On, I am a man who is not afraid to speak his sentiments. If a man is in the wrong I will tell him so. I don't care who he is. This is what I am going to do.

Moran—O, you never mind, I am also in the case of myself.

Lawson (Harty)—Well, may be you can, but so can I, and—

The chair (drinking the table with his great flourish)—Come, come, gentlemen, this thing must cease. You must not indulge in this personality.

A vote to pass the measure of the mayor's veto was taken as follows:

Yea—Hartley, Hill, Folland, Harty, Lamberson, Moran, Rich, Simons, Wainland.

Nay—Hols, Horn, Kariem, Kelly, Lawson.

Moran—I now move that we take up the franchise and amend it in accordance with the recommendations of the mayor.

The motion prevailed, another vote was taken, and after an hour had been spent in a display of wit and wit, the council adjourned.

Hardly—I cannot understand why this veto has been issued. I am a member of the sewer committee and have been in the city since the first of the year.
