

SOCIETY

SOCIAL CHAT

St. Valentine has been the presiding personage of the week, nearly all social affairs having paid tribute to his memory in some form or other. Valentine parties proper, and parties with decorations and details planned to suggest the valentine idea, have ruled the day, and afforded many pretty devices.

The luncheon given by Mrs. John C. Cutler at the Alta club today to about 40 of her friends was a delightful affair. The table was artistically arranged, a basket of spring flowers being at each corner of the large square table, with electric bulbs intermingling with palms and ferns banked in the center making an exquisite picture. During the luncheon delightful strains of music from Donaldson's orchestra were heard. After the luncheon the guests were entertained with vocal solos by Miss Agatha Berkholz and Miss Edyth Ellerbeck. The invited guests were: Mrs. Charles S. Tinney, Miss Vera Tingey, Mrs. Horace G. Whitney, Mrs. John D. Spencer, Mrs. M. A. Breiden, Mrs. Daniel S. Spencer, Mrs. Fisher Harris, Mrs. J. W. Currie, Mrs. Walter C. Cooke, Mrs. William H. King, Mrs. Reed Smoot, Mrs. William W. Lynch, Mrs. Fred A. Slade, Miss Hazel A. Cutler, Mrs. Howley.

The Christenson Wednesday soiree continues to be a pleasant and enjoyable affair. A number of social and card clubs make it a feature to attend in a body occasionally in place of following the usual program. The music furnished by the orchestra is one of the leading features, and is thoroughly enjoyed by those who attend.

Miss Mabel Parry was most pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at her home by a number of friends. The evening was delightfully spent with music, games and refreshments. Those present were Misses Irene Schofield, Hattie Hanson, Laura Wright, Ella Nelson, Hazel Parry, Edna Openshaw, Lelia Timpon, Ethel Goodyear, Clara Huber, Messrs. Harvey Peterson, Field Williams, Bert Rutherford, Eugene Hardy, Dan Rawlins, Frank Sildoway, Lynn Imley and Leland Watson.

Miss Lottie Hampton and D. W. Hamlin were quietly married Wednesday morning at the bride's home, 267 west First North. The bride was attended in going away gown. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin left immediately for San Francisco. They will tour the coast and later make their home in Los Angeles.

One of the valentine parties of the week was given by Mrs. J. T. White for her little daughter, Lydia. The decorations being in red hearts, with a postoffice with valentines for each guest was one of the pleasant features of the afternoon, which included dancing, games, and supper. Mrs. White was assisted by Miss Mary Smedley, Miss Almee Best, Mrs. William Rattenbury and Mrs. Hall of St. Louis.

Mrs. Robert Harkness entertained the Bridge club on Wednesday at her home, the details of decorations and counters in the costest being in valentine design.

"Mrs. W. A. Leatham entertained Monday evening at 63." Five tables were played, the scores and tallies being in purple. The table decorations were carnations and violets, a tiny bouquet of the latter being placed at each plate. After refreshments several choice musical numbers were given. A powder bowl and puff, the ladies' first prize, was won by Miss Junetta Pitt, and gentleman's first prize, a silver card case, by James Leatham. The booby prizes went to Mrs. R. C. Pitt and N. B. Crocker.

Mrs. W. F. James entertained informally at luncheon on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Edward Chapman of Evanston. The table was prettily decorated in yellow, and a game of bridge was enjoyed afterward.
