm. Bradford, Wm. M. Stewart, Wilford Smith.

NATURAL HISTORY.

CHEMISTRY.

Moses W. Taylor, Frank Y. Taylor, Wm. Bradford, Leslie W. Snow, David J. Ross.

MATHEMATICS.

Leslie W. Snow, Wm. M. Stewart, David J. Ross, Henry L. Steed.

Certificates were then delivered to the above named graduates, after which came an elaborate address by Normal Joshua H. Paul.

Hon. John Taylor, Territorial Superintendent of District Schools, then addressed the assembly. His topic was education. He reviewed its past history in this Territory, and contrasted thereto its superior advantages of the present. Referred to the gradual progress of the human race in the acquisition of intelligence, and showed that intelligence was eternal in its nature, that it had always existed, but had been discovered little by little by mankind through the help of Almighty God. Depicted the powers of the educated man, the advantages possessed by him, and the great works he is capable of accomplishing, compared with the lower orders of animals, who are devoid of his intelligence. The speaker dwelt upon the character of a true education, of what it should consist, and showed how little man could acquire of himself did he not receive the assistance of a Higher Power. Took the illustration of the human body and some of its operations, and showed how beautifully and wonderfully it is made, how harmoniously it operates, and how far beyond man's knowledge and skill such a wondrous work would be. He touched upon many other interesting points, which we cannot now present, as our reporter was obliged to leave the University, on account of the paper's going to press, before the speech had concluded. It was taken in full by a short hand reporter, and will probably be published hereafter.

The exercises to follow were an address by Professor T. B. Lewis, and one by Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon; after which singing by the choir, and benediction by Hon. Joseph F. Smith.

Marble Works.—To-day we visited the marble shop of Mr. William Brown, on Third South Street, a few doors east of the Methodist Church. The proprietor is a nephew of Mr. J. H. Brown, of Logan, and, like his uncle, an adept in the art of working in stone and marble. Although but 32 years of age, he has had 20 years' experience in this line. For over 15 months he held the position of foreman in the largest marble establishment in Chicago, and had under him a force of 50 men. He has been in Utah about three years, most of which time he spent in Logan, but set up business for himself in this city last January. Among his latest specimens of work is a fine marble monument made to the order of Mr. Ellsworth Daggett. It is formed entirely of the Frisco veined marble, and with its granite base, will stand 6 feet 2 inches from the ground. The marble work consists of a square base, upon the front of which is the word "Daggett" in raised letters. Above is the die with a handsomely moulded top and inscriptions of two of Mr. Daggett's children, deceased. This is surmounted by a round column terminating in a conical apex. The entire monument is beautifully polished, and is a piece of work which reflects much credit upon the artisan who executed it. Besides, it is made from Utah marble, and is just so much more valuable in consequence. Mr. Brown says it equals any marble for taking a polish that he has ever seen, its being but surface or boulder rock notwithstanding. There are two kinds brought from the Frisco beds, the pure white and the veined, varieties. Of the former, Mr. Brown has just completed a handsome headstone for the late Mrs. Permelia Lott Hatch, wife of President Abram Hatch, of Wasatch Stake, which also does him credit as a skillful workman. There are three claims in these beds, the Union, the Southern Utah, and the Acme. They are located four miles from the town, and about the same distance from the railroad. Mr. Brown owns an interest in some of them, and the marble he uses is from the two claims first mentioned. The other owners are mostly residents of Frisco.

Carry umbrellas and keep your temper, if you wish to avoid sunstrokes.

IT IS WORTH A TRIAL.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about, and was an old, worn-out man all over, and could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth the trial.—(Father.)

It is wonderful that a subtle miasmatic poison should produce that peculiar condition of the system which prevails when alternate chills and burning heat freeze and scorch the body at regular intervals, and it is no less wonderful that medical skill has been able to reach and expel this poison from the system, as Ayer's Ague Cure always does. 5dew

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong, and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them. DIED

In the Fifth Ward, Salt Lake City, May 28, 1881, of diphtheria, MARY LOUISA BROWN, daughter of Samuel J. and Elizabeth Emma Brown: aged 4 years and 4 months.

At Calls Fort, Box Elder County, May 28th, 1881, of paralysis, ESTHER BOULTON PYOTT, aged 69 years, 2 months and 11 days. Sister Pyott embraced the gospel in the year 1853, in the Stockport Branch, Manchester Conference, England; emigrated to Utah in the ship Cynosure, in the year 1863. The funeral services were conducted by Bishop Thomas Harper, on Tuesday, May 31st, quite a large cortege following the remains to the grave.

After the ceremonies of interment were completed, an affecting incident occurred that brought tears to many eyes. About a dozen little girls, from 5 to 10 years of age, brought large bunches of wild flowers, which they had collected to decorate Mother Pyott's grave.
