Consumption Can be Cured.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic, Schenck's Mankra Pills, Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Frequently medicines that will stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough. Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one of two heavy doses, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, remaining torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of mucus and ulcerated, the result of which is death.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juices of the stomach, aids digestion, and creates a ravenous appetite.

When the bowels are constipated, skin yellow, or the symptoms otherwise of a bilious tendency, Schenck's Mankra Pills are required. These medicines are prepared only by

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 73 degrees F. in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Clear.
Message.—There is a message at the Western Union Telegraph office for Amanda Tichenor.

The Emigration.—A Company of Saints, numbering one hundred and fifty souls, left Liverpool, bound for Zion, on Wednesday last.

To-Night.—The home missionaries for this Stake should remember the request for them to meet this evening, at 7 o'clock, in the upper room of the Council House.

Omission.—In the notice, in yesterday's issue of the organization of the Second Ward Mutual Improvement Society, the name of James Jensen, who was elected Treasurer, was inadvertently omitted.

Exportation Shipments.—Within the last thirty days Z. C. M. I. has shipped to distant markets, principally California, seventy-two car loads of the products of Utah, including potatoes, grain and dried fruits.

Fined.—This morning a restaurant cook, named G. Barton, was fined $25, in the police court. The cause of it was that, inspired by whisky, he made a disturbance of the peace, fired his pistol off on the street, and cut other unseemly capers, last night.

Uniform Hour.—At the Bishops' meeting, held last evening, at the Council House, it was declared, by unanimous vote, to be the sense of those present, that the hour for the assembling of the Sunday evening meetings should be uniform in all the Wards of the City. Six o'clock was agreed upon as the time. This arrangement to go into effect on and after Sunday, October 28th.

Quarterly Conferences.—Tomorrow and Sunday the regular quarterly conferences of Weber and Juab Stakes of Zion will convene at Ogden and Nephi respectively. Of the Quorum of the Apostles, President John Taylor and Elders O. Pratt, F. D. Richards, Joseph F. Smith and D. H. Wells expect to attend the meetings at Ogden, and Elders W. Woodruff, O. Hyde and E. Snow those at Nephi.

The Poor.—"Old King Boreas" during himself very vociferously during last night, especially in the "wee sma hours" of early morning, causing quite a commotion amongst the "sere and yellow" autumnal leaves, and things out of doors in general. This prognosticates an approaching wintry storm, the chill blasts of which will make the comforts of the fireside more appreciable. Now is the time for the well-to-do benevolent to remember their poor acquaintances who are short of food and fuel, by helping them to fortify against the inclemencies of Winter.

"Signs of the Times."—The Bishop of Manchester appears to be alive to the signs of the times. We clip the following from the Edinburgh Scotchman of Sept. 22:

"In a sermon which he preached on the occasion of the reopening of Kirkham Church, the Bishop of Manchester took occasion to rebuke the disposition which has appeared to make jokes on the subject of the Colorado beetle. His lordship pointed out that the prophets had said that God's four tokens of Himself were the sword, the famine, the pestilence, and the noisome beast; and, looking at the calamities at the present time afflicting various countries of the world, he remarked that this seemed to be certain, that God was coming out of his place and was visiting the nations of the earth."

Caroleenness.—Last night a gentleman on his way to his home in the Twentieth Ward, noticed, in that locality, several piles of fire ash that had been thrown out upon the street. The fierce wind that was blowing had fanned the latent sparks in the heaps and was whirling fragments of living fire about in the air, to the great danger of contiguous buildings. In one instance our informant procured a bucket and extinguished the fire by dashing water upon it.

When buildings are fired and property destroyed by such carelessness, the parties manifesting it are guilty of "involuntary incendiarism," which should be made punishable, by law, if it is not already.

Harper's Magazine.—Harper's Magazine for November is the concluding number of the fifty-third volume. The publishers announce for the coming year, new serial stories by Miss Thackeray, Miss Mulock, and Thomas Hardy.

Edward Everett Hale's story, "Back to Back," begun in the current number, is to be concluded in the December issue. Among the attractions of the December number will be a new poem, entitled "Koramos," by Longfellow, which will be illustrated by Fredericks and Abbey, and will occupy fourteen pages of the Magazine.

The November number is richly illustrated, and full of exceedingly interesting matter. It contains, with fine illustrations: Ten Year's Acquaintance with Alaska; Palestine, A Poem; San Antonio de Texas; Contentment, A Poem; Melons, A Story; Yachting in Blue Waters; The Best Gift, A Poem; Back to Back, A Story of To-day; A Study, A Poem; Erema, or, My Father's Sin; To a School-Girl, A Poem; A Year of American Travel; The Miners of Soranton; My Mother's Objections, A Story; and Editor's Easy Chair, Literary Record, scientific Record, Historical Record, and Drawer.

Facilities.—A good deal of surprise and somewhat of a sensation was created in the District Court yesterday, by some of the most remarkable rulings made by Judge Emerson in the case of the People &c. vs. Robert Smith. The case grew out of a disputed land claim near the Warm Springs, between the defendant and one Cottrell. The former was in possession of the claim, and the latter, by some means, obtained a U. S. patent for the land, and put up a building on it, which Smith, the defendant, demolished. The indictment against Smith was for the "Malicious destruction of property."

The Court, in its rulings, acted about as follows, during the progress of the case. It admitted evidence on the part of the prosecution intended to show that Cottrell was the owner of the disputed land, and refused to admit evidence on the part of the defense to show that Smith was in possession and the rightful owner. It refused to admit evidence to show that defendant Smith and his predecessors in occupancy had built and maintained the fence enclosing the disputed land. It refused to admit evidence to show that the United States patent held by Cottrell is null and void; or rather, ignored the palpable fact that the document is void. The land is within the corporate limits of Salt Lake City, and therefore not subject to homestead entry, and the patent cannot therefore be other than void.

It refused to admit evidence to show that before Smith demolished the house in question he sought legal advice, and that his counsel advised him to the effect that he had a right to destroy it, remove it, or do with it as he pleased, being on his premises. This evidence would have shown malice to be impossible, the defendant seeking, before acting, by the only legitimate procedure, to discover whether he would be justifiable under the law.

The inevitable sequence of such judicial proceedings is that people naturally form their conclusions as to whether or not they are one sided, and consequently subversive of not only the aims and intentions, but the actual letter of the law. When correct public opinion decides the actions of a judicial functionary to be out of harmony with impartiality and fairness, the same conclusion, in the same connection, inevitably places the particular judge involved in one of two positions. Neither of the situations is desirable.

The jury in the suit, to whom the case was given yesterday, failing to agree on a verdict, were, at a late hour last night, discharged. They stood stout to four for acquittal.

District Court.—Thursday, October 18th.

The People, etc., vs. Robert Smith, indictment for malicious destruction of property; the jury failed to agree upon a verdict and were discharged.

The People, etc., vs. John M. Buttry, embezzlement; jury trial, verdict of not guilty.

Friday, Oct. 19th.
James F. Woodman vs. Wells, Fargo & Co.; jury trial in progress.

The People, etc., vs. Carl C. Johnson, assault with deadly weapon; jury trial; verdict of guilty of assault and battery, accompanied with a recommendation of the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

The People, etc., vs. Andrew Swanson, assault with intent to kill; not entered.

The People, etc., vs. William Bryant, larceny; indictment found in 1874; not entered.

MINUTES

Of the Semi-Annual Conference of the Saints of North Georgia and Alabama, at Haywood Valley, Ga., October 6, 1877.

Present.—Of the Traveling Elders: J. Morgan, James T. Loomis and Thomas E. Murphy. Presiding officers of branches: D. R. Sellers, Grover, Ala.; John J. Barbour, Haywood Valley; P. B. Mayers, Armoche; John B. Daniels, Beech Creek; and W. C. Kilgore, Cove, Ga. A good attendance from all the distant branches, with a general attendance of strangers.

Conference opened by singing, "Wake, O wake the world from sleeping." Prayer by Elder Murphy.

Elder Morgan addressed the audience on the subject of the reformation going on in Zion, the efforts of the authorities to bring about a change of action on the part of the Saints, the progress of the Kingdom of God, and the rapidity of the fulfillment of the former and latter-day prophecies, urged the necessity of a united effort by the part of the Southern Saints in regard to emigration.

Adjourned to 3 p.m.

Conference met, at appointed time, and opened by singing, "Come to me." Prayer by Elder Morgan. Elder Loomis addressed the Saints on the subject of gathering, and urged all to prepare themselves for the coming of the Lord, and to be ready to be taken up in the clouds, and to be about to overtake the nations of the earth.

Adjourned to meet at 7 p.m. Conference opened by singing,

"Think gently of the erring one." Prayer by Elder Loomis.

Elder Murphy addressed the audience on the subject of the duty of the Saints to be true to the counsel of the Saints, its officers, and the duty of the Saints to be true to the counsel of those in authority, and the great duty that devolves upon Israel to build up Zion and assist to establish the kingdom of God on the earth.

Adjourned to 10 a. m., Sunday.

Conference opened by singing, "Oh my Father."

Prayer by Elder Murphy.

Bro. Mayers, called to the stand, addressed the people on the subject of emigration and the duty of the Saints to be true to the counsel of the Saints, its officers, and the duty of the Saints to be true to the counsel of those in authority, and the great duty that devolves upon Israel to build up Zion and assist to establish the kingdom of God on the earth.

Adjourned to 10 a. m., Sunday.

Brother Mitchell thanked God that he had the privilege of bearing testimony to the truth of the everlasting gospel, and felt indeed thankful that he had come to a knowledge of some of the principles of his plan of salvation; bore his testimony to the truth of the Latter-day work.

Elder Morgan called a meeting of the presiding officers of branches to meet immediately after the adjournment of conference, to consult about emigration matters.

Adjourned to 3 p.m.

Conference opened by singing, "O awake, my slumbering minstrel." Prayer by Elder Murphy.

The sacrament was administered.

Elder Loomis addressed the conference at some length on the subject of gathering and the restitution of all things, as spoken by the mouths of all the prophets from the days of Adam to the present time, and urged the great necessity of coming to a knowledge of the mind and will of God, and so living in obedience to his commandments as to have his Spirit to be with them always to guide them into all truth.

Adjourned to meet at 7 p.m.

Conference opened by singing "All is well." Prayer by Elder Loomis.

Elder Morgan addressed the audience upon the pre-existence of spirits, the organization of body and spirit, the nature of the salvation and redemption of the souls of the children of men by obedience to the principles of the gospel, and thereby securing to themselves a resurrection in the "morning of the resurrection," and by gathering up to Zion place selves in a position to benefit their dead and the saints enjoying themselves and went to their homes much refreshed and encouraged.

J. Morgan, Presiding.
A. H. MITCHELL, Clerk.
