BOARD OF EDUCATION. Amount in Treasury Augmented by County Taxes.

Ogden, Dec. 22 .- The board of education met last evening and ordered payment of warrants of teachers' salaries for current month. A report of the treasurer showed that $8,000 county tax money had been turned over to him. The school buildings of Ogden are being cleaned up and made especially at-tractive for the stake teachers' conven-

which will be in session here early in January.

MANAGER KADISH RETURNS. Manager Kadish of the Utah Smelting company of Ogden returned home last evening from a visit to the Tin-tic mining district where he went for the purpose of locating a suitable site for the erection of a large smelter. He states that several sites situated between Silver City and Mammoth were inspected, but neither one was definitely decided upon, though one will be taken in the near future and a large plant erected on the same, Mr. Kadish also states that almost daily his company is signing up con-tracts with large mine owners to run through the output of their properties at the Ogden smelter, which after the first of January will be put into commission

PREPARE HOUSE WARMING.

Important Changes Made in Interior Of the Historic Lion House for School and "Daughters."

The Daughters of the Pioneers have laid their new rag carpet and are busily finishing preparations for a jolly housewarming in their beautiful new puarters in the Lion house.

Col. Young and the board of trustees of the Latter-day Saints University have felt the educational importance of the exhibit to be made by the Daughters of the Pioneers and have therefore set aside for their use the best room in the house, except the parlor itself. The change made in the nistoric old house are delightful and most desirable. The upper floor has been completely altered, the partitions torn out and two large halls construct-ed at each end. These suachous rooms ed at each end. These spacious rooms are used for the domestic science demonstrations. There is no finer nor more complete equipment in the state for this branch of work and study than these new and elegant rooms.

The parlor is to be restored, as neary as possible to its original furnish-ings, and will serve as the reception room of the domestic science and art departments of the school, as well as that of the Daughters of the Pioneers. The rellc room of the socity opens di-rectly out of the parlor, and will be opened once a week to the students of the school. But at no time will the Covey, conductress; Mrs. L. H. Cahil, assistant conductress; Mrs. L. Hal-stead, secretary; Mrs. T. E. Haslett, marshall; Mrs. E. Roufs, Ada; Mrs. T. W. Hutton, Ruth: Frances Eddy, Queen Esther; Kate E. Smithers, master: Mrs. J. H. Epperson, elector; Ada Som-merville, warden: Mrs. J. S. Småthers, southed pened once a week to the students of he school. But at no time will the oom be thrown open to the general public. Members of the society will ave access, of course, to these inter-sting apartments, and by invitation, heir friends may be given the cour-esy of the place. But the usual res-rictions of club life will obtain in the society's occupation. The Daughters have decided to hold people. The rooms of the Genealog-tical society in Salt Lake City are visited more and more each week, and new families are beginning research work as the time goes on. Cata-logues from abroad come to this office isst before published. Any informa-tion desired on these lines may be had by inquiry at the rooms of the society room be thrown open to the general public. Members of the society will have access, of course, to these inter-esting apartments, and by invitation, their friends may be given the cour-tesy of the place. UTAH GENEALOGY.

How Interest is Growing in This and Other Countries as to Family History.

The interest in genealogical work is constantly growing. Especially is this true of Great Britain, Germany. Scandinavia and Switzerland, and the New England states. Why people of the world should take such a vital interest in genealogy (a far more extended inquiry than exists in Utah even), is an interesting problem for the Latter-day Saints only to solve. However, it is pleasing to note the advancement in this work made by the Mormon peopeople. The rooms of the Genealog-their opening services next week, Friday, and for this purpose committees are engaged in preparing programs and designing old-fashioned refreshments. Pres. Joseph F. Smith will be the principal speaker: Aposile O. F. Whitney will speak of "Pioneer Sons," Mrs. Bathsheba W. Smith and Mrs. Emmeline B. Weils on "Pioneer Sons," Mrs. Altce Kimball Smith on "Pioneer Daughters," and Mrs. Lucy Woodruff Smith on "Pioneer Grand-davghters,"

PECULIAR WILL FILED.

Strange Language Used by the Late William C. Wilson.

The will of William C. Wilson, who died on Dec. 14, 1906, has been filed for probate in the district court. The instruprobate in the district court. The instru-ment is dated on Dec. 13 and its closing paragraph is couched on the following rather peculiar language: "This will is subject to amendment if I live 24 hours more or longer." He did not get the op-portunity of amending his will, however, because he died within 24 hours after he made the will. The estate consists of rea-property at Coalville valued at $7.0, which is bequeathed to the widow, Esther A. Wilson, and some real property at Pleas-ant Green valued at $1.20, which is be-queathed to the widow and Margaret A. Featherstone jointly.
