RULING ON WATER RATES.

· · · · MARCH 27, 1901.

The case of Julia A. Parker vs Rio Grande Western Railway company et al, is still being heard. The testimony f the defendant company R. G. W., has been completed and rested and the testimony of the defendant Union Pacife Rallway company is now being band. From the present outlook the taking of testimony will occupy several more days.

RULING ON WATER RATES. Judge Rolapp also rendered his decition in the case of Charles Gosling vs Bar River Irrigation and Ogden Watworks company, wherein the plaintin reverse company, wherein the plaintin rought suit to obtain a writ compeli-tog the defendant company to trun ack the eater to the plaintiff after it as deen shut off by the defendant up-the adminife refusal to stern a conthe plaintiff's refusal to sign a conthe plant year. The plaintiff paid company $19.25 for the water for his miss from September 1st, 1896, to miss from September 1st, defendant January 1st, 1897, and asked that the January 1st, 1897, and asked that the compagy refused to comply with the pupels, claiming that the amount per inoun should be $64.25. The court inoun should be $64.25. The court ould not grant the writ, but rendered be following ruling with regards the renge ruling the signing of connpany requiring the signing of conand wrapper. It is a harmless and healing salve for skin diseases. Unhealing save for equalled for Piles. F. C. SCHRAMM.

Rule 2 provides that "water is furnished by this company for a term not less than one year. All bills * the payable semi-annually in advance, are payable semi-annually in advance, use the first of January and the first lay of July." There is no doubt that day of July. There is no doubt that the water company may make and en-force rules for the government of their customers, but such rules must be rea-sonable; and when they are such all persons dealing with the company, as well as the company itself, must yield But the duty of the empany toward its customers, a hat of the latter to the former, and 18 that of the latter to the former, is somewhat reciprocal, and any rule or regulation or course of dealing between the parties which does not secure the just rights of both ought not to be adopted, and can not be sustained by the courts. I can hardly say that the rule that the company will not sell where new members for a less time ater for any premises for a less time one year is a reasonable rule. Unthan one year is a reasonable rule. One der the rules of this company, any tennant can apply for water connec-tion; and it would seem that, even if the tennant purposed a temporary res-lidence upon the premises, that he fayette Holbrook. uld be compelled to contract for the use of water for the entire year, and pay for six months in advance. I recognize that the rules provide that in case of vacancy the contract shall be annulled, but I apprehend that many instances can arise in which this provision would not obviate the in-ustice otherwise created by the conract. My attention has not been calld to any case in which such rule has een sustained as reasonable, while I it that the facts in one adjudicated case (162 Mass, 556) show that another company has a similar rule, but in that case the reasonableness of that vas not tested; but in the case f Rockland Water company vs - Adins (24 Alt, Rep. 840), it is expressly held that a regulation of a water comviding that takers of be liable to pay rent for the whole year whether they actually used i for that length of time or not, and make payment yearly in advance, thout special agreement, is unreason-

TRAP SHOOTING THIS MORNING.

Sunshine and Snow Make It Very Bad on the Eyes.

SOME VERY GOOD SCORES.

Detailed Record of Two Events-Large Number of Visitors Expected This Afternoon and Tomorrow.

Last night's snowstorm and today's sunshine combined to make it decidedly uncomfortable for the trap-shooters who participated in the tournament to. day. The sun's reflection from the snow was so bright that the marksmen could hardly see the blue rocks, but despits that fact some good'shooting was done.

The crowd present this morning was not quite so large as expected, but a big crowd is looked for this afternoon and tomorrow. If the snow melts away some records are sure to be smashed for all the shooters seem to be in good form.

Among the visiting marksmen who took part in this morning's work are the Browning Brothers of Ogden, A. Bigelow, G. Becker and A. Brewer, of Ogden, and R. Barney and Dr. Irvine of Provo. Following is the score of events No.'s 1 and 2, of 15 shots each: SQUAD NO. ONE.

holders in the Curlew Valley canal was held at Stone yesterday, which, after some disputing, resulted in the election given in the dispatch, as it did away with extra weight and simplified the rigging.

The only objection, he said, might be the fact that the Shamrock's topmast would not be housed if a severe wind came up. This feature, however, he said, had probably been foreseen by the yachts designers, who were competent men thoroughly conversant with their profession. On the whole, he said, he believed the change in construction was profession.

a good one. Bristol, R. L. March 27.-Relative to the dispatch from Glasgow to the effect that Shamrock II is to have a pole mast, combining main mast and topmast in one continuous steel tube from step to track, the Herreshoff's had no comment to make when the matter was related in their office this afternoon, By persons in close touch with the mem-bers of the Bristol boat building firm it is recognized that the housing to topmasts on this coast in the menth of August will be hardly necessary; that some hundreds of pounds of weight will be saved aloft, but that it may be necessary to rig several sets of spread-ers on the spar, something after the plan adopted on the main mast of Shamrock I.

He was followed by Elders John B. Milner and Myron Tan-He was followed by ner, who eulogized the nobliity of char-acter and kindly disposition of the deceased. As an instance exemplifying his love and charity it was related that in the early pioneer days of Utah when food was scarce and Elder Bullock had sufficient for his own family, he and his family had gone on short rations and shared with their less for tunate neighbors. This was in line with all the acts of Elder Bullock's life which were always those of a quiet, meek, simple follower of the Divine Master, devoted to the cause of truth. Messrs, Johnson, Clayton, Burles and Whitehead sang: "Remember Me, O Mighty One.'

Addresses were also made by Elders S. S. Jones, William Spicer of Salt Apostle Reed Smoot and Presi-Lake, dent David John.

"Farewell all earthly honors" was the closing hymn rendered by the choir, and the benediction was offered by Elder Abraham Halladay. At the cemetery the grave was dedicated by Elder George E. Pawelson. Six of the sons of the deceased acted as pallbearers.

Locating Oil Prospects - Work on

Snow Academy. Special Correspondence. Ephraim, Sanpete County, March 26 .---Bituminous shale has been known to be in this neighborhood for years, extending for six miles on the foot hills running north from a point southeast from Ephraim. It appears on the sur-face at many points. Mr. F. T. Jensen is making experiments with the shale and expects to have some oil out for exhibit in a few days. There are some fifty claims located.

Reports come from Fairview of petroleum having been found in sinking a well at that place. Peter Sundwall of Fairview is here, acting as receiver of the Junction Co-op —or is in charge of the property and merchandise remaining on the shelves, pending the decision of the court on the enforcement of involuntary bankruptcy.

Mr. Bamberger has been here on business pertaining to the organization and incorporation of a mining scheme, relating to some rich claims of lead and silver lately discovered in the mountains west of here, Work on the Snow academy will be of Wm. Hurd as watermaster for the ensuing year. A sheep inspector from Washington. , is amongst us inspecting the herds that are now passing through on their return from the winter range A cold wind from the north the last three days has had a tendency to drive back the spring, which many thought had surely come to stay.
