

INDIGNATION MEETING.

Held by Citizens in the Salt Lake Theatre Last Night.

THE PARTY OF HATE DISMISSED.

No Conditions Exist that Threaten the Advancement and Prosperity of Utah.

The call for a mass meeting of business men and other citizens to be held in the Salt Lake Theatre last night was literally and enthusiastically responded to. Long before the time of commencement the street in front of the Theatre was packed with an intelligent crowd composed of merchants, bankers, capitalists, lawyers and laboring men of almost every shade of religious and political belief, eagerly awaiting admittance and ready to refute the slanderous statements being made daily by the Salt Lake Tribune, that division on National party lines by the people of Utah means the bringing about of a crisis in local financial affairs.

This meeting was called to order by temporary chairman.

W. E. BALDWIN,
who said—For the first time in the history of the United States we hold that the business interests of a certain section of our country are of stake unless a certain political party shall be successful. There can be no doubt that a constant repetition of this erroneous idea will have a bad effect. To correct it now becomes absolutely necessary. For that purpose this meeting has been called. There will be Democratic speeches, but Republicans speeches, not an expression of sentiment from business men of all political shades. We will be here to expose in person to the public the erroneous impressions that are being so ingeniously circulated to our detriment.

On motion Mr. W. E. Baldwin, Esq., George West was made chairman.

In responding to the honor conferred, Governor West said: We are not here as politicians tonight. We are here to expose in person to our gathering. We are here for the purpose of saving the manhood of Salt Lake City. Business men, irrespective of political party affiliations, have now agreed to meet in one place and to expose in their meetings all the conditions existing for a great city. I found that all the things that go in make up a great city were not taken advantage of. Look around you, see what is done in our streets. They are not the product of one class or another, but of all classes. Then they had little else to do, but to buy buildings, and to make profit therefrom. We advertise Utah, but not in a boasting manner.

We invited our friends and relatives to come here to help us. We have done our best, and can do better. I have invested over half a million of money since I came, and I am satisfied, Inc. During the next month I propose to expand three times my present business. The greatest success in Utah, I can assure you, is due to the fact that the communities that prosper are those that put their shoulders to the wheel and all pull together, that is what makes our city great.

There are no conditions existing here which prevent our citizens from using men with all the rights of Americans. We have now got rid of all the conditions inviting for a great city. I found that all the things that go in make up a great city were not taken advantage of. Look around you, see what is done in our streets. They are not the product of one class or another, but of all classes.

Then they had little else to do, but to buy buildings, and to make profit therefrom. You are mistaken. No person comes to live where there is contention. I believe that it is the duty of our citizens to meet and speak up for our city. We must keep credit out, and drag real estate values down.

On motion Judge Eliza Smith was elected secretary.

On motion Mr. Baldwin, Esq., the chair was authorized to appoint a committee to draft resolutions.

Messrs. Baldwin, Lynch, Dyer, Lett, Campbell, Crittenden, Cunningham, and E. G. Woodley were appointed.

M. A. Park moved that the committee be increased to fifteen; carried.

The following were voted by the chair:

Miss Webster, Robinson, Harper and Lapey.

MISS JAMES SMITH

was called for and responded in substance as follows—As I view the situation, we are to consider if it is judicious for us to become Democrats and Republicans, and whether it is wise to endanger the business interests because we are about to affiliate with the great national parties of the United States. We are becoming more and more a financial power. The lot of us low citizens in the United States is good enough for me. My honest opinion is that there is a future awaiting us. The present is glorious strength for honest men to condone. Ghoulia alone die in the graves of the past. As we leave the past and live in the present, we become more and more. We will bring off the men of Utah in fine with this promising future. [Applause.]

STODDARD 2700

got into the American National bank and asked the cashier "How's business?" "Pretty quiet," I said. President said he told me the same thing. He then said, "What's the reason of very large number of people here?" "I don't know," I said. "The truth is, the thing has got to be a joke, and the last who have it in mind now is a joker." "We are not the only ones who think so," he said. "A number of them think so, but I don't know exactly why. The truth is, the thing has got to be a joke, and the last who have it in mind now is a joker." "The truth is, the thing has got to be a joke, and the last who have it in mind now is a joker." "The truth is, the thing has got to be a joke, and the last who have it in mind now is a joker."

E. H. CARRINGTON

said a meeting of this character is giving too much prominence to what should be disregarded in business. He took up the Liberal cause, "I am a strong advocate of the Dyer bill," and added, as he understood it, that Mr. Dyer was not responsible for the class of elements that were in the movement. In my professional capacity I was asked in get out the papers to elect some candidates whom that organization had been working on Commercial Street. The paper said, "The Dyer bill and the commissary building could be erected in the alley." (Laughter.) The paper can tell who supports the other paper. (More laughter.) I expect that the paper in question is not in the "Liberal" ticket so that we can have more Dyer buildings. (Renewed laughter and applause.)

RESOLUTIONS

The committee on resolutions reported the following, which was adopted with only one dissenting voice:

WHEREAS it is being represented by the delinquent of the business interests of our community that these are political movements which will be of great benefit to the sustained advancement and prosperity of the city and Territory;

Resolved, That in the opinion of this committee, there is not now nor there is in possible future time to be based these movements upon the principles of the party of the People. We are here to stay, and to remain in the great national parties of the country, and to do our best to support them, and to do our best to oppose the Dyer bill.

W. E. BALDWIN, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions.

THOMAS LESTER

said—Three years ago I sold all that I had in the East, put it in my west pocket and came to Utah. A real estate executive was here, and he said he wanted to purchase the president thereof. We advertised Utah, but not in a boasting manner.

We invited our friends and relatives to come here to help us. We have done our best, and can do better. I have invested over half a million of money since I came, and I am satisfied, Inc.

During the next month I propose to expand three times my present business. The greatest success in Utah, I can assure you, is due to the fact that the communities that prosper are those that put their shoulders to the wheel and all pull together.

J. H. MORRILL

The first thing that strikes the heart of the East is that Salt Lake City is upon the high road to the great West. We come to Salt Lake City to observe its progress and are compelled to believe it is up to any improvement whatever on the part of the eastern cities. We have seen the most brilliant growth in the galaxy of states. It is certainly a strange anomaly that beings all an audience together as the first thing that goes in make up a great city.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK

Mr. PAUL, July 10.—A. Prohobrook reported from Seattle, Wash., says—

The Andersons charged and Frank, his son, through the breast. The Andersons gave him a sharp blow on the head, and he fell to the floor. The Andersons then struck him again, and he died enough to reach the jugular.

All were more or less injured. Frank Anderson's son is dead. One of the Andersons was shot in the arm, and the others in a charge of attempt to murder.

Frankson is dead when they are tried tomorrow evening in Eldorado, Ind. Friends of each side are gathered. They come from good families.

A. PROHOBROOK