Senator Morgan Tells of What Might Happen.

CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

Great War Talk Evoked-England to be Wiped Off the Earth in Cermin Contingences.

Washington, March 6,-Again today Vice President Roosevelt was the central figure of the opening proceedings

Mr. Morgan of Alabama, who yesterof the Senate. day offered a resolution declaring the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty between the United States and Great Britain, addressed the Senate for nearly two hours upon his proposition, His admonitions to Great Britain were particularly sharp. He declared that if Great Britain should endeavor to enforce the terms of the treaty the ef. fort would result in a war in which the great empire, which had controlled far scores of years the commerce of the world, would be swept from power and her king would be left with only rereignty over his own island. After the routine of "morning busiaddressed the Senate upon his resolu-tin declaring the Clayton-Bulwer rear abrogated. He said he would solvie from his argument any conmission. The only prospect of the contruction of the Nicaragua canal now by the United States rested upon the tocols which had been entered into etween this country and the govern-

No such action, he said, ever had been taken by Great During all the time when Americans hugging to their bosoms" the delusion that Great Britain eventually weuld enter upon a friendly arrange-ment for the construction of the canal, GreatBritain had preserved a "profound and golden silence." He called her silence "golden" because he asserted Great Britain, through Liverpool, which was the commercial center of the world, was being enriched and the United States, because of the lack of the Nicaragua canal, was helping to the enriching of Great Britain, uents of Nicaragua and Costa Rica,

He challenged any senator to point to a single proposition which Great Britain had made for such a modifica-

ion of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as

"There cannot be anything more reclous today to Great Britain," said Mr. Morgan, "than to prevent the con-struction of the Nicaragua canal. It Great Britain, by her 'golden silence can prevent that her profits will connue, and the longer she can do that he greater will be her profits on the er canal. She has remained as silent upon the desert, and she seems to be looking out upon a desert of wasted American opportunities, and, sad to say, American honor. Great Britain is still silent."

With some feeling, in referring to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the Alabama senstor said: "We will make no commise with Great Britain upon that ubject. We will make no concession to breat Britain in relation to the treaty. What we shall do with it (and some of r people are opposed even to that) that we shall declare it abrogated. the vote on my resolution could be taken today it would inform the Presient of the United States that he has no two-thirds majority in the Senate to opt any compromise he may make Great Britain.

HOW CARMEN WORKED. Had Permission to Cross from American to Insurgent Lines.

Vancouver, B. C., March 6.-Japanese papers received today by the steamer Empress of India give full details of the occurrences leading up to the rest by the military police of Manila on Feb. 7, of D. M. Carman and Senor Carrenza on the charge of aiding the insurgents. The two men under arrest did business in the Philippines as contracting agents under the firm name of the Carman company. By means of letters of introduction and influential friends, Carman is said to have secured permission to go at will between the lines. This privilege gave him an immense advantage over other Manila merchants and it is charged that he utilized this oportunity to transact an immense business with the insurgents, selling them supplies and storing for them copra and lumber, which he is said to have sold to advantage for the insurgents, putting $6,100,000 into their

CHILEAN CONGRESS CALLED. Will Meet in Extraordinary Session

Because of Internal Differences. New York, March 7 .-- A dispatch to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile,

Because of the serious difficulties that have developed among the political par-ties and strong dissatisfaction with the present conservative cabinet an extra-ordinary session of the national congress has been called.

The object of this movement is to provoke a cabinet crisis, which will lead to the formation of a new ministry, representing only the liberal elements, which now form the controlling majority in Congress.

Public attention has been centered wholly on the electoral convention, which has been endeavoring since Sunday to nominate a candidate satisfactory to the liberals in opposition to Senor Pedro Montt, who is supported by the conservatives. It is believed the convention will end its session this week without finding a solution of the difficulty. Such hetrogeneous elements as have been brought together, representing all the parties who for a year, has been at odds, could not long remain in harmony.

What the result of such a failure will be cannot be foretold.

Building Trades Union.

Chicago, March 7.—The Record says: The first definite steps toward the formation of a new central body of the building trades have bene taken by the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union.

The arbitration committee of that union at a previous meeting was instructed to devise some way to bring about closer relations between the trades which have made agreements with the contractors and left the building trades council. Last night the committee submitted a report in the shape of a com-munication calling for a meeting of five men from each constructive trade to consider matters of interest to all.

The communication, which will be sent to the fifteen principal unions in the building industry today, does not say that the formation of a new council is the end aimed at, but the prime movers in the matter hope that it will result in such a central body.

The unions which will be asked to send delegates and participate in the movement at Brick Layers, Carpenters, Painters, Plumbers, Structural Iron Workers, Hoisting Engineers, Plasterers, Steamfitters, Stone Cutters, Mar-ble Cutters, Tile Layers, Gravel Roofers, Gas Fitters.

Chicago University Matters.

Chicago, March 7 .- With the acquisition of the Chicago institute by the University of Chicago came the an-nouncement yesterday that the university trustees, who have controlled the Chicago manual training school for the last few years, have decided to make that institution a department of the new school of pedagogy-a Blaine school-which is to be established at the university. This will mean the permanent abandonment and sale of the manual training school building, which is expected to bring about $100,000, a sum which will be added to the endowment fund of the pedagogical school. The John Dewey school will also probably be included in the consolidation. This decision on the part of the trus tees comes as a part of the general plan to establish at the university a pedagogical school which shall con-tain all the departments necessary to complete an elaborate educational scheme, in which President Harper, Col. Parker and John Dewey are all interested and concerned.

DURANT IS A CREAT HUMBUG

He Never Fought a Duel With a Russian Count.

IT WAS HIS OWN INVENTION.

The Whole Story Was Concocted that He Might Break With

His lietrothed.

Paris, March 7 .- The report that John Wilson Durant of Albany, who had been living during the last two years fir Paris with his mother, had been killed at Ostend in a duel with a Russian count, was an invention of his own. Mr. Durant is still alive. No duel was fought. The whole story was a pure fabrication.

This was definitely established last evening when it became known that two letters had been received in Paris from Mr. Durant, one dated Ostend, March 3rd, and the other London, March 4th. In the former he asks the recipient to make centain personal arrangements and to forward his mail o Glasgow, care of P. S. Peat, Kelvide and in the latter he says, after requesting that a change be made in the arrangements suggested in the first letter and that his mail be forwarded to London: "You will understand that I officialy died yesterday. Keep up the Il-

These letters are in Durant's own hand-writing. The evidence originally apeared to establish conclusively the fact of a duel. The first clue was in the following death notice appearing in the European edition of the New York Her-

"Durant-At Ostand, Belgium, March 3rd, John MacWilson Durant."

The attention of the American consulate was called to this and an investigation was immediately opened which revealed the following telegram, written in French, that has been re-ceived by Durant's bethrothed, Mile Laure Mangin, yesterday morning:

"Ostend, (undated)-My friend Durant is dead. Count is very seriously wounded.

The signature is the name of one of Durant's friends, and the supposition is that Mr. Durant sent the telegrams Mile. Mangin, who was interviewed Mile. Mangin, who was interviewed last evening, said Mr. Durant told her of his trouble with a Russian count at his hotel and said that he was going at his notel and said that he was going to fight him at Ostend. He had also talked freely at the hotel to friends regarding the alleged coming duel,

Mr. Stevens of Boston, Mass., urged him to abandon the 'dea and endeavored to persuade him to return to the United States with his mother, Mr. f honor and I intend to see it through. Durant replied: The count is coming from Nice and the encounter will occur at Ostend."

Investigation in Paris then brought to light the receipt of the two letters, which revealed the fact that Mr. Durant was responsible for the whole dra-matic story. He has been without occupation and has lived extravagantly. He had an apartment at 95 Boulevard St. Michel, to which he sent the death telegram addressed to his betrothed, Mile, Mangin belongs to a poor family. He introduced her among his friends as his betrothed and a notice appeared in Le Journal, February 16th, an-nouncing the betrothal, in which it was stated that the marritge had been fixed for the second fortnight in March, Possibly he reconsidered his intention and conceived the duel story as a loophole for separation.

DURANT IN LONDON,

London, March 7.-Mr. Durant and his mother were found last evening at the Euston hotel. When interrogated on the subject of the report of his death in a duel at Ostend he was greatly taken back, and exhibited extreme agitation at the revelation of his scheme. Finally, resolving upon a frank state-ment, he explained that he had had a serious quarrel with Mile Mangin, his betrothed, and had determined to break betrothed, and had determined to break off relations with her. He said he considered the best exit from the difficulty would be to die, at least officially, and that his trouble with the Russian, which was real, offered the easiest solution of his entanglement. Therefore, he took advantage of this method of he took advantage of this method of announcing his death.

Several memiars of the state committee were present, and the meeting was attended by memand the meeting was attended by hem-bers of the legislature and some others. An address was issued in which the members of the party are advised to affiliate with the Democracy. The address cites the fact of the bolt from the St. Louis convention in 1896, the organization of the Silver Republi-can party and the subsequent events. The attitude of the Republican party on the financial question, of foreign war for conquest, on "colonial policy and increase of the army," on "sub-serviency to corporate wealth," and in making large appropriations, is con-demned. The co-operation with the Democracy is reviewed, and the part taken by the latter in electing Senator Dubols recalled. In concluding, the ad-dress save:

The national Democratic party is so thoroughly committed to the principles we maintain and so earnestly desirous of accomplishing the reforms which we of accomplishing the reforms which we seek, that no reasonable man fears a return of that party, to the principles advocated by Grover Cleveland. CONSUL'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Governor of Shan Tung Province Has

Annulled the Recantation Pledge of Native Converts.

Vancover, B. C., March 7.-The Japan Mail says:

On February 10th the Russian soldiers behaved with great violence at Cho Foo. A whole squad of soldiers became intoxicated and were running amuck. They took more liberties around the British consulate than the consul wished, and when they killed the concul's Chinese servant out of pure wantonness, the consul remonstrated and threatened to report them.

The Russians were then ordered by their drunken commander to line up. They did so. The officer then shouted, 'Fire," waving his sword at the consulate, Half of the Russians refused. The other half fired straight at the consulate and the consul narrowly escaped being kiled.

In one house three men had been hemmed in, one shot dead, the house being afterward fired, and the two remaining troopers all but suffocated. Further on three troopers were found defending three wounded Indian coolles with only two or three cartridges remaining. Five Japanese infantrymen and seven Mandapanese infantrymen and seven dan-churian bandits were killed, the rest escaping into a large village from which a hot fire was opened. The next day a force of 100 cavalry and 400 infantry moved on the village, but it was found to be deserted.

VENEZUELAN SITUATION.

Powerful and Far-Reaching Uprising is Now in Progress.

Large Part of the Country in the Hands of the Insurgents - Well Supplied with Arms.

New York, March 7 .- The Times this morning says; A resident of New York who, for political reasons, declined to permit the use of his name, but who has extensive business and political dealings with Venezuela, gives an outline of the sitution existing in that country:

Gen. Ignacion Andrade arrived at San Juan, Porto Rico, from Cuba, on February 17 and remained at his ranch for a few days, when he departed quietin the field, as he had perfected his final plague has disappeared in the republic. scheme, arrangements with his Cuban friends who are to take part in the decisive movement for the overthrow of Ciprano Castro, the present dictator of the re-public of Venezuela.

Notwithstanding that but little, if any, news of the revolution now going on in Venezuela finds its way into print, it is true that a most formidable, powerful and far-reaching uprising is now in progress in that country, and it will not be many weeks or days, perhaps, before the censorship established by Castro in December last will be broken, and the details of the affair will be sent out freely

"The entire country lying west of the Orinoco river up to within one hundred miles of Caracas, the federal capital, is now in the hands of the revolution ists, under the leadership of Gen. Nicholas Rolando, with Gen. Pedro Ducharme and his brother, Gen. Horatlo Ducharme, each in charge of large and well disciplined armies, composed of fighters of no mean qualities. These visions of the revolutionary army well equipped with modern arms and an ample supply of ammunition.
"Since the withdrawal of Castro's forces from the Orinoco district only a few revolutionary troops have been required to care for places like Cludae Bolivar, Barrancas, and the Maccarle river, and hence the bulk of the best fighting men have joined the divisions of Rolando and the two Ducharmes who have been advanced to the west ward, doubtless to concentrate near the miles east of the city of Caracas. From this bay it is scarce two days' march to Petare, which is connected with th capital by a well built and equipped

'All the telegraph lines in the state of Bermudez are now in the hands of Rolando's troops.

'In the western section of the republic the same activity prevails as regards massing troops and pressing them to the center. These forces are under command of Gen. Perraza, and a corps of able generals, each of whom has a local following. It is also reported that large numbers of Colombian adventurers have joined the Venezuelan forces. That there is some understand ing between a certain class of Colom bians and the insurgent forces likely from the fact that Gen. Rolando when he left New York last autumn went directly to Colombia to make arrangements for an accession forces from among the people of that country. After several months' sofourn there he went away in a very satisfied mood. Immediately after his arrival home news was received here of an advance of the revolutionists, not only Orinoco and Bermudez tricts, but from the Colombian frontier. This western alliance is doubtless due to the fact that Colombians have some old scores to settle with their Andian brethren, of whom Castro is a leader

I have been "as gray as a badger" ever since I was 15 years old. My husband, who travels for the Kirk Soap Co., of Chicago, heard so many of his friends on the road speak so highly of De Lacy's French Hair Tonic that he brought a bottle home and wanted me to try it, and, though I had little or no faith in anything of this kind, to please him I decided to give it a trial. I applied it according to directions, and before I had used one-haif my bottle there was not a Gray Hair in my head; it turned every gray hair back to brown, which is the original color of the balance of my hair. I can truthfully say that De Lacy's Hair Tonic is a most wonderful preparation. My hair is now as soft and nice as can be.
