It is supposed they are waiting for the Rio Grande to fall, to make a raid on that place. Preparations were being made for a vigorous defence. The firing took place several days before any guns were fired at the U. S. ports or troops either at Charleston or Pensacola. It is a small four pound cannon, formerly the property of the city of Vicksburg.

The Brooklyn Eagle this p. m., publishes the following card from Beecher to the editor of the Brooklyn Eagle—

"In a long and active life in Brooklyn, it has rarely happened that the Eagle and myself have been in accord on questions of common concern to our fellow citizens. I am for this reason impelled to acknowledge the unsolicited confidence and regard of which the columns of the Eagle of late bear testimony. I have just returned to this city to learn that application has been made to Mrs. Victoria Woodhull for letters of mine, supposed to contain information respecting certain infamous stories respecting me. I have no objection to have the Eagle state, in any way it deems fit, that Mrs. Woodhull or any other person or persons who may have letters of mine in their possession, have my cordial consent to publish them in this connection and at this time. I will only add that the stories and rumors which for some time past have been circulated about me are grossly untrue, and I stamp them in general and in particular as utterly false.

"Respectfully,
(Signed),
"HENRY WARD BEECHER."

The Union correspondent at Tucson says a letter received from the San Carlos reservation says Gen. Crook left on the 17th for Camp Apache. He expressed himself well satisfied with the aspect of Indian affairs on San Carlos under Major Brown's management. The Major is bringing the savages down to realize the sense of power he can wield, and if not interfered with he believes he can tame them for good. He counts them every day, and had already started them planting and working an irrigating ditch. The number of his charge is about 100. No more than thirty were absent. He thinks an occasional raid still probable. Nearly all the horses recently stolen from San Pedro have been recovered. As soon as the reservation is fairly underway his purpose is to be instantly on the trail of all raiding parties, and never let up until they are punished.
