DISGRUNTLED POLITICIANS

Making Renewed Efforts to Launch "American" Party in Junction City.

PAUL WHITE FATALLY HURT

Little Boy Run Over by Loaded Wagon—Vicious Footpads Throw Vitriol in Face of Victim.

Ogden, Oct. 9.—A number of the young politicians of Ogden as well as a number of the older ones from both parties, the Republicans and Democrats, are making a very unsuccessful attempt to launch the so-called "American" party in Ogden for this fall's election. As near as can be learned the promoters of the scheme are principally young men who are taking this method of "getting even" with the Republicans and Democrats for not being nominated on either ticket. Several attempts have been made before in Ogden for the formation of the party and it is very probable that the present attempt to bring the "American" party here will prove a failure.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Little Paul White Run Over by Heavy Wagon.

Ogden, Oct. 9.—Paul White, the 7-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. White, residing at 759 Twenty-seventh street, received injuries yesterday noon by being run over by a heavy wagon that may prove fatal. The boy together with a number of others attempted to board a heavy grading wagon which was passing the school, when the horses started, the boy was thrown to the ground and a heavy wheel passed over his abdomen. As quickly as possible the boy was removed to his home and Dr. E. C. Rich was summoned to attend him. Investigation showed that the boy was suffering greatly from his injuries which are all internal.

At the noon recess the police belonged to a teamster named Gale was passing the school. About 10 or 15 boys ran out to get on. The teamster stopped to allow the boys to climb on, but before the White boy had crawled into the wagon box the team started and he slipped under the heavy wheel which passed over his body.

DIVORCE AND ALIMONY.

In the district court before Judge Howell, yesterday afternoon, Chloë E. Dibble was granted a divorce from Neil P. Dibble, upon the grounds of cruelty, desertion and non-support. The plaintiff was also given the custody of a minor child, costing of the action, alimony of $20 per month and $10 a month allowance for the care of the child. The couple were married in Ogden, January 16, 1906.

VICTIMS FOOTPADS.

Irving Stock, a young man about 29 years of age, reported to the police early yesterday morning that while enroute to his home, two men stopped him and took his watch, chain and $5 in money. He offered slight resistance and the foot-pads threw vitriol in his eyes. The young man's eyes were in a frightful shape and the city physician was summoned. Upon examination Doctor Browning stated that the results of the injuries would not prove fatal or affect the sight of the boy's eyes as the acid was not strong enough to burn very much.

SCARLET FEVER AT STATE SCHOOL.

Regardless of the great efforts that are being set forth by the officers of the state industrial school, the scarlet fever epidemic which has been prevalent at the institution for about six weeks, has not been stamped out. There are at present 16 cases, most of them being convalescent. The last of the acute cases leaving the hospital yesterday afternoon. The invalids are kept in a building some distance from the others, and every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the contagion by strict fumigation of all the buildings.

SLOW PROGRESS OF TRIAL.

Little New Matter Developed in Burns Murder Case.

Special Correspondence. Manti, Sanpete Co., Oct. 8.—Little new matter was brought out at the Burns murder trial here yesterday. Few besides the friends of both sides were in attendance. At the close of S. E. Sorenson's cross-examination, Sam Hansen, manager of the saloon where the homicide occurred, was called, and gave the story of the affair as he saw it. He testified that he was in the parlor when the deceased, Jensen, opened the swinging doors between the parlor and poolroom, and heard the deceased accuse the defendant and inquire in an angry and offensive manner why defendant was hounding him wherever he went. Burns told Jensen to "get away and leave me alone."

Burns then stepped forward, grappled with Jensen, and the two rushed through the doors, which closed behind them, shutting off witness stand. Witness heard two shots fired as the doors closed.

As evidence that Burns sought a quarrel with the deceased, the witness testified that the Jim Fisk saloon was the usual place of resort of deceased, and that Burns seldom frequented the saloon except when deceased was present.

Edgar Munk and August Anderson, who also were in the pool room when the trouble occurred, corroborated the testimony of the last witness relating to the homicide.

Dr. William P. Winters, who examined the deceased and the wounds which caused his death, was the next witness. He described the wounds in detail. The clothing worn by deceased at the time of the tragedy, was also offered in evidence, as well as the revolvers of defendant and deceased.

The state furnished one of the best cards of the defense by bringing out the evidence of the former trouble between the two men, which occurred in November last. James W. McCann was called, and at a heated cross-examination between defendant and deceased in the Jim Fisk saloon which was occasioned by the arrest of the defendant, which was described as a rough and tumble fight. Witness testified that Jensen, Richard Whitaker and others, were standing at the bar drinking, when defendant rushed at Jensen, grabbed him about the neck, and with an oath, said: "What did you have me arrested for?" Burns pushed Jensen back against the bar; Jensen pulled a revolver, which he pointed at above his head. Companions of Jensen intervened and quiet was restored. On cross-examination the witness stated that Whitaker, who had attempted to separate the two men, was between them and Jensen, precluding Jensen's use of the revolver without danger of harming Whitaker. This was offered as a theory for Jensen's failure to use the revolver. The revolver was not taken from Jensen. According to the witness, Jensen had ample opportunity to have used the revolver before the defendant left the place had he wished to.

The trial is making very slow progress and may not be concluded this week, as anticipated.

RAYMOND.

FIGHT FOR CHURCH SCHOOL.

M. I. A. Convention—Beet Sugar Campaign Begins.

Raymond, Canada, Oct. 1.—Recently Prof. Horace Cummings, general superintendent of the L. D. S. Church schools, visited this place for the purpose of canvassing its situation with the prospect of locating a Church high school here in Canada. There are three principal aspirants for it, Cardston, Magrath and Raymond, each of which is in hard training for the contest. It is estimated the building and furnishings will cost from $25,000 to $30,000, and the suggested apportionment of the expense of erecting the building will be one-half, or from $12,500 or $15,000, to the town in which the building will be located. The merry, though bloodless, war will soon be on in earnest, and it is not taking for the facts to say that if Raymond has strength enough to land that high school, it will be built here. The other towns have also done their athletic suits and are warming up for the struggle, and if in the near future there is a big storm raging in southern Alberta, you will know its center is somewhere here, and that it is about the Church high school.

SPLENDID HARVEST.

The season is well along as the shortening days proclaim, the harvest is fully gathered and threshers in every direction are pouring a wealth of grain into the channels of trade that is making Southern Alberta an important factor in the world's wheat supply. The excellent crops are making these wheat lands advance in value by leaps and bounds. Investors learning as they do that ordinary investments do not carry the profit to be had in Alberta lands and products. One instance will illustrate how profitable such investments are. The owner of a tract offered it for sale at $25 per acre including the crop but no purchasers. This fall his yield sold for $33.15 per acre, or $8.15 per acre more than the total price asked, leaving him still in possession of the land which he now values at $30 per acre.

A most excellent fair was recently held here. Dominion judges pronounced the horses and cattle as good as the best in the country. The grain and vegetables would rank among the best to be seen at any state fair and there was exhibited the first Raymond grown apples.

BEET SUGAR CAMPAIGN.

The beet season is on and more so soon as the demand for Raymond sugar has so far exceeded the supply that importation of the raw product became a necessity to supply the demand of the rapidly expanding sugar trade. The importation of 500 tons was made from Germany and has been put through the rapid shipment of 500 tons is on the way which will be needed in the business. The problem of beet supply will be solved the coming season as the sugar company has offered some flattering inducements to some intending German colonists.

The southern Alberta metropolis, Lethbridge, is miles to the northeast, intends putting in a street railway system a branch of which will be extended to Raymond, recognizing as they do the value of such a connection. The recent M. I. A. convention was highly interesting and instructive, the visitors being Mrs. Luittrite Teasdale, Miss Ellen Wallace and Judge Henry S. Tanner.

The conference rush is now on, some of the citizens having already left, among them being Leroy Fairbanks, son of John Fairbanks the artist, and Miss Arlisa Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, who go to Salt Lake to be married.

Hard times are unknown here and while all are denied some of the luxuries more popular among those who regard as necessities, the people yet enjoy an expansive unknown in the cramped city life.

INTERSTATE NEWS BRIEFS.

Thurber Notes—Owing to the early frost the grain is badly damaged throughout the valley. Threshing is now going on. Some of the boys came in from the mountains after the deer hunt well laden with game. Miss Mayme Meeks returned home last week after a three months' visit in the north. While away she visited her brothers in Canada and made a 10 days' trip through the Yellowstone park.

SWEATERS FOR DOGS.

"I spent the winter in St. Martin," said a Walnut street girl, "in the white town, 6,500 feet up among the Alps, everybody wears a sweater. Shaking, swilling, coasting, if you are not in a white sweater you're gross in the eyes."

The prettiest, quaintest thing there is the way all the dogs wear sweaters too. A sweater is just the thing for a dog. Putting tight, leaving the legs free, outlining the graceful body, it is at once comfortable and becoming. And in St. Martin all the dogs wear sweaters. Bull-dogs, dachshunds, collies, fox-terriers, each caners about in the white snow in a white sweater. —Phillips Bulletin.
