AMERICAN FORK.

Pioneer James Pulley Gone to His Rest In Eighty-fourth Year.

Special Correspondence.
American Fork, Dec. 20.—James Pulley, who died Dec. 14, 1906, was the son of Francis Pulley and Martha Embrey of American Fork, born May 17, 1823, in Herefordshire, England. His father was killed when he was but three months old, leaving him and five other children to be cared for by their mother. The family was in destitute circumstances, so that it was necessary for them to gain a livelihood by their daily efforts at small wages. James, in common with the others, being com-

PARK CITY.

It Was Not a Wake But Results the Same.

Special Correspondence.
Park City, Dec. 22.—William and Andrew Savage were fined $25 each in the police court yesterday, having pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. Joseph Savage caused a place to be set up in the city, and a policeman was the complaining witness, and he accused the defendants of having assaulted him early yesterday, while he was in the discharge of his official duty. He had conducted a drunken man to the latter's lodgings, and there was set upon by several

SEEKING AND FROM SALT LAKE

Effort to Overcome Legal Advantage Won by Allied Farmers

IN SMELTER CONTROVERSY.

Petition to M. & M. A. Real Estate Association and Commercial Club—Farmers Not in Favor of It.

The Murray business interests are today seeking to ally with the Salt Lake business interests, in an effort to overcome the legal advantage won by the allied farmers of Salt Lake valley, in their smelter smoke controversy. Another petition calculated to bring the manufacturers and merchants' association, the Commercial club, and the Real Estate association into the controversy, has been prepared, and is being given local circulation today.

The farmers do not look kindly on the new assault, against the smelters. They hold that their battle, which has been a long and expensive one, has been too dearly fought to them to give up now any of those concessions which were given for years hence. The hard cash came in the courts, after the smelters had failed to do anything to prevent their smoke nuisance.

MACKEY OUTSPOKEN.

County Commissioner John C. Mackey was especially outspoken today in his objection to the new petition. He decried that his committee, representing the farmers, knew full well what kind of a fight it was making in the courts, and that it is an insult to the intelligence of the signers of that petition to imagine that they did not know what they were working for.

"These petitioners may not realize it," he declared, "but it is merely for personal gain that they are bringing in this new phase, and they have completely ignored the rights of the citizens' committee and the people back of them who raised the money to make this long fight. In comparison to the great damage done to the residents of Salt Lake valley their stand takes into insignificance. We asked only for what we wanted, and we got it, and we want it, and we want it just what we wanted."

The text of the petition to be submitted to the Salt Lake business men is as follows:

PETITION IN FULL.

"To the committee of the Salt Lake Valley Farmers' association and parties plaintiff in the injunction against the smelters of Salt Lake county."

"We, the undersigned residents and property owners and taxpayers of Salt Lake county, Utah, respectfully petition the parties plaintiff in the big injunction suit known as Godfrey et al. vs. the American Smelting and Refining company et al., and all others involved and affected by the interests therein, to lend your efforts to the cause of reaching some adjustment of the differences involved, and for your consideration we beg leave to submit:

"First.—That the peace, comfort, health, and surroundings should be infringed, denied, invaded, injured, or rendered cheerless by the smoke, dust, and gases, and that we recognize and uphold the law in giving and enforcing such protection and equal rights to all."

"Second.—We believe that when the parties plaintiff to said suit instituted proceedings therein many did so with the intention and understanding that the principal object was to require the smelters to take care of their smoke, gases and dust, and believed such a thing was possible."

"Third.—We do not desire to work or inflict inequitable results or hardships upon Salt Lake county or the State of Utah."

"Fourth.—We recognize that the smelting industry of Salt Lake county has involved the expenditure of millions of dollars and that in the operation thereof hundreds of thousands of dollars in fact over $10,000,000 are annually distributed and put into circulation among the citizens of Salt Lake county alone."

"Fifth.—That we believe some basis upon which an adjustment of differences between the smelters and farmers could be found whereby both could continue to exist and prosper in business without continued and expensive litigation."

"Sixth.—We further recognize that in the matter of taxation, the smelters and other civic economies and commercial relations the smelting industry is an integral factor and must not be lightly regarded."

"Seventh.—We believe that in a matter of such magnitude and importance a stipulation for further time, under conditions, should be consented to before the enforcement of the decision, unless modified."

"Eighth.—That if the roasting of ore bearing high percentages of sulphur were confined to the smelters, and the same eliminated or mixed with non-sulphur ore in a proportion to be agreed upon, during the growing season, with an adjustment for any losses incurred, and the smelting operations might continue with benefit and profit to all concerned."

AS TO INJUNCTION.

"Ninth.—We believe that the right of injunction should not be used with such effect as to require an approximately immediate shut-down of this important industry and that the business operations of the smelters and all developments, improvements and industrial enterprises uncertain and even hazardous, jeopardizing the interests of Salt Lake county and the State of Utah."

"Tenth.—That in view of these things and of others probably of equal or greater importance affecting our interests and our social and economic welfare, we submit that it is wise, just and proper at this time to make this declaration, and to our friends and all good citizens we appeal to unite with us in this matter to the end that a settlement or adjustment may be made and while we ask this, we do not desire that any man shall be a martyr for his neighbor or be deprived of home, property or comfort, and to those who may not have heretofore fully and adequately considered the final reckoning and all who may not wholly agree with us, we respectfully submit that the immediacy and diversity of the interests involved are such that man should be wise, careful and conservative and we, as petitioners, will not pray."

ROYAL CHRISTMAS TREES.

Twelve are Set up For the Emperor and Empress of Germany.

Potsdam, Germany, Dec. 22.—Twelve large Christmas trees from the forest of Ebnethen have been set up in the Shell hall of the new palace for the emperor and empress, about six acres of pine trees, the crown princess and her baby, and Princess Elisabeth. The emperor has articles brought to him from the members of the imperial family for shopping to Christmas. A wagon load of gifts at Christmas. A wagon load of gifts at Christmas. ## SPANISH FORK.

Funeral Services Over Remains of Mrs. Ottison.

Special Correspondence.
Spanish Fork, Dec. 21.—Yesterday afternoon the mortal remains of Mrs. Johannah Ottison were laid to rest, after impressive services, which were largely attended. Five speakers, namely: Bishop R. T. Mouney of Palmyra, Idaho, J. A. Hansen of the Fourth ward, Bishop M. Larsen of the Third ward, Elders Albert Swensen and William Grotte, all of whom gave glowing tributes to Mrs. Ottison. She was a woman much respected for excellent qualities of heart and mind. She had resided in Utah since 1855, and was born in Denmark, Sept. 14, 1839. She is survived by seven children, 50 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

CIRCLEVILLE.

Mysterious Death of William H. Jolley of Grass Valley.

Special Correspondence.
Circleville, Utah, Dec. 20.—William H. Jolley, one of Circleville's highly esteemed citizens, left his ranch in Grass Valley yesterday morning to get a load of posts from the canyon. When the team returned late in the evening, the son became alarmed at his father's absence and gave the alarm to neighbors. A search was instituted which resulted in the finding of Mr. Jolley's body upon the ice of Outer Creek reservoir. How he came to his death may never be known.

Mr. Jolley was 42 years of age, having been born in Salt Lake City in 1858. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his untimely death. One son preceded him to the great beyond.

Mrs. Jolley has the sympathy of her many friends and neighbors in her sad bereavement.

also is willing to allow justice to take its course, and should look at this vital question from a moral standpoint, as well as from a standpoint whose motive is purely "self."

TROUBLES OF "BAD EYE."

Says He Didn't Steal Overcoat Because He Was in Jail.

John Jackson, better known as "Bad Eye," again appeared in court yesterday afternoon. He is charged with the usual crime of petit larceny. The complaining witness, Henry Williams, a cook by trade, maintains that "Bad Eye" stole his overcoat and was wearing it. The prosecuting witnesses appeared before Judge Dial yesterday and the defendant's case will be offered today. Jackson maintains that it is a game to "railroad" him to jail that the others might obtain control of the colored population's vote. He attempts to prove an alibi. Henry Williams and George Smiley, who took the stand as complainant's witnesses, swore that the coat was taken before they were giving day. "Bad Eye" claims that he was and had been for 60 days prior to this in the city jail, serving time for a previous offense. "Bad Eye" acted as his own attorney, having appeared so often in court that he could well subject the witnesses to a rigid cross-examination.

A Tired Stomach

Does not get much good for you out of what you eat, for it does not digest much—it is wasteful. It feels sore and lame and is easily distressed and often upset by food. The best treatment is a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla which is positively unequalled for all stomach troubles.

SESSION OF COUNCIL.

The City's Western Boundary Finally Determined.

Murray, Dec. 22.—At the meeting of the city council last Tuesday night a resolution of confidence was read in behalf of A. J. Walquist, member of the council, who has the misfortune of losing his beloved wife on the 11th inst. The resolution was ordered inserted in the minutes.

Atty. D. W. Moffat presented his report to the council on the Utah Light & Railway company franchise and the western limit of Murray. The report follows in full:

Murray City, Utah, Dec. 18, 1906. To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Murray City, Utah: Gentlemen—At a recent session of the Murray city council the question as to the location of the western limits of Murray City and also the question as to the time at which the street railway franchise upon State street within the limits of Murray city and south of that which has been regularly operated expired, I have the following to submit:

I find that upon the official plat upon record at the county recorder's office of Salt Lake county, that the east bank of the Jordan river is the boundary of the whole extent of the western boundary of said city is the line defined as the city limits.

As to the railroad question, I find the following franchise granted to the railroad company:

Commencing at the south limits of Salt Lake county on highway No. 3, to the West Temple street, thence south on highway No. 9 to north line of highway No. 13; also commencing on highway No. 5, 20 rods more or less south of south limits of Forest Dale township, thence south on highway No. 5 to highway No. 6; a 6) commencing at terminus of grantee's grade on highway No. 8, 60 rods more or less south of the intersection of highways No. 8 and No. 7; thence south on highway No. 8 to highway No. 8; also at intersection of highway No. 8 and highway No. 7; thence west on highway No. 7 to highway No. 13, thence north on highway No. 13, 150 rods more or less to south line of school district No. 25; also commencing at intersection of highway No. 8 and highway No. 81 to point 60 rods west of highway No. 13, and on highway No. 13 from intersection with highway

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF WHAT THE NEW TREATMENT DOES A PRETTY TELEPHONE GIRL FINDS RELIEF FROM CATARRH.
READ HER STORY.

MISS MAY RITCHIE, 1228 E. 12th St., Salt Lake City.

Miss Ritchie says: "Mother tells me I have suffered from Catarrh since I was a baby—and I know I have suffered ever since I can remember. I had such headaches, and my nose and head bothered me so I had to stop school. I was always 'stuffed up' and small tumors grew in my nose, making it almost impossible to breathe. It was so bad at times I could not sleep at night, and felt miserable. I want to say that Dr. Shores' NEW treatment has done me more good than all the other treatments I have ever used. The swelling in my nose has gone down—all the tumors or polyps have been greatly reduced without cutting or cauterizing—and I now breathe through my nose easily, my headaches are gone, and I feel splendid, and I am glad to tell others about my wonderful relief." (Signed) "MAY RITCHIE."

AID FOR FRENCH CLERGY.

New Orleans, Dec. 22.—An offer of pecuniary assistance to the French clergy from the Catholic clergy of Louisiana was made last night to Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris, by Archbishop Benoit of New Orleans. The accompanying memorial was signed by the French priest in Louisiana. Archbishop Benoit's letter said:

"So glad to give to these expressions of sympathy a practical and substantial character let me add that the clergy of Louisiana have at the least made from your eminence to help pecuniarily within means, in the maintenance of the French clergy."

The memorial denounced the acts of the French government.
