ROBBERS' BIG HAUL AT HOT SPRINGS

Scene of Most Daring Brigandage in the History of Boxelder County.

CITY AND COUNTY TAX LEVIES

Fixed by Councilmen and County Commissioners—Mr. and Mrs. Folkman Struck by Engine.

OGDEN, July 12.—Bearing all the earmarks of amateurs' attempt at shooting up a place and robbing it, three young masked men held up the Utah Hot Springs hotel, nine miles north of Ogden, at 10:30 last evening, and after shooting Manager Richard Barnett through the shoulder and robbing about ten guests who were lined up against the wall in the office, securing about $500, most of which was from the United States postoffice, and overlooking $600 in currency belonging to the guests of the house, they made a successful getaway.

The robbery is very similar to that which occurred at the Salt Lake & Ogden railway depot in this city on the evening of July 5, 1908, when the robbers, after shooting through the shoulder of a passenger, secured about $500, most of which was from the United States postoffice, and overlooking $600 in currency belonging to the guests of the house, they made a successful getaway.

The robbers, with handkerchiefs tied across their mouths entered the front door of the office, displaying automatic revolvers. In the office were about ten men who were all commanded to line up against the wall and put their hands up. Manager Barnett, who was back of the desk, covered with the request of the robbers who began shooting. One of the robbers shot Barnett through the right arm near the shoulder shattering the bone. They then kept up a continual firing. While two of the robbers searched the guests and robbed the safe the third stood in the main door and kept all covered.

A. J. Shilling, a Union Pacific passenger conductor, of Cheyenne, Wyo., was in his room and hearing the shooting came out the main hall. He was injured by the robbers, who were in his direction. The same reception was given Frank Dalby, the bartender and Fred Paine, the night watchman. L. A. Looft, an employee of the house, who was standing near the desk was also made the target of the robbers' gun. Postmaster C. E. Olson was covered while he opened the two doors of the safe. A number of small drawers of the safe were pried open with a chisel. In one was about $500 in stamps and money belonging to the government. These together with the money order book were taken. Barnett lost $5 in currency and a number of other employees of the house lost amounts ranging from $7 to $15.

Barnett, who was growing weak from the loss of blood, and trying to hold the shattered arm in the air, begged the robbers to hurry up. This remark seemed to hurry the robbers some one of whom was at the safe. In his hurry he overlooked about $800 in money in envelopes belonging to guests of the house. The robbers were backing out of the office one of the robbers took a shot at the clock which tore into the side and stopped it at exactly 10:30.

Soon as possible telephone messages were sent to the sheriffs at Brigham City and Ogden. Dr. Ezra C. Rich was summoned and made a hurried run to the springs in the autog. Sheriff Wilson, Deputy Sheriff Hutchings and newspaper men were taken to the springs by W. C. Howell in his large white steam automobile. As soon as the officers arrived the trail was taken up, one of the robbers went north and two came towards Ogden. Barnett was followed by the robbers after an examination found the bullet had been pierced by the bullet. He says that the arm will probably be saved. The robbers were comparatively young and seemed to be amateurs at the business from the nervousness displayed while the robbery was being committed. They were from five feet six inches to five feet eight inches height, weighing between 150 pounds and 165 pounds. Two of them were light complexioned and wore black hats, all wore black coats and overalls. The officers are of the opinion that they are the same men who held up and robbed Agent Cook of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway depot on July 5, and secured $700.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.
OGDEN, July 12.—On recommendation of the finance committee, the city council last night passed a resolution for 1909 at 10 mills. Four and six-tenths of this is for contingent expenses, 5 mills for streets and sidewalks, one-tenth of a mill for sewers and three-tenths for library.

A heated discussion followed the report of the buildings and grounds committee on the proposition of dumping the sweepings from the street on lands belonging to the city. On motion of Dana the matter was finally referred to the sanitary committee.

An ordinance creating the position of fire marshal and providing for the better protection of the city in the matter of disposing of ashes, passed its first, second and third reading. It was explained that the fire underwriters were to meet this week and this ordinance would result in much better insurance rates.

In committee of the whole, the council voted in favor of buying the water interests of J. S. Lewis in Cold Water canyon for $2,500, and as soon as an abstract of title is prepared by the city attorney the deal will be closed.

CITY AND COUNTY TAX LEVY.
OGDEN, July 12.—The total tax levy Ogden City this year will be 35 mills, and the county will be 23 mills, providing the state and city levies will be the same as last year. This was fixed by the county commissioners at their session yesterday afternoon. The total value of assessable property in the city is $11,991,083; in the county districts it is $5,120,306.

In addition to the above levy, a 4-mill tax was levied on all sheep and goats in the county to provide a bounty fund. This tax was 2 mills last year. Under the law enacted by the last legislature a tax of 2 mills is also levied on all horses and cattle in the county outside the incorporated towns. The proceeds of this tax will also be used in the payment of bounties on wild animals.

A number of printing contracts were let to five different bidders. The commissioners also let a contract to Jacob Wanggaard for the sprinkling of Ogden canyon at $100 a month.

Mr. Folkman also received slight injuries but is now able to be around. The view of the engine was hidden by some bushes and they did not see it until they had driven upon the track. As soon as possible the engineer brought the lone engine to a stop and rushed to the aid of the injured people and secured a conveyance to send them to the hospital.

Lowe company to recover damages in the sum of $1,875, alleged to be due for the seizure of Smyth's property by the Lowe company. RECENT DEATHS
HALES, HENRY WILLIAM—At Bountiful, Davis county, June 25, while visiting relatives, Henry Wm. Hales, of Deseret, Millard county, passed away, full of years and honors. He was the son of Stephen and Mary Ann Hales, born August 7, 1829 at Rainsham, Kent, England. His father's family emigrated to Canada in 1832 and settled at Toronto. There the family became identified with the Latter-day Saints. In the spring of 1838 they started by team to join the saints at Far West, Mo., where they arrived in the fall of that year. While here they were subjected to all the drivings and persecutions that the saints endured at that time, and it was here that the boy Henry first saw the Prophet Joseph Smith, at the time he was betrayed into the hands of the mob by Colonel George Hinkle, and who with other prisoners, was sentenced to be shot without a hearing. Mr. Hales was expelled from the state of Missouri with the rest of the saints, and went to Quincy, Illinois, where he remained until 1841 when he moved to Nauvoo. He heard the Prophet Joseph Smith say that he "had finished his work and would now roll the burden of the Church on to the twelve apostles, and gave them all the keys, power and authority that he had received." He was among the first who crossed the Mississippi river when expelled from Nauvoo with the Mormon people, and in the spring of 1851 started for Salt Lake City, arriving in September of that year, participating in the hardships of pioneer days, including the Indian war troubles. He has resided in the following places in Utah: Little Cottonwood, Cedar Fort, Enterprise, and Deseret, Millard county. In the latter place he has resided since 1876. He was a valiant Church worker, holding the office of patriarch at the time of his death; 23 children, 90 grandchildren, and 41 great grandchildren honor his memory. The funeral was held in the Deseret meetinghouse June 27, 1909. His sterling character and life of great usefulness, were feelingly referred to by the following speakers: Elder Milton Moody, J. S. Black, Bishop Joseph W. Damron and Pres. A. A. Hinckley.
