

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—Last night a rather slim house witnessed the second presentation of "East Lynne," with Miss Western as Lady Eustace and Madame Vine.

To-night the celebrated drama of the "Green Bushes" will be presented when Miss Western will personate Miami the daughter of the Mississippi, Mr. Herne, Wild Murtogh and Miss Lockhart Nelly O'Neil. They will be supported by the full strength of the company. This play will give excellent scope for the display of Miss Western's peculiar abilities; in Wild Murtogh Mr. Herne will have a much better chance to exhibit his powers than in East Lynne, and the public may anticipate a fine entertainment this evening.

CO-OPERATIVE MEETING IN THE 14TH WARD.—Last night the adjourned meeting of the 14th Ward Branch of the Co-operative Association was held in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms for the purpose of receiving the Constitution and By-Laws from the committee appointed at the previous meeting to draft the same. The Constitution and By-Laws were laid before the meeting and accepted. A considerable amount of stock was subscribed. A resolution was adopted that the stockholders shall be notified through the press of the time they are required to pay in their shares. This evening the President and Board of Directors will hold a meeting for the purpose of taking the steps necessary to commence business. We hope soon to see the co-operative movement in successful operation in this Ward.

CO-OPERATION IN OGDEN.—By letter from Elder Franklin D. Richards we learn that the co-operative movement has commenced at Ogdien, with encouraging prospects of success.

COURTESIES EXTENDED.—The following telegram was received, yesterday, by Mark Croxall, Esq., Superintendent of W. U. Telegraph Office, in this city:

"OMAHA, 16.
M. CROXALL.—I understand that a son of President Young is about starting East with an excursion party. If this is the case please say to him that I take pleasure in extending the courtesies of the Western Union Telegraph to him and his party, for family and social messages, during the trip.
By order of Messrs. Orton and Stager.
W. B. HIBBARD."

POMER.—Yesterday afternoon Alexander Talbot was fined $10 for committing an assault on Allan Rogers. Both men are employees at the Revere House.

J. P. Thompson was fined $15 for being drunk, breaking the peace and striking the police.

To-day, Ira Giles, arrested for drunkenness and using profane language, was fined $10.

FORT EPHRAIM.—Brother John Acton, of Fort Ephraim, writing on the 15th inst., says three day schools have been in session during the winter at that place with an attendance of about 200 pupils. Night schools have also been well attended. Phonics are receiving considerable attention among the people of the settlement. About 10 copies of the First and Second Deseret Readers have been sold, and in about a month the scholars will be prepared for something more advanced.

Brother Acton inquires if any of the church works are likely to be published in the Deseret type. In answer we may say that the Book of Mormon has been translated into the Deseret Phonetic type by Elder Orson Pratt, and with the assistance of Elder Robert L. Campbell, he is now revising it. It is probable that an edition will be published the coming summer.

DIED.—In this city 15th March, 1899, in child bed, Mary Ann Arnold, daughter of James T. and Harriet Snarr, aged 23 years, 6 months and 13 days. She has been a true and faithful saint and wife; she leaves one child and numerous friends to mourn her loss. Blessed are they that die in the Lord.

SOUTH PASS CITY.—The Sweetwater Mines, published at South Pass City, Wyoming Territory, draws considerable comfort from the favorable location which their mining camp possesses. It says:

"Here we are but sixty miles from the U. P. R. R., with a level country intervening, and when once at the Railroad we can take our choice of which way we shall go to purchase our goods, mail, etc., or fine enjoyment through the winter. If the East does not suit us we can go West; if the West is exorbitant we can go East—we are perfectly independent—our mines are situated equi-distant between both places, and we will be influenced only by the price and quality of the articles in the respective places, or as our inclination happens to lead us."

The Mines hopes that the people there will not have to wait much longer for their Territorial officers to be appointed and sent to them. It cares not who is appointed so they are upright and honest men and well qualified for the positions. It hopes others won't succeed. It says:

"We have a Territory rich in mineral, and two thirds of her surface is suitable for agricultural purposes; and with whole some laws, and good officers to execute them, it will not be long before we rap for admission into the Union of States."

CLARKSTON.—Brother F. W. Young, writing from Clarkston, Cache county, on the 6th instant says the people of that settlement, under the direction of Bishops Maughan, Preston and Littlewood, had turned out en masse and located a new settlement about five miles south of their present one, on the north bank of Bear River. The people of Clarkston, Oxford and Weston had joined in a petition to the office Department for a semi-weekly mail from Bear River North to Oxford, upon the strength of which they had started a mail of their own. All friends writing to them are requested to direct to Newton, Cache county via Bear River North.

Sleighing had been good in that section up to the date of our correspondent's letter; but the snow was then beginning to yield.

ORANGES IN LOS ANGELES.—The Los Angeles (Cal.) News says that a bearing orange tree in that county would be considered worthless, that would not produce more than one thousand oranges, and would be dug up and thrown away. It is not an uncommon thing there to gather annually three or four, and even five thousand oranges from one tree.

The climate of Southern Utah, or "Dixie" as it is called, is quite as favorable for growing oranges as that of Los Angeles, California, can be successfully cultivated there. Who, among our southern settlers, has knowledge and enterprise sufficient to start the culture of these, and other delicious fruits and vegetables, that require an almost tropical climate to mature? This business, if commenced and carried on with system, skill and perseverance, would benefit the whole of the people of Utah, and its originator would be very likely to realize a handsome competence.

[For the Deseret News.]

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS DEATH!

Throughout God's infinite domain
Life reigns perennial, all around,
And every pang, or pulse of pain
Leads but to higher vantage ground.

Where Autumn's leaves by myriads
droop,
They wake to higher forms of life;
And every shroud, exhaled, doth stoop
To earth again with beauty rife.

Disintegrate, earth's granite base
Brings untold wealth from fertile fields,
And in the circling smoke doth stoop
Those elements which beauty yields.

So, where on sloping hillsides dwell,
The generations of the past,
Doth not their resurrections swell
In forms unknown, or known, as vast?

Systems and suns, replete with change,
With wandering orbs, or carths or moons,
In resurrections have their range,
In morn, or night, or cycling noons!

Nothing destroyed, naught can be lost,
No particle but finds its place,
Now here, now there, at rest or tossed,
Each process adds to form, to grace!

By rigid law, eternal moves
In higher planes, refined at last,
What art of man, from God; but proves
That change, not death; hath powers so vast!

Little we know, and that is vain,
Compared with elements concealed;
We only feel the backward stain
We hope for being, life, enhanced.

Nay more; that inspiration must have had
(A drop from life's great fountain head,)
Assures, though reason, college mud,
May scorn such moods by spirit fed.

There's no such thing as death, we feel
Instinctive, in the realms of space,
But change, with noiseless step doth tread
Where'er Omnipotence can trace!

Thus feeble man, and fallen earth,
Aspire, and feel their pulses thrill,
The one to be as Gods in worth
The last celestialized by will!

Will, that hath worked, will work, unspent,
Till past eternities shall fall,
As single drops to ocean sent,
Till God shall be the all, in all!

FARMINGTON, Davis County,

March 15, 1899.

Ed. Evening News:—While passing through Davis county, it was really pleasant on the beautiful Spring day, of March 13, to see husbandmen "like bees in a warm day emerging from their hives." There was a general turnout, plowing and sowing peas, wheat and early grain. From the appearance of the newly plowed soil, seeding has been largely extended during this unusually early spring and mild winter. Some of the people are troubled with bad colds, and a sort of distemper attended with a cough. These diseases and the measles are prevailing at this place rather serious, and have caused many in Farmington to mourn the loss of friends.

On Saturday, Bishop Hess buried a daughter, and on the Sabbath, Joseph L. Robinson also buried a daughter, and Jas. Stevenson a young son; Thomas Grover buried a son to-day, and last Wednesday Mrs. Leavitt and James Smith buried their wives, both leaving young families, making this the most sad time for Farmington I have ever witnessed.

Yesterday I visited the Sunday School with Elder N. T. Porter, Superintendent of Sabbath Schools for this county. It was unusually small, owing to stormy weather and sickness. The school numbers 250 and is well conducted. I also attended meeting and preached a general funeral sermon. To-day it is snowing hard and will probably block the railroad.

EDWARD STEVENSON.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 15, '99.

Editor Deseret News:—Sir.—In these days of go-a-head enterprise in the development of the resources of our mountains and valleys, I beg to call attention to the splendid white sandstone that is found in Spring Canyon, some two miles from Coalville. This rock is adaptable to all kind of building purposes, and is inexhaustible. The superiority of this rock over the Red Butte, and others generally used in Salt Lake City, can only be realized through the practical use of it. It is cut for far less than the price usually paid for dressing Red Butte or the Cottonwood granite, and is peculiarly adapted for the choicest kind of moldings, cornices and tracery windows of the most refined taste in modern architecture. This stone maintains its color, and is also free from iron beds and pebbles, and not liable to decay. The contemplated line from Coalville to Echo City will soon be completed, which is in close proximity to the quarries.

When the railway is finished to Salt Lake City, I believe this rock can be delivered cheaper in the city than any other kind. Samuel P. Hoyt, Esq., is building one of the finest mansions in the Territory out of this same stone. Three sides are cut. The ashers are tubed and pointed, circular window caps, cornices, etc., polished, which give to it a rich and noble appearance. When finished it will probably be the finest house in this Territory.

Parties who are about to build would do well to pause and see the further development of this beautiful rock.

Yours, respectfully,
SAMUEL CARLISLE,
Stone Cutter.
