FRANK D. FRENCH GIVEN ULTIMATUM

Will Have to Pay Alimony by 10 A. M. Monday or Go To Jail.

IS IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Has Neglected to Pay His Wife $50 a Month as Ordered Since April Last.

Unless Frank D. French raises a sum of money something in excess of $150 and pays the same into court between now and 10 o'clock on Monday next, he will be given into the custody of the sheriff of Salt Lake county until said payment is forthcoming.

Such an ultimatum was handed out to Mr. French today by Judge Armstrong in the district court. Mary W French, who sued for separate maintenance and won out, after a protracted hearing, complained that her husband was three months in arrears in the matter of paying her $50 per month awarded by the court when the case came to trial a few weeks ago, the alimony dating from April.

In court today Mr. French siad that he had not been able to raise the money. When asked how much money he was drawing from a bill posting company with which he is connected, defendant stated the sum to be $25. Mrs. French's attorney was ready to prove that the amount was at least $10 more per week more per week.

Mr. French was informed by Judge Armstrong that he was guilty of contempt of court, and that unless the arrears were satisfied, by the day and hour indicated above, he would be placed in the county jail until such time as payment should be made.

HAYES THREATENS WIFE.

She Promptly Interviews the County Attorney and a Warrant Issues.

A complaint was issued from the county attorney's office today, charging Hyrum Hayes with the crime of threatening to murder. The complainant was Harriet Hayes, wife of the accused, and the offense is alleged to have been committed yesterday.

Hayes lives in North Salt Lake, and is a teamster in the employ of Fine.

Hayes lives in North Salt Lake, and is a twamster in the employ of King, the scavenger. Mrs. Hayes complains that her husband frequently comes home intoxicated, and at such times he abuses his family, to the extent of cursing his wife and children, threatening to kill them, and even goes to the extent of using physical violence.

The last misconduct of Hayes is alleged to have taken place last evening, and feeling that she could endure such treatment no longer, Mrs. Hayes proceeded this morning to the county attorney's office, and swore to a complaint.

BOY BURGLARS ARRAIGNED.

John Martin and Bert Woods, both minors, were arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the district court today, on charges of burglary in the second degree. By their attorney and guardian ad litem, W. W. Little, time was asked for in which pleas could be entered, and the date was set for Monday, Aug. 24, at 10 o'clock. The boys were accused of having entered the premises occupied by M. Levy. 258 south State, on the night of Aug. 6.

SHIPPERS CHARGE DISCRIMINATION

Traffic Association of California Presents Case Against Southern Pacific.

CLAIM LOADING TAX UNFAIR MORE MINING FIELD WORK

Complaint Made to Interstate Commerce Commission That 20 Cents The Ton is Added to Rates.

A charge of unfair discrimination against the Southern Pacific has been lodged with the interstate commercial ommission in San Francisco, by the 'alifornia State Traffic association, acording to advices from the California capital. The complaint was filed Tuesday by G. J. Bradley, manager of the association, who has been collecting evidence against the road for some nonths. The association charges that the Harriman line has been imposing loading and unloading charge of 20 ents a ton on certain articles, while not levying the extra tariff on other products. The commission is asked to declare the tax unfair, and to order its discontinuance. A second complaint is also being prepared in which it will be alleged that the company has not been conforming to its agreement in fruit shipments.

NETS BIG MONEY.

The loading charge is destined to become the center of as great a controversy as is now being waged over the switching fee. The loading tax, it is said, amounts in the aggregate to more than $300,000 a year in the city of San Francisco. The traffic association claims that this excess is not imposed on shipments in the east, but that the Southern Pacific has directed it particularly against the merchants of the Pacific coast. Under the rules of the railroad the charge of 20 cents a ton is levied in addition to the regular freight tairff. The company claims that the regular tariff covers merely the haul, and that it is justified in collecting for loading and unloading. When a merchant loads his cars on his own industrial track he is, of course, exempt from this charge, but whe he loads on the company's tracks or from the corporation's sheds he is subjected to the 20-cent fee. Shippers claim that they are denied the privilege of unloading or loading their own cars on the railroad's tracks and are thus forced to pay the fee in order to get their goods or to send them out.

CERTAIN ARTICLES EXEMPT. the Pacific coast. Under the rules of

This is a phase of the transportation business which affects nearly every shipper on the coast, and the outcome will be watched with deep interest.

NEGRO DOPE FIEND SOUGHT

John Wheeler Tries to Kill John Howell But Is Stopped by Friends and Escapes,

A fatal shooting affray was narrow ly averted between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning at "Candy Bill's" saloon at 33 Commercial street, when a "hop head" negro, John Wheeler, tried to shoot John Howell, also a colored man. The murderous designs of Wheeler were frustrated by John Taylor and Tommy Oakley, particularly the latter. It was, in effect, a battle of the three Johns.

the latter. It was, in effect, a battle of the three Johns.

At the time stated, a number of colored men were in "Candy Bill's, saloon and Taylor was playing the piano. Howell asked Taylor to play a particular piece of music of which he was very fond. The man started to play, when Wheeler, full of "dope," entered and proceeded to make himself generally obnoxious. He leaned his weight upon the shoulders of the plano player and when Howell quietly asked him to desist, Wheeler became enraged and poured forth a torrent of the vilest kind of abuse, at the same time unbuttoning his vest. He reached for a big revolver, but just as he drew it, Howell, who had been watching the fellow carefully, landed a blow on Wheeler's jaw, knocking him backward, Just as the blow was struck, Wheeler got the weapon out but before he could bring it to bear upon Howell Oakley and Taylor made a grab for the gun. Oakley got there first and held onto the weapon like grim death, The revolver was discharged twice, but the bullets buried themselves in the floor. The gun was wrested from the hands of the murderous negro, and he managed to make his escape from the place. The police know the fellow and are trying to locate and arrest him.

SEEN BY LARGE CROWD. to locate and arrest him

SEEN BY LARGE CROWD.

The affair was witnessed by quite a number of colored people, and they all stated this morning that the gunplay was entirely uncalled for. They say that Wheeler was mad from drink and "dope" and when he entered the place, was looking for trouble. He picked upon Howell apparently because the latter was perfectly quiet and did not care to become involved in any mix-up. When he started to pull the gun, Howell promptly landed a right hook on the fellow, but the blow was not of sufficient force to put the negro down and out. Had not Oakley got hold of the weapon. Howell, in all probability, would have been killed or badly wounded.

Those who were eye witnesses to the affair state positively that Wheeler was entirely to blame, and that he abused everybody in the place and particularly Howell, using vile language and threatening to clean out the place. SEEN BY LARGE CROWD.
